Entire Community Condemns the Action of Governor William A. Stone; Ex-Recorder A. M. Brown Tells of Dastardly Attempts Made at Bribery

VIALS OF WRATH POURED OUT UPON GOVERNOR'S HEAD

Popular Denunciation of the Removal of Maj. A. M. Brown Swept the City from End to End All Day.

HARSH COMMENT FROM ALL CLASSES

Machine Men Alone Kept Their Opinions to Themselves, but They Showed Significant Delight in Strictures on Executive.

GENERAL BELIEF THAT ELKIN SHOULD RESIGN

FROM one end of the city to the other Gov. William A. Stone was yesterday bitterly condemned for his odious deal with the former insurgent chief.

In this, his home, not a word of defense was uttered in his behalf. Even the men that shared in the deal to force Recorder A. M. Brown from office and robbed thousands of their rights were silent. They considered that they had been a party to a business transaction with the executive of the commonwealth, but that it was not stipulated that they should defend him. Secretly they rejoice in the odium being heaped upon him.

The day was given over to roasting the governor. People were so intent upon pouring out their indignation that they forgot or cared not that the city was without an executive head. The summary dismissal of Recorder Brown Thursday night by Stone leaves Pittsburgh without a helmsman until Monday, when J. O. Brown will be sworn into office.

The new recorder is not ready to take the people into his confidence concerning his new cabinet, but the people know where the men who assisted Maj. Brown in giving the city the best government it ever had stand. These men refuse to be parties to a corrupt bargain. They spurn the protection that Stone offers.

FIVE RESIGNATIONS HANDED IN.

These heads of departments have handed in their resignations, and have taken places in the ranks of the plain people enlisted for the war of extermination of Stone and his companions:

William B. Rodgers, city solicitor.

Edward M. Bigelow, director of the department of public works.

Andrew Fulton, director of the department of safety.

William W. Nisbet, director of the department of charities.

Dr. Frank J. Phillips, city physician.

There are others who will join this honor roll as soon as it will be possible for them to abandon their positions and not jeopardize the interests of the city. There is much comment that John P. McTighe, assistant superintendent of police, has not found time to write a resignation.

The battle for decency and better government will go on. The big stalwart army that has been enlisted in county and city in the last six months will not disband. On the contrary, many recruits joined yesterday.

There were some happenings incident to the removal of the recorder, but the great feature of the day was the continued denunciation of Gov. Stone. Men who have known him since the day he carried his carpetbag into town from his Tioga county home and declared that he would break into the game, had not even a word of pity for him, and some of these men have been his strongest supporters in the past. The minister, the banker, the professional man, the merchant, and the man of the factories all discussed Stone. Their utterances could not all be given in the 14 pages of this morning's issue of The Gazette. If they could all be collected and thoroughly searched not one word could be found in defense of the shameful action of the governor.

In Newell's cafe yesterday there was a cosmopolitan gathering. Stone was the topic, and the language melted the ice. Men of the Flinn machine, that benefit in this gubernatorial trafficking in the people's rights, were mute listeners. Smiles played on their faces when especially harsh things were said about the governor.

At Flinn headquarters big crowds gathered to rejoice over again becoming custodians of the "pie" counter. There was a wild scramble for jobs. Men were coming and going all the day, but none resented the attacks upon the governor. These men could not help but hear them as they passed along the street. Not one of them offered to give an interview.

The ousting of Maj. Brown, to the people at Flinn headquarters, was a cold commercial proposition. The bargain had been made with the instinct uppermost. There was no sentiment.

It was simply a case of one man handing the goods over the gubernatorial counter, and the other parties agreeing to the terms. There was no clause in the contract that bound the Flinnites to wipe the mud-stained name of Stone.

While most of the day was devoted to condemning Stone, many found time to discuss the position of his attorney general, John P. Elkin. Most men have a kindly feeling for Mr. Elkin, but a continuance of that feeling is conditional. Scores of his friends think that he should resign from the cabinet, repudiate Stone and the whole obnoxious deal.

Mr. Elkin is one of the leading candidates for the Republican nomination for governor. Until the consummation of the Stone-Flinn deal his chances of success were excellent. His friends now believe that, if he does not break loose from Stone, this questionable companionship will result in his defeat.

There were a number of Mr. Elkin's friends considering the advisability of wiring him to resign. They were a trifle afraid, however, that he might resent their advice. So far, the attorney general has refused to say what he intends to do.

In one of the prominent hotels of the city yesterday and a hostelry that has more than once sheltered Stone, a party of gentlemen were discussing the governor. One turned to the manager and inquired:

"What would you do if Gov. Stone were to apply here for lodgings?"

Back came the answer, and there was every evidence of indignation in the manager's voice:

"I would refuse to lodge him, because he is an objectionable character."

The manager's utterance was applauded and the owners of some of the hotels could write checks for a million.

Senator William Flinn is a wise man, even if he is given to wearing talkative vests. When he had closed the deal with Stone and knew that the goods were delivered, he decided that he had business in New York. He was there yesterday, and thus escaped the necessity of an attempt to defend the action of the governor. He did not care enough for the man who turned the city over to him to remain in Pittsburgh and speak a word in his defense.

The senator also escaped the place hunters. They swarmed about machine headquarters like flies. The lieutenants of the senator were left to wrestle with them, and by the time he returns they will have reports in each case and the work of the former insurgent chieftain will be made easier.

His Associates Say He Must Bear All the Responsibility for His Act.

POSTSCRIPT IS DEPLORED

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 22.—Governor Stone's change in the office of recorder of Pittsburgh it is stated will hardly affect his personal and political relations with Attorney General Elkin and other stalwart leaders. They say that Major Brown's removal is purely a personal matter with the governor, and that he alone must bear the responsibility for his action. While Mr. Elkin still declines to discuss the report that he will withdraw from Stone's cabinet, it can be stated positively that he has no such intention. He, however, continues to declare that he was not in sympathy with and did not approve Major Brown's dismissal and the appointment in his place of J. O. Brown. Mr. Elkin, however, says he sees no reason why this should be cause for him to resign and unless he dies he will remain in the governor's cabinet.

Mr. Elkin was seen by The Gazette correspondent today before he left for his home at Indiana and asked if he had anything to say relative to the rumor that he will resign. He replied that this was a subject which he could not discuss, and that he had nothing to add to his brief statement of last night that he was not in sympathy with and did not approve of Stone's action.

Mr. Elkin professes a high regard for Thomas S. Bigelow and other Pittsburgh stalwarts who stood by Major Brown, and, while he does not say so publicly, it is insisted that he sympathizes with them.

The governor was on Capitol Hill as usual today, but he denied himself to all visitors except those who had official business with him. He said he had nothing to add to his statement to the people of Pittsburgh," and that he did not expect to say anything or the subject in the future unless he thought it was necessary to do so.

Some of the governor's official associates deplore his action in giving currency to rumors of his own corruption in the postcript to his statement. They say that these rumors were not generally known and probably would never have been if he had not called attention to them.

The governor's confidantes say that Major Brown gave offense to the governor by removing Clarence Burleigh from the office of city attorney and appointing in his place William B. Rodgers, who is described by them as being Stone's personal and political enemy. The governor will not say what he thinks and no one is authorized to speak for him.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS AN ENGLISHMAN'S DEATH

His Friends Not Sure He Really Is Dead, Although His Obituary Notice Was Printed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Mystery surrounds the death—if it really is death—of Sydney Hetherington Stuart, only son of the late Sir Ronald Arundel Stuart of the manor Dorchester, England. Sir Sydney Stewart, as he would be known in England, presumably died in New York. It is known he had been living here for several months, at least. It is also known that he became ill with typhoid fever about three weeks ago, but any further facts concerning his illness and death—if he is dead—have been so well concealed that investigation by several friends has been without result.

There was published on Tuesday a notice of his death, in which it was announced he had died last Sunday of typhoid fever at the age of 33 years. Californian and Australian papers were requested to copy the notice. This notice was published by a man who gave his name as Henry H. Hastes. No man by this name could be found at the address he gave, and there is no such name in the city directory. There is no record in the department of health of the death last Sunday, or at any other time this month, of a Sydney Hetherington Stuart, nor of any one whose name bears a resemblance to his.

Sir Sydney's friends are not only deeply mystified but are alarmed. They can ascribe no motive to explain why he should wish to deceive anyone. Neither can they suggest any reason why, if he actually is dead, there should be any effort to conceal any facts connected with the case. He had no relatives in this country, and on account of a reserved manner, had comparatively few intimate friends. With a fortune ample to supply his wants, and being a man who liked to see the world, he had spent most of his time traveling.

BIG GAS POOL TAPPED.

Fifty-Million Foot Well Brought in on Hobbs Farm, Near Tipton, Ind.

TIPTON, IND., Nov. 22.—A 50,000,000-foot gas well came in today on the Hobbs farm, four miles south of this city. The flow came in at 4 o'clock and when the tools were thrown out the drillers had to run for their lives.

The well is equal to if not larger than the celebrated Wallace well, which was discovered near Fostoria, O., seven years ago, at that time said to be the biggest gusher on record.

A RUNAWAY MONONGAHELA CAR COMPLETELY WRECKS A STORE

Ruins Nearly the Entire Stock, Then Sinks Through Floor--One Man Fatally, Another Seriously Hurt.

DAMP RAILS THOUGHT RESPONSIBLE

While coming down the steep grade in Jones avenue and Liberty street, Braddock, at 1 o'clock this morning, the brakes on car 1027 of the Braddock division of the Monongahela traction line refused to work. The result was a runaway in which Motorman J. F. Smith was perhaps fatally injured, Conductor W. L. Wilson painfully cut, the car almost completely wrecked and the shoe and men's furnishing stock of Charles Freidberg, 816 Braddock avenue, ruined.

The car was on its last trip. At Bell and Jones avenue, North Braddock, the passengers were all discharged and the car turned into Jones avenue. From that point the grade becomes very steep. Half way down the hill is the Pennsylvania railroad bridge. There Liberty street begins. A square and half below a turn is made into Braddock avenue, where Liberty street stops.

In passing under the bridge Smith lost control of his car. It started ahead with renewed speed and ran swiftly over a derailing switch at the junction below. The car crossed Braddock avenue at right angles.

Directly in its path was Freidberg's store. The car bit the door squarely, and plunged into the room, carrying the front of the building with it. Show windows, shelves and counters were splintered. Half way back the car sank through the floor, a wreck. About it were strewn shoes, shirts and neckware, little better than rags. The loss to the stock will be about $1,700, the damage to the car fully $3,500.

Smith was picked up in the street, 50 feet away. His left hand had been cut off, his skull was fractured, three ribs were broken and he was bleeding from a score of cuts. Wilson, who was carried into the store, was painfully cut in digging himself out of the wreck.

The rails under the railroad bridge are always damp, and this is thought to have caused the accident.

NO HAND TO GUIDE THE AFFAIRS OF THE CITY UNTIL MONDAY COMES

A. M. Brown Bids Farewell to His Office, Removal Having Taken Effect.

COUNCILS MEET MONDAY

Pittsburgh will be without a chief executive until Monday. J. O. Brown will then qualify at a joint session of councils. The call for the meeting was issued yesterday afternoon. The appointed recorder yesterday sent his bond to the governor for approval. Notice of approval will likely be received by the new recorder today. Major A. M. Brown went to the city hall yesterday morning about 9 o'clock and remained but a few minutes to gather up a few personal effects to turn the keys of the office over to the chief clerk, John J. Burke. Controller Joseph E. Lewis saw Major Brown and asked him to sign some pay warrants until his successor qualified. Major Brown refused, saying that he was no longer the recorder of Pittsburgh, as his removal by the governor was absolute and took effect the minute he was notified.

All unsigned warrants are, therefore, held up until Monday.

John Henry, formerly chief clerk in the recorder's office, was among the visitors at city hall yesterday. It was his first visit since his dismissal by Major Brown. Mr. Henry is an applicant for his old job, but is not certain of getting it. Elias Johns, nephew of J. O. Brown, is mentioned as likely to be appointed. Mr. Burke, the present chief clerk announced his intention of resigning as soon as the new recorder appears at the office Monday.

Mr. Burke was notified by J. O. Brown to hold all papers and communications until Monday. Letters containing the resignations of Director E. M. Bigelow, Solicitor W. B. Rodgers and Director W. W. Nisbett are in Mr. Burke's possession until the recorder takes charge.

Director Bigelow kept his word not to serve a minute under the administration. His was the first resignation to be sent to the recorder's office, and the resignation of Mr. Rodgers was received immediately afterward.

Director Andrew Fulton said yesterday that he would remain at his post until the new recorder went into office Monday and that he would then send in his resignation.

Major Brown received many callers at his fifth avenue law office yesterday morning. They came to express their sympathy and denounce the governor.

CITY SMOKE CAUSES A SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

Opera Manager Seeks Compensation for Injury of the Voice of a Leading Tenor Singer.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Because the throat and lungs of Ferdinando Avedano, leading tenor of the Southwell Opera Company, were so irritated and injured by St. Louis smoke that he was unable to sing his part in the opening performance of "La Gioconda," the city of St. Louis and Charles Jones, chief smoke inspector, are sued in a mandamus proceeding asking that they be compelled to abate the smoke nuisance forthwith. Charles M. Southwell and John C. Jannopoulo, owners of the opera company, directed Attorney Sheridan Webster to bring suit.

The petition avers that Signor Avedano was walking along Olive street about 5 o'clock on the afternoon of November 18, the day the opera was to open in Music hall, and "he became enveloped in a dense cloud of foul black smoke which had issued from the chimney or smoke-stack of the Imperial Electric Light, Heat and Power Company's building. The singer's throat and lungs were filled therewith, causing an irritated, inflamed and sore condition of his chest and vocal organs, so that he was unable to sing his part in the opera."

The smoke inspector is charged in the petition with negligence. Attorney Webster said:

"This is just a beginning. We expect hearty co-operation of all good citizens in this cause. Before we get through we hope to have the Merchants' exchange and many clubs and other prominent organizations working with us for the abatement of the smoke nuisance."

COLLECTING THE DEAD.

Victims of Disaster at Telluride, Col., Now Number Twenty-Five.

TELLURIDE, COL., Nov. 22.—The work of recovering the bodies of the victims of the disaster in the Smuggler-Union mine progressed slowly today. The last body brought to the surface today was that of John Nevala, found in one of the slopes of the seventh level. The death list now numbers 25, the brave engineer who sacrificed himself in an effort to rescue his comrades having died this afternoon.

The responsibility for the disaster has not yet been fixed and no one at Telluride is being blamed. The coroner has held an inquest over the bodies at the morgue and several of them have been sent to relatives in various parts of the state. The citizens today completed arrangements to bury the others with honors tomorrow. All places of business will close.

It is said the company will close its mine for about 30 days, during which time the workings, which were damaged to the extent of more than $50,000, will be repaired and will then reopen with a force of between 700 and 1,000 men.

A. M. BROWN TELLS INSIDE FACTS OF ADMINISTRATION

Offers of Election to Congress, Consular Service Appointment and Elevation to Superior Bench Rejected.

DECLARES THEY CAME AS BRIBES

DOUBLE DEALING OF EXECUTIVE LAID BARE

A seat in congress.
An appointment abroad in the United States consular service.
A place on the superior court bench of Pennsylvania.

These were the successive inducements offered by Gov. William A. Stone to Maj. Adam M. Brown to persuade him to resign the Pittsburgh recordership, and open the way for restoration to power of the Flinn machine. Maj. Brown construed all these offers as attempts to bribe him, and spurned them.

The result was his peremptory removal from office.

Maj. Brown yesterday related to a Gazette reporter the story of the various attempts to get him out of office. His statement shows that ever since the time of his appointment to the recordership the governor was conducting negotiations to turn the Pittsburgh government back into the hands of those from whom it had been wrested by the enactment of the new charter law.

Maj. Brown's story follows.

THE STORY TOLD BY MAJ. BROWN.

As nearly as I can remember I had four conferences with the governor relating to the recordership and appointments in the city government. All these conversations occurred prior to the removal of Joseph O. Brown and Clarence Burleigh.

After that the governor never wrote me a line about appointments or upon any subject bearing upon my duties as recorder.

I was appointed recorder on April 6. Soon after my appointment I went to Philadelphia to see the governor. He gave me what he said were his reasons for appointing me. He said that he tendered the office absolutely without condition; that he had chosen me because he thought my appointment would be generally acceptable to the people of Pittsburgh.

He referred to the report that J. O. Brown, Senator Flinn and Clarence Burleigh had claimed the credit for my appointment and preventing the appointment of T. S. Bigelow.

The governor brought this subject up himself and told me in the most positive manner that neither Burleigh, Brown nor Flinn had anything whatever to do with my appointment.

This conversation occurred in the presence of a friend of mine from Pittsburgh. The next time I saw the governor was shortly after I went into office. The governor was in Pittsburgh and I met him at the home of his son in the East End. I told the governor that I had decided to appoint Edward M. Bigelow director of the department of public works. The governor approved my decision, saying he thought it was wise, as Mr. Bigelow had a large following, and that he was not treated right when he was ousted from office.

I also told the governor that I thought of appointing J. O. Brown and Clarence Burleigh.

He asked me if I thought I could trust them.

I said I was doubtful whether I could trust them, but was willing to make a fair trial.

He warned me to be careful, and always to be on my guard against Brown and Burleigh for signs of treachery.

He suggested a method by which they could be watched, but I disapproved of the suggestion, and told the governor I thought I could watch them. I appointed them. Both Brown and Burleigh professed great friendship for me and promised to do everything to promote the success of my administration.

They both said they were in favor of reform, were Quay men, and would throw Flinn overboard. They said they were tired of Flinn.

They said Flinn would resign the chairmanship of the city committee and if he did not they had enough votes in the committee to beat him. J. O. Brown said he had great influence with councils, and could make them subordinate to the policy of the administration.

Whenever a meeting of councils was held, however, Director Brown was always away, either out of the city or hid. He would appear afterward with profuse apologies for his absence, lamenting that he had not been present, and declaring that he did not know certain measures were to come up.

In a variety of ways I soon discovered that both Brown and Burleigh were deliberately trying to deceive me and injure my administration. I stood it as long as I could and made a trip to Harrisburg to see Gov. Stone. I talked the matter over with him and told him that Brown and Burleigh could not be trusted and that their retention was distasteful to the decent people of Pittsburgh. I told the governor that I had decided to remove them. This was in July.

The governor urged me to delay the removals until after the State convention, arguing that if Brown and Burleigh were removed then the "organization" would turn in and defeat the nomination of Justice Potter.

I sympathized with the governor and assented to postponing action until after August 20. I came back home. I had to carry this burden myself, for another month for I could not disclose what had taken place between the governor and myself.

The time for the convention arrived and the night before the convention I had my third conversation with the governor in the executive mansion at Harrisburg. I told the governor that I could carry the burden no longer, and that I would not delay the removal of Brown and Burleigh beyond the state convention. The governor wanted to have a conference with Brown and Flinn in the executive mansion that night to patch matters up, but I flatly refused to meet them.

It was at this time that the governor proposed a nomination for congress or a consular appointment.

The governor said it would be a nice thing for me to go to Europe for a while or to spend a term in congress, saying that he had found little work and a great deal of pleasure in the life of a congressman.

I told him I did not want to go to congress, and did not care to accept a government position abroad.

He insisted with so much earnestness that I should consider his suggestions that I finally said I would think about it in order to get rid of the subject. It never entered my mind again.

At this conference I realized that the governor had been won over by J. O. Brown and Flinn, and that he was desperately anxious to keep them in power.

The next day was the state convention.

ATTORNEY JOHN L. SEMPLE'S GUILT ARGUED BY OPPOSING COUNSEL.

Attorney John L. Semple.

Is Charged With Aiding and Abetting in the Manufacture of Counterfeit $20 Notes.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—Arguments of opposing counsel took up the entire day in the United States district court, where John L. Semple, the lawyer of Camden, N. J., has been on trial since last Monday, charged with aiding and abetting Arthur Taylor and Baldwin S. Bredell, convicted counterfeiters, in the manufacture of counterfeit $20 notes while the latter were in prison awaiting sentence. The case will be given to the jury tomorrow after Judge McPherson has delivered his charge.

DR. DAVID H. GREER ELECTED BISHOP OF A NEW DIOCESE.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The Rev. Dr. David H. Greer of St. Bartholomew's church, New York, was today unanimously elected by the Protestant Episcopal convention first bishop of the new diocese of Western Massachusetts. The diocese is composed of Worcester, Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin counties, and Berkshire county with the exception of Stockbridge. The Rev. Dr. John Cotton Brooks placed Dr. Greer's name before the convention. He complimented Bishop Lawrence on the manner in which he had directed the affairs of the old diocese, which covered the entire state.

Bishop David H. Greer.

After the convention I left Harrisburg and went to New York. There I met my son. I went up north for a few days and came back to Pittsburgh. When I arrived home I found a letter from the governor awaiting me. It was very poorly written, but was evidently written with a great deal of earnestness.

While he did not say that I should not do it, he urged me very strongly not to remove Brown and Burleigh. I sat right down after reading the letter and wrote out orders removing both of them. I wrote a letter informing the governor of what I had done. He sent me a very formal acknowledgment of my letter, but never wrote me a scrap after that, or ever again discussed local matters with me.

I next met him at the reception at the Duquesne hotel on the night of the opening of the campaign, when we both spoke at Old City hall. He appeared very friendly, but not once mentioned city affairs or one word of complaint against anything I had done.

Last Sunday a prominent citizen, whom I know well, called upon me and said he had something very important to tell me. He first requested that I should not reveal his name to any person. I agreed, and have kept my word. He then told me that he had not been sent directly by the governor, but by two other men that were authorized to speak for the governor.

He told me that the governor would appoint me to the superior court bench to succeed Judge Mitchell if I would assure him I would take the appointment.

I told him that I could not consider the offer, and would have to refuse it. He asked me to think the matter over and let him know the next day. The next day I sent him a note reiterating what I had already said. He again urged me to agree to accept the judgeship, and I again declined. The next day he called to see me and insisted with more earnestness than ever that I should accept. He argued that I should not refuse a better place than I had. He said it would be a good idea for me to round out my career as a lawyer by a place on the bench, and argued that I should not object if the governor wished to honor me by a promotion to a higher position.

I replied that ordinarily I would not have cause to object to a higher appointment, but under the circumstances I could not conscientiously accept such an offer.

I said I regarded the offer as an attempt to bribe me to go back on my friends and supporters and vacate the recordership so that the city government could be turned over to the Flinn machine. While I was not told that I would be removed if I refused I was given plainly to understand that there would be trouble unless I accepted. I did not accept, and my removal followed immediately.

What effect do I think the governor's action will have on local and state politics? It will result in great harm to the Republican party.

I must certainly believe that Senator Quay kept faith with me. The last time he was in the city he called upon me and assured me that I could command his help, not only then, but at any time. He told me he wanted me to serve out my term, and said I would not be interfered with.

I believe Senator Quay has been and is my friend, and I believe him when he says he repudiates any responsibility for the action of the governor.

QUAY'S DEEP DISGUST.

He Has Nothing to Add to His First Statement.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Senator M. S. Quay today declined to talk on the removal of Recorder A. M. Brown by Gov. Stone. He said he had nothing to add to his statement published in this morning's Gazette, except that he stood by it.

Senator Quay expressed in his manner, however, the deepest disgust for Gov. Stone's act.

STONE DENOUNCED IN THREE CITIES

Nothing but Words of Condemnation of the Governor Heard in Allegheny, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

HE IS SEVERELY CRITICIZED BY ALL CLASSES

Executive of State Referred to as "The Benedict Arnold" of Pennsylvania, and His High-Handed Action Is Generally Termed Disgraceful.

BUT ONE OPINION EXPRESSED IN THE QUAKER CITY

BY CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 22.—But one opinion is expressed by stalwart Republicans on the removal from office by Gov. Stone of Recorder Adam M. Brown of Pittsburgh. It is that Stone has sacrificed his friends, his influence in the Republican organization, his honor, all to further a personal ambition which will never be realized. Even those who speak kindly of him, or rather those who speak in pity, unite in declaring that he has forever forfeited all claims for future recognition at the hands of the Republican party of the state. He is thoroughly discredited.

Those not burdened with affiliations, political or personal, which temper their remarks, are making declarations which reflect too seriously upon the governor to be given space here. In a word, Stone has opened the door for such comment by his sensational postscript to his address to the people of Pittsburgh. There are those who believe that having added the postscript, he should have used all of the "material" available, either lengthening his confession or arranging to have it published in serial form. Seriously, however, Stone's adaptation of the Wanamaker idea of presenting an alibi by anticipation has dumbfounded those who have in the past credited him with more or less political sagacity. These are now of the opinion that charges are unnecessary, the governor having kindly undertaken the responsibility of accusing and defending himself. The case has gone to the jury already.

Considered Bad Politics.

In the absence of Insurance Commissioner Durham and Senator Penrose, local leaders hesitate about expressing themselves. Mayor Ashbridge, while privately admitting that Stone has made a terrible blunder, defers further expression until he has had time to consult Mr. Durham. The commissioner is expected home from Florida tomorrow. Senator Penrose will also be here then. One of the most significant expressions I have heard was that of State Senator John M. Scott, president pro tem. of the senate, and one of Durham's closest friends:

"It was bad politics, the most foolish thing the governor could have done," said Senator Scott to the writer. "If Flinn is no more successful in his efforts to place Stone in the United States senate than he was to keep Quay out, the governor has made a bad bargain."

Representative Charles Voorhees—I do not think; I do not know what to think. It looks to me as though Flinn had the governor tied up so that he did not dare to do anything else.

"It is the worst thing that has befallen the party in my recollection," said T. E. Murphy of Johnstown. "It will be an awful blow, a terrible disappointment to the regulars, those who have fought Flinn for the past six years. It's a pity that the fruits of victory should be denied those who had whipped the insurgents to a standstill. Treason is a mild word with which to describe the deal."

Put One Opinion Expressed.

This is the sentiment of every tongue. I have not heard one man, Republican, Democrat or insurgent, speak in extenuation of Stone's act. He stands absolutely alone. Quay, Penrose, Durham, Reeder, Eyre—every leader in the state organization has cut loose from him and his unholy alliance. As one of the leaders said today:

"Stone has followed the precedents established by Hoyt and Hastings. After receiving the highest honors he has turned his back to his friends and pooled issues with the foes of the party which elected him chief magistrate of the state."

Representative Edwards of Bucks county, an insurgent of the past two legislative sessions, was here today. He was glad, he said, for Flinn's sake. Flinn, Mackrell, and Sweeney had been good friends of his, and he was pleased that the governor had placed them at the head of the procession. Quay, he said, had told a congressman that Flinn could not be downed, and that Stone was doing the right thing by coupling with him. Edwards is a rare political sharp. He kept both sides guessing on the senatorial contest.

Stone's Opinion of Flinn.

"Why, Stone said when here last week," he continued, "you can't keep Flinn down. The opposition has made no headway at all. If it gets hold of a good man Flinn eats him up, takes him into camp, puts him on his pay roll and keeps him. Truly, that man Flinn is a wonder."

Gov. Stone's decision to cut loose from Senator Quay and the other stalwart Republican leaders is not a resolve of recent formation. It was clinched the day Quay was re-elected to the United States senate, and his course since has been shaped to that end. When Quay was elected, and frequently since, the governor has grandiloquently declared:

"Quay, why should I consult Quay? He has been vindicated, re-elected to office. What more does he expect? I don't care what Quay wants. Younger men are going to run the politics of Pennsylvania from now on, and I, with Durham and Elkin, expect to have a part in shaping affairs."

Gov. Stone made declarations of this character more than once, and he made them in the presence of your correspondent.

The Muehlbronner charter bill when it first reached Stone pleased him. "Rodgers has framed a splendid bill," he said to me. Then he saw what looked like an opportunity. He trimmed the bill to suit his new thought and it passed. After argument he gave it his approval. But it contained none of the original reform features.

He Was Not for Reform.

Reform was not the basis of his opportunity. It hung on a deal with Flinn. The governor did not close this compact hastily. He was too wise for haste. Not until after he had been visited several times by M. K. McMullin was an agreement reached. The agreement was not made public, but it is said that Stone was told he could name for recorder any man he desired, except Thomas or E. M. Bigelow, and the party of the second part, represented by Mr. McMullin, would be satisfied. This was easy. Stone turned down Quay and the Bigelows and named Maj. Brown, a man thoroughly acceptable to the people of Pittsburgh. He did not, however, wear well with the governor. So his excellency went down to Atlantic City to brace for the ordeal of removing the major. Flinn and McMullin joined him there. Then the governor declared the recorder must go, but Quay, Elkin and Durham intervened. The state ticket on which was Justice Potter, Stone's former law partner, hung in the balance. There were many conferences, and finally Stone induced Flinn and McMullin to agree to the retention of the recorder in office until after election.

The greatest indignation was expressed yesterday among all classes of Pittsburgh citizens at the removal of Recorder Brown. On every hand Governor Stone's action was bitterly denounced. This denunciation was not confined to Major Brown's friends, either personal or political, but was freely expressed by business and professional men, and in fact, citizens in all walks of life. He was frequently referred to as "Judas."

The Rev. Dr. W. J. Reid, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, of which Major Brown is a member, and who has for many years been an intimate friend of the former recorder's, feels the change very keenly. When asked last night what he thought of the removal of Major Brown, his first remark was:

"Well, it doesn't make me think any less of Major Brown.

"I am really too indignant yet to speak calmly on the matter," he continued. "Major Brown is a friend of mine, and, while I advised him not to accept the appointment in the first place, on account of his age and other such reasons, I do not like to see a man summarily put out of office without cause.

"Major Brown had earned the respect of the better class of people during his term of office, and had given the city the beginning of a good administration.

"Governor Stone may have gained some friends by this act, but he has lost a great many more. Of course, it was a political move, but I am sure it has hurt him greatly in the western part of the state, and I should think in other parts as well. If some good, reliable man should oppose his political ambitions I am sure he could get a great following.

"Governor Stone's explanations of cause are entirely inadequate. Judging by what I have read today, it seems to be a question of veracity between the governor and Major Brown, and every person who knows Major Brown will accept his word without hesitation."

Citizens Are Disgusted.

Francis J. Torrance said last night, when asked by a representative of the Gazette for an expression of his opinion of Major Brown's removal:

"I am afraid what I would say on that subject would not look well in a respectable family newspaper, and a Republican paper, too. I had heard that it was to take place, but I could not believe it. I did not think the governor would do such a thing. Now I guess you had better let it go at that."

Dr. John P. Sterrett, a member of the common councils, said: "The people of the East End are almost too dumfounded to talk. The affair is too disgraceful to mention."

J. B. Youngson, president of the East End board of trade, who has always been a staunch stalwart Republican, in discussing the situation, said: "Pittsburgh is the laughing stock of the world. The name of Stone is almost too vile to mention in any form. When he appointed Recorder A. M. Brown some months ago he gave him instructions to pursue the very course he did. The governor's act is worse than political suicide; it is anarchistic. Major Brown was just getting the city government in shape, and it was the hope of the citizens of Pittsburgh that we would have a good government for at least a year or two to come. Now everything is undone by the stroke of a pen. There is one thing certain, and that is that Recorder A. M. Brown can go out of office feeling he has done his whole duty and has the respect and sympathy of a public-spirited community."

Indignation Meetings in Order.

Thomas B. Moreland, Sr., one of the best-known business men of the East End, and one of the warm supporters of the ripper bill, said: "It is simply a case of undoing what was done for the benefit and relief of oppressed residents of Pittsburgh. Indignation meetings should be held in every ward. I have lived over 51 years in Pittsburgh and never saw such a condition of affairs as exists today. It is certainly ridiculous besides being disgraceful. The start of the whole trouble was the ousting of Director of Public Works E. M. Bigelow by the Flinn machine. The end may not be yet, as it is a mighty long road that has no turn. Stone is about as good as an anarchist. He is not a solid stone by any manner of means. The people of Pittsburgh generally have nothing but hatred for him, and he is deserving of all the censure that can be given. Stone may be dead politically, but he is not dead financially."

Philip J. Brinkman of the commission firm of Brinkman, Wood & Beck, said: "Stone should change his name to brick, and put gold in front of it. A streamer labeled Pittsburgh would not be a bad idea for his hat. The governor's initials, W. A. S., spell "was," which is far worse than has been."

Stone Called Benedict Arnold.

—Typical expression from many well known men follow:

Attorney C. S. Crawford, common councilman, Twentieth ward:

"I'm a stalwart Republican. Stone is Pennsylvania's Benedict Arnold. I have a picture of the traitor in my pocket. I am without political ambition. This morning, here in the register's office, I heard Flinn's own friends condemn the act of this arch-traitor. Stone's name will go down in history as Pennsylvania's Benedict Arnold."

Common Councilman R. H. Douglas of the Twenty-first ward:

"The removal of Maj. Brown was a disgrace. It simply means that Gov. Stone has turned Pittsburgh over to Flinn. It will give Contractor Flinn control of the big $2,000,000 filtration contract. It will give him the power to have his own appointees let the contract and control it. All the other city work will be in his hands as before."

George W. Guthrie:

"The governor's action amounts to a crime. Such abuse of an office of trust and a delegated power must amaze the people."

Mr. McFarland, a prominent East End merchant and member of the board of trade: "It is too rotten to talk about."

D. D. Bruce, the well known reformer: "I cannot help uttering a few words of condemnation of the governor. However, let the people seek the remedy at the polls."

Otto Heeren, a prominent member of the Municipal league: "An act of this kind ought to disgust any decent citizen. Those who have good government at heart are in decided opposition to Gov. Stone's action. He is a politician of small caliber."

George K. Stevenson: "I was well satisfied with Maj. A. M. Brown, and think it a great misfortune that matters have assumed the shape they have. I have not recently taken an active part in politics, but do not view the prospect favorably."

Harry F. Davis, a leader in the Union party: "I am not in sympathy with the removal of Maj. A. M. Brown. Gov. Stone admits a political deal in the appointment of Mr. J. O. Brown."

"Either a Rascal or an Imbecile."

John J. King, ex-select councilman from the Fourth ward: "The action of Gov. Stone is either rascally or imbecile. I do not know which. The people of Pittsburgh resent it."

Maj. J. W. Nesbit, pension agent: "I think Gov. Stone has made a very grave mistake. With regard to his letter to the effect that too many old soldiers had been removed from office, I do not agree with him. There was no reasonable excuse for removing Maj. Brown."

Collector of the Port M. M. Garland: "It seems to me, though," he said, "that Gov. Stone has acted very inconsistently in the whole matter."

Attorney John Marron: "What I think of this matter you would not dare to print."

Thomas B. Alcorn, Democratic county chairman: "It is outrageous. It is disgraceful. If the people of this city and state tolerate such jobbery they simply acknowledge that they have given up their independence."

President T. J. Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association: "Gov. Stone has sounded his own political death knell in removing Recorder A. M. Brown. He was his own appointee, and had the confidence of the people that he would have reformed the city government."

Secretary John Williams: "Gov. Stone has shown little regard for the opinion of the people of Pittsburgh, and has demonstrated very forcibly that machine political methods are still powerful in state politics."

Assistant Secretary M. F. Tighe: "Gov. Stone is a political acrobat. His methods cannot be measured by any standard. His letter to the people of Pittsburgh explaining his reasons for the removal of Recorder A. M. Brown had better have been left unwritten."

Barnett Refuses to Talk.

State Treasurer Barnett spent last night in the city, but insisted that his stop here was unintentional and that no political significance ought to be attached to it.

"What will you say about the removal of Recorder Brown by Gov. Stone," was asked.

"I have nothing to say about that," said Mr. Barnett, "for I don't know anything. None of us know anything about it except the governor."

Mr. Barnett was interested in hearing what indignation the governor's action has aroused in Pittsburgh. "I have not seen the Pittsburgh papers," he said, "and did not know very much about it, but I suppose the people of Pittsburgh are excited."

Harry S. Paul, chairman of the Union party in Western Pennsylvania:

"I would like to know the governor's idea of principle—just what he calls principle. It is probably remembered that during the last campaign the governor in one of his speeches declared that there was 'no principle in the Union party or its projectors.' What sort of principle is it that causes a man to turn on the people who have befriended and helped him, as the governor has done? What more outrageous thing could any man have done?"

Denunciation Is General.

Secretary Geo. H. Anderson of the Chamber of Commerce: "Major Brown's removal is to be deeply regretted."

F. W. McKee, a member of the Chamber of Commerce committee on municipal legislation: "The removal of Recorder Brown is a great outrage. Governor Stone has committed political suicide."

J. N. Willock, president of the Second National bank: "Major Brown's administration is approved by the public at large. I cannot understand the governor's action."

At the regular meeting of the new Iron City Central Council of the American Federation of Labor last night an effort was made to introduce resolutions condemning the action of Governor Stone in removing Major A. M. Brown from the recordership of Pittsburgh, but this was overruled by Chairman Winslow, under a constitutional provision that anything in any way political cannot be dealt with by the council.

Individual members were emphatic in expressing their personal opinion of disapproval at Governor Stone's move after the meeting. George R. Dabney of the printers, and others, said that it is an unfortunate thing for Pittsburgh that Mayor Brown has been removed.

The meeting dealt with routine matters, among other things deciding to seat organizers of the American Federation of Labor as delegates.

CONCERT HIGHLY ENJOYED.

Warm Applause Greeted Both the Pittsburgh Orchestra and the Soloist, Miss Jessie Shay.

The program given by the Pittsburgh orchestra last night was a pleasing one from the standpoint of the majority, who voiced their satisfaction in prolonged and emphatic applause after each number. Haydn's Sunrise Symphony was the leading number, and its light, rythmic character, requiring neither strict musicianship nor profound erudition to understand, caught attention at once. It was remarkably well played, barring occasional tone departures on the part of wood, wind and brass.

Bizet's "L'Arlesienne" suite, the second orchestral number, was brilliantly performed, as the character of the music demanded. One movement consists of a flute solo, and was played very daintily by Mr. Henneburg. Grieg's "Huldigungsmarsch," from Sigurd Jorsalfar, that closed the program, was the most interesting number of the evening, and is by all odds the most dignified selection Mr. Herbert has yet given for a wind-up.

Miss Jessie Shay, a youthful and most charming young woman, was the soloist. Her first solo, a Moszkowski concerto, was given for the first time here, and is particularly her own in this country. She played with a spirit and sympathy that showed her complete grasp of the composer's intentions, and her technique, dazzling in its brilliancy, brought forth every charm contained in the music. She is a brilliant performer, whose technique promises rarely good things for her later years, since already it surpasses that of many widely known musicians twice her age.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not do without it. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the field." MISS ADA DOTY, Sidney, Iowa.

BROWN SITS IN SOLEMN STATE

His Faithful Followers Greet Him in the Sixth Avenue Throne Room.

THE NEW RECORDER IS SILENT

Refuses to Discuss Plans—Leslie to Become Public Safety Director, Burleigh City Solicitor, Ostermaier Delinquent Tax Collector.

Recorder J. O. Brown occupied the rear chamber of the throne room at Flinn headquarters yesterday afternoon. One by one the loyal Flinnites filed in, congratulated him, gazed on his costly commission and begged for "pie." Some of them were within the last week seen at stalwart headquarters.

The recorder was proud of his commission. He is not a talkative man, however. He declines for the present to tell the public what he intends to do when he takes up the reins of government. He intimates that when the oath of office has been administered to him he will outline the policy of his administration.

The recorder says that he intends to devote all of his time to giving the city the best administration possible. As to his cabinet he has nothing to say.

It is settled that A. H. Leslie is to be director of the department of public safety, Clarence Burleigh will be city solicitor and Robert Ostermaier delinquent tax collector. As for the other appointments there is doubt.

It has not been fully determined whether George W. Wilson will be reinstated as director of the department of public works and John M. Anderson as the head of the department of charities.

While many of the men who were ripped out of office by Recorder A. M. Brown will be reinstated, it is said that Brown will not. From intimations at Flinn headquarters it is the intention to use the ax to a far greater extent than was done by Maj. Brown. The strongest possible machine is to be builded. Even men who have been loyal to the old organization, but have become incapacitated for political work, are to be ripped.

Mr. Brown says that in case of any public emergency arising between now and Monday afternoon, John S. Lambie, president of select council, would be authorized to act as recorder. He holds that the men that have resigned as heads of departments are responsible for the actions of their departments until after their resignations have been formally accepted.

Mr. Brown also made the important announcement that he would not resign the chairmanship of the Republican city committee. This means that he intends to retain control of the organization so that it can be used in case he stands as a candidate for an elective term as recorder.

Roger O'Mara said yesterday that he would not ask for the superintendency of the bureau of detectives.

"If Recorder Brown sees fit to appoint me I will accept," said he. "I will be satisfied with whatever the recorder is content to do in the matter. I can take the position without losing my right to retire upon a pension."

Thomas S. Bigelow would have stayed at his office far into the night had he attempted to have seen everybody that called. They came in droves and dozens of others went to stalwart headquarters, hoping to find him there. Mr. Bigelow declined to discuss the removal of the recorder.

There will be a general conference of leaders at stalwart headquarters this morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Bigelow says that he will be present.

Fine Winter Millinery.

In that cozy French room of the Millinery department, there are some new French Hats, recent arrivals that tell of horse show triumphs. Exquisite specimens of French art, revealing ingenious adaptation of varied trimmings.

While their beauty is superb and regal, the open sesame to ownership is really considerate prices.

For the Winter Fashion Parade next Thursday they are timely.

But that is general news. Here is some specific news of today—probably more generally interesting than the foregoing:

Three tables of specially trimmed Hats, and each table has its own price—$3.50, $5, $7. Does this announcement require elaboration or explanation? We believe not. See the tables with their contents and you will be agreeably surprised at the refinement in taste displayed for such a small sum.

Another line of Hats we would like to have you see is the line of Fur Hats—genuine mink fur trimmed with velvet, wings, roses and some with animal heads. Elegance is expressed in each and all. $18, $20, $22.

But see what $1 will do: Walking Hats of scratched and plain felt, some with plain cord bands, some with silk and velvet scarfs. Just such hats as the novelist would put on the heroine's head and call bewitching.

And don't forget the Hats and Caps for boys and girls. Toboggans for the very young people, 75c; boys' Golf Caps with comfortable ear flaps, 75c and $1; boys' and girls' cloth tams, 75c, $1 and on to $3.50.

Some New Neckwear for Women

today. A reflex of the new things worn at the New York Horse Show is to be seen in many of the pieces, with the prices very much less.

Full, fluffy Boas, with Muffs to match—the proper kind to give the finishing touch to your costume—of Liberty Silk, $2 to $25; Chiffon Boas, $4.50 to $28; Muffs, $12.

Ostrich Feather Boas, $10 to $75.

Liberty Silk Scarfs—plain—$1.50 to $2; Persian colors, $3.75 to $9.

Crepe Scarfs, $4.25 to $9.

A Tulle Stock and Bow was almost universally worn at the Horse Show. We have them. 50c.

A handsome collection of Jabots and Bows arrived yesterday. Ready this morning. $1.50 to $6.

Men's Bath Robes.

Terry Robes from London and Paris—no higher in price than those made in this country. Pretty patterns in light and dark colors.

A special lot of English Bath Robes, $5 each. Better qualities at gradually increasing prices from $6 to $18, which includes handsome silk striped robes.

Maybe you would prefer a bath robe made of mercerized cotton oxford. Have them for $15. They are lined with a fine quality of white terry. The oxford in assorted colors, of course—blue, pink, white, etc.

Bath Robes of Elderdown Flannel are not so expensive. Soft, warm, comfortable. Fine line of colors. Prices from $3.50 to $8.

Flannel Bath Robes—can also be used for Lounging Gowns—made of imported flannel. Very handsome. Don't think our patterns can be found in other stores—therefore you buy a style that is not common. Only finest quality flannel. $20.

Silk Lounging Robes—a special lot we had made in London, from finest quality India Silk. Handsome all-over designs. Lined with extra quality surah silk. Exclusive and swell, $35.

Men's Bath Slippers—

Try a pair of slippers that you can get your feet into without stooping or sitting. Shoot your feet right into them without any effort. Of terry, 75c and $1; all wool, $1.25 and $1.50.

Is it necessary to remind you that these goods are sold in the Men's Furnishing department, street floor of the new annex? Hardly. You are pretty well acquainted with the department by this time—and like it.

Women's Fine Underwear

on which the prices will be found to be very moderate for the high quality of the goods.

Hand-knit Shetland Spencers—white, gray, black. The white Spencers are especially nice to wear with evening waists, while the colored ones are usually worn with tailor-made gowns. They are very light weight, but very warm.

A very full line of fine imported hand-knit Corset Covers of cotton, wool and silk mixed.

Our showing of fine Fancy Vests includes silk, lisle thread and cotton. The trimmings are elegant without going to exaggerated extremes, and consist of laces and embroideries.

As something very special in extra fine underwear, we quote Vega Silk Vests in white, pink and blue, $1. Tights to match, $1.50.

In Toyland.

Fair and bright are the weather predictions for today in Toyland—no matter what conditions prevail on the other planets. Never a cloud so much as darkens the horizon of Toyland.

The hospitable inhabitants of this delectable sixth floor country will welcome the children this Saturday with a warmth that will send them home with visions of delight.

Don't for a moment think of hindering the children from coming. That dancing bear and the acrobatic elephant and the other animals would not think of showing off their accomplishments if they did not have a large audience.

Although the French and German Dolls have been introduced to thousands of little people the past few weeks, they never weary of new introductions.

NOTE—Parents will find the annex elevators much more convenient than those running from the main floor.

Mass Meeting Called to Consider Allegheny Moral Conditions.

AN URGENT CALL HAS BEEN ISSUED

Clergymen and Laymen Will Gather Monday Afternoon in Chapel of Allegheny Theological Seminary to Take Appropriate Action

Allegheny ministers have taken a decided interest in the vice exposures of The Gazette. Next Monday afternoon they will take decisive steps toward cleansing the city of the vice and crime so rampant in several wards. The following notice will be sent to several hundred prominent ministers and laymen this morning:

Allegheny, Nov. 24, 1901.

Dear Sir—You have noted probably the disclosures made by The Pittsburgh Gazette concerning the evils that prevail in certain wards in Allegheny. There is evidence that gambling dens, speakeasies and other disorderly resorts abound in these localities, continuing business seven days in the week, and that our police officials have refused to proceed with the enforcement of law. Under these circumstances we think it imperative that the Christian sentiment of the city should find expression. A meeting of ministers and prominent laymen will be held on Monday next, Nov. 25, at 4 p. m. sharp in the chapel of the Allegheny Theological seminary, North avenue and Buena Vista street, to determine on measures to stamp out the vice and crime that disgrace the fair name of our city. Please make it a point to attend. Your help is needed.

Yours sincerely,

| W. J. Lhamon, | E. L. Eaton, |
| S. Ed. Young, | D. A. McClenahan, |
| W. H. McMillan, | David McAllister, |
| A. J. Turkle, | John McNaugher. |

This notice will be posted this morning and before evening will be in the homes of some 100 ministers and 400 prominent laymen of Allegheny. The ministers that have signed the call for an indignation meeting are too well known for anything to be said of them. They represent various denominations and districts of the city and are heartily in sympathy with the idea that some drastic measures must be taken to stamp out the vice in certain wards of Allegheny.

The Rev. Dr. John McNaugher, who occupies one of the chairs in the Allegheny Theological seminary, is at the head of the movement. When he approached the other ministers as to their signatures to call for a meeting, every one was pleased to lend his aid in such a cause. Many other ministers of the North Side are interested in the meeting and it is expected that nearly all of the 100 clergymen who live or have charges in Allegheny will be present.

About 400 representative laymen from all denominations will be invited to attend. The laymen to be asked are those whose names are already well known as being interested in any work such as is now being taken up. The meeting is set for 4 o'clock in the hope that many more will be able to come from their places of business than if the meeting were held earlier in the day.

A Thorough Discussion.

The purpose of this meeting will be to discuss thoroughly the state of affairs as shown by the articles printed in The Gazette.

Evidence that the Gazette has in its possession will be read and representatives of The Gazette who conducted the investigation in Allegheny will be prepared to answer any questions.

It is probable that after those in attendance at the meeting are thoroughly enlightened on the state of affairs, especially in the First and Fourth wards, a committee will be appointed to call on the city officials and request them to take stringent steps to cleanse the vice-infected quarters. Appropriate resolutions will also be presented.

It is the intention of the clergymen that have interested themselves in this exposure to probe the matter thoroughly.

The committee appointed next Monday will call on the city officials, learn their attitude toward stamping out the vice, and then report at a later meeting. In the event of favorable hearing by the city officials, a reasonable length of time will be given them to enforce the law and drive the gamblers and speakeasy proprietors out of the city.

Revival of Law and Order Society.

Just what course will be pursued if the city officials continue in the attitude they have maintained so far regarding the exposures printed has not been decided upon, but a revival of the law and order society is probable. Now that that crusade against vice has gained so strong a foothold it is proposed that favorable and lasting results will be obtained from it.

"Allegheny is in the worst state possible," declared a former North Side police official yesterday afternoon. "The town is wide open from the river to Reserve township, and it apparently cannot be closed down. The Allegheny police are responsible for this.

"Efforts have been made time and time again to get these places closed, but they all have proved of no avail. I personally have worked and spent money for the purification of Allegheny. Did I succeed? No! When the bills were brought up in court with the proper evidence to convict they were all ignored by the grand juries. I am glad to see the people arising to take a hand in this matter, and only hope that the proprietors of these dens of vice may be brought to justice. It is certainly high time the people were looking into the matter for their own interests."

Complained to Muth.

Failing to gain any relief from an appeal to a police captain in Allegheny concerning a certain disorderly house in West Robinson street, a Fourth ward saloonkeeper wrote a letter to Superintendent of Police Henry Muth a week ago asking that the place be kept more quiet and orderly.

No reply was received, but the policeman on the beat was given specific instructions to notify the proprietor that no music from the piano would be tolerated after 12 o'clock, and the order has since been carried out to the letter.

Orders were issued yesterday to the proprietors of various dens in the river wards of Allegheny to be very careful of the persons they admitted to their resorts. They were also advised they had better close until after the ward constables had made their reports to the court the first Monday in December. This order will not be disregarded. There were fewer gambling houses and speakeasies open in Allegheny yesterday afternoon and last night than for many months, and it was only after hard work that even old "rounders" succeeded in gaining admission.

Party of Colliery Officials Lost in a Pocahontas Mine.

BLUEFIELDS, W. VA., Nov. 22.—At 11 o'clock this morning Supt. Walter O'Malley of the Pocahontas Collieries Company, along with State Mine Inspector William Prest, A. S. Hurst, chief coal inspector for the Castnor, Curran & Bullitt Company of Philadelphia; Robert St. Clair, chief coal inspector; Morris St. Clair and William Oldham, substitute coal inspectors; Frazier G. Bell, mining engineer, and Joseph Cardwell, manager of the Shamokin Coal and Coke Company of Maybury, W. Va., composing a party of eight, entered the west main of the Southwest Virginia Improvement Company's collieries for the purpose of examining the true situation in regard to the recent explosion and fire in the Baby mine, and up to this hour—12 o'clock midnight—have not been heard from.

It was supposed that the Baby mine proper had been cut off from the West mine for the purpose of operating the West mine. The large fan in West mine had been started at an early hour this morning and at 11 o'clock today it was thought that all gases originating from fire in Baby mine had been forced from the main portion and it was considered safe to enter. At 6 p. m. a party, consisting of experienced miners, led by Assistant Superintendent King, entered the mine to rescue the lost party of eight, but at 9:45 they returned, having encountered such quantities of black damp as to make it impossible to enter any distance into the mine. Assistant Superintendent King was completely overcome by the gas and is now in a critical condition.

A consultation is now being held in the company's office at Pocahontas, of the different mining experts from the Flat Top fields, these experts having been rushed to Pocahontas by a special train late this afternoon. All efforts are being used to recover the bodies of the inspecting party, but no hopes are entertained that any of them will be recovered alive. The secretary and treasurer of the Southwest Virginia Improvement Company, C. S. Thorne of Philadelphia, is directly in charge of all movements at the mines. The fire that originally started in the Baby mine last Thursday morning and which was supposed to have been under control, is now burning furiously. All the members of the lost party are prominent in the coal fields and the excitement now prevailing at Pocahontas is intense, business having practically suspended. All the members of the party are married, some having large families.

HORSES DREW GREAT CROWDS

12,000 People Attended the Big Show at Madison Square Garden.

SPECULATORS REAPING A HARVEST

Dollar and a Half Seats Sold for $8 on the Sidewalk—Thomas W. Lawson's Horses Get Five Blue Ribbons—Frank Gould Successful

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The most brilliant of metropolitan horse shows is drawing to a close. Most of the classes have been judged, and tonight numbers of the unsuccessful aspirants for equine honors will be withdrawn from the garden. The judgment of championship classes began today and two of these were on the tapis for this morning. The judging of hackney mares for the championship and of standard bred trotting stallions occurred at 11:30 o'clock.

High water mark in the attendance at the garden has been reached, and, indeed, it would appear that the natural capacity of the garden was taxed to the limit tonight. If the crowds become larger tomorrow it may become necessary to take precautions against having the walls sent tumbling outward. As a matter of fact the evening attendance at the garden now crams the structure to the bursting point. On a conservative estimate some 12,000 persons entered the building between 8 and 10 o'clock tonight. The consequence was that every seat was occupied. The promenade was a veritable sardine box of humanity, and had some blooded stallion taken it into his head to plunge aside along the boardwalk, the situation would have been perilous in the extreme. However, thus far the horse show has been happily devoid of accidents.

A Miscellaneous Program.

In addition to the two championship classes judged this morning, there were a number of fine classes in the ring. Three sets of stallions were scheduled to take the tanbark, and the light weight hunters were tried out, the horses selected to compete in their class late tomorrow afternoon. This afternoon's schedule included a miscellaneous program. There were clever little ponies, smart harness horses, pacers and a dozen big animals suitable for charges, 18 stylish four-in-hands, the ladies' hunters and saddle horses.

One of the most conspicuously successful exhibitors in the present show has been Thomas W. Lawson. When the exhibition closed at midnight tonight it was seen that Mr. Lawson's magnificent animals had carried off five blue ribbons for the day. He made a clean sweep in the classes of harness horses, his Glorious Flying Cloud and Glorious Whirling Cloud taking first and second prizes respectively in the class for harness horses over 15 hands and not exceeding 16 hands 3 inches.

Speculators are now reaping a big harvest out of the show. Practically all the box office tickets for tomorrow and tomorrow night are sold out and the speculators are preparing for a final big rake-off. Tonight the regular $1 50 seats were selling for $7 and $8 on the sidewalk, and tomorrow night the prices will go skyscraping unless all indications fail.

Troarn, owned by George D. King & Son of Pennsylvania took the blue ribbon in the class for French coaching stallions. Fashion, exhibited by Prescott Lawrence of Newport, R. I., and shown with three of his set, was awarded the blue ribbon for halfbred stallions. Victoria III., owned by Frederick C. Stevens of New York was awarded the championship of hackney mares. Fandango also owned by Mr. Stevens, won the blue ribbon for hackney stallions. Gen. B. F. Tracy's Advertiser won the championship for standard bred trotting stallions.

The first class this afternoon was for ponies under saddle, and it proved to be one of the prettiest sights of the week, Mr. F. Vivian Goosh, the English judge, awarded the ribbons in this class. Miss Hilda Holloway, who is hardly in her 'teens, won the blue ribbon with her little bay mare, Lady Ross. The other two prizes went to Miss Martha Bowers, Miss Reilly and Miss S. H. Lemont Olga.

Then a change was made to a roadster class pacers for mares or geldings with a record of 2:30 or better. In this class C. G. K. Billings of Chicago drove the bay mare, Sunland Belle, which has a record of 2:07½. Second honors went to E. T. Bedford's Alice Mapes with a record of 2:14.

Gould Gets a Blue Ribbon.

The result of the judging of class 50 for pairs to be shown before a brougham was popular. There were 18 competing turnouts.

Frank J. Gould won the blue ribbon with the bay team Sandringham and Burlingham. The second prize went to Alfred G. Vanderbilt with the brown team Sinbad and Cinderella. It was the first prize taken by Mr. Vanderbilt's horses during the week, except a couple of "highly commended" ribbons. W. L. Elkins won the third prize with American Star and American Rose.

The following additional first prizes were awarded this afternoon.

Horses suitable for chargers or officers' mounts, from 15.2 to 16.2 hands high, not under 4 years old. First, Zapornick, b. g., 15.3, 9 years, Fritz Loeb.

Four-in-hands, for the best road team, 4-year-olds or over, shown before a coach. First, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lawson's four—Troubadour, Glory Girl, White Rock and Harmony.

Four-in-hands, for the best coach and appointments, and the quickest change of teams made in the ring. First, C. Ledyard Blair.

Ladies' saddle horse, not under 15 hands, 3-year-olds or over, to be ridden by ladies. First, Quizetta, ch. g., 15.2½, 7 years, James G. Marshall, ridden by Miss Marion Holloway.

Ladies' qualified hunters, up to carrying 165 pounds to hounds. First, Red Oak, b. g., 15.2, aged, F. Ambrose Clark.

Prizes Awarded in the Evening.

Hackneys—Challenge cup for the best hackney stallion in the show. The cup must be won by the same horse two years in succession before it becomes the property of the owner of the winner. First, Robin Adair II., 16, 11 years, Robert Beith, Bowmanville, Ontario, Canada.

Special prize for pair of horses to be shown before a phaeton for park use. First, Glorious Whirling Cloud, brown stallion, 15.2, 7 years, and Glorious Flying Cloud, brown gelding, 15.2, 2 years, Thomas W. Lawson, Boston.

Polo ponies, not over 14 hands 2 inches, up to carrying 150 pounds, must have been used for polo with some recognized polo club. First, Queen, chestnut mare, 6 years, George J. Gould.

High jump, open to all—First, Lord Minto, bay gelding, 4 years, George Pepper, Canada, 6 feet 6 inches.

The program tomorrow is exceptionally long, consisting of 22 events. One of the features of the morning program is the judging of horses belonging to the street cleaning department.

West Virginia Railroad Chartered.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—A charter was taken out here today by the Virginias & Southern Railroad Company of Clarksburg, W. Va., for the purpose of building a railroad from Parkersburg, W. Va., to Newport News, Va. The incorporators are Charles W. Lynch, Peter I. Lynch, Charles D. Elliott, George O. McKinley and Thurman J. Lynch, all of Clarksburg.

Anti-Scalping Law Unconstitutional.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 22.—The law passed by the last legislature prohibiting ticket scalping was today declared to be unconstitutional by the court of appeals. The decision was rendered in the case of Clarence Fleischman, a ticket broker, of Buffalo, vs. Sheriff Samuel Caldwell of Erie county.

Died on Operating Table.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 22.—H. J. Nichols died this morning on the operating table at the Toledo hospital from injuries received by being caught on a bridge by a Lake Shore freight train. Both his legs were cut off and he fell into the Maumee river.

Gotham Officials Indicted.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The grand jury today indicted Fire Commissioner John J. Scannell and William Marks, broker in fire department supplies, for alleged conspiracy. It also returned a second count against Scannell for alleged neglect of duty.

ADDITIONAL SPORTING

WEST WILL BACK CORBETT.

Big Bunch of Money Sent East to Bet—Sam Harris Says It Will All Be Covered.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—McGovern's training quarters, Johnsons Road House, Jerome avenue, November 22—Paddy Sullivan and I will cover every cent that the west can send here to bet on "Young Corbett." Terry is fit as a fiddle.

SAM HARRIS.

This is the answer Terry McGovern's manager gave out when notified of the arrival in Hartford this morning of J. B. Hill, a prominent mine owner of Colorado, with $5,000 in cash and $225,000 behind him to bet on the western lad who will fight McGovern for the featherweight championship of the world on Thanksgiving day afternoon.

Paddy Sullivan is Harris' partner in the show business, and also in the racing stable of Sullivan & Harris. There is no doubt but what the eastern sports will cover any amount of money Mr. Hill has to bet. Their faith in the "Brooklyn Whirlwind" remains the same, notwithstanding the wonderful reports that preceded "Young Corbett" from the west and the showing he has made at his training quarters in Hartford.

The advent of the western money upon the scene puts a different aspect, from a speculative standpoint, on the battle. Up to now it looked as if McGovern would be a 3 to 1 favorite. Now the sports say they don't see if there will be better than 2 to 1 at the ringside.

For some reason the idea that the contest will be held in the open air has been gaining strength. This is not so. The coliseum, where all of the fights are held in Hartford, will be the scene of the battle. The demand for seats is very large. Crowley says the house will be practically sold out by the day of the battle.

WILL OPEN THE SEASON.

Junior League Teams Will Start It Tonight.

The Junior league basketball season will be auspiciously opened on the South Side tonight when the South Side team, which made such a fine record last year, will meet at Odd Fellows' hall with the Bogue Seniors of Oakland. Although the South Side boys have had very little practice together they are confident the opening game will end in a victory. The Manchester and South Side Reserves will play a preliminary, and as both are fast teams this should be a fine game. Following will be the line up for the main event:

| Bogue. | | South Side. |
|---|---|---|
| Thomas | R. F. | Liebau |
| Morgan | L. F. | Leithead |
| Bisel | Center | Davis-Schmitt |
| McKinstry | R. G. | Winderknecht |
| Clark | L. G. | Stolzenbach-Bradley |

Lyceum Team Won the Game.

The Lyceum basketball team defeated the St. Aloysius team last night by a score of 13 to 6. The feature of the game was the team work of both sides. The line-up:

| Lyceum—13. | | St. Aloysius—6. |
|---|---|---|
| Geisler | Forward | A. Neiderberger |
| Barker | Forward | E. Neiderberger |
| Nicol | Center | Schnell |
| Marthens | Guard | Kohler |
| Randall | Guard | Gerger |

Goals from field—Nicol 4, Barker 1, Marthens 1, A. Neiderberger 1, E. Neiderberger 2. Goal from foul—Marthens 1. Referee—Englert.

He Gets $100 for Carrying Powder from a Burning Car.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Nov. 22.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company today presented Harry Baker, a locomotive fireman of Federman, $100 in gold for remarkable bravery. A few days ago a freight car, standing in front of the station at Grafton, caught fire. A great crowd watched the railroad men fight the flames, but all vanished except Baker when ot was learned that the car contained powder.

Bursting in the door Baker, at great risk, carried out to a place of safety twenty cans of powder, the cans being so hot as to burn his hands. The remarkable feat prevented great destruction in the heart of the city.

W. C. T. U. APPROPRIATIONS.

National Body Divides Money Among Auxiliary Associations.

FORT WORTH, TEX., Nov. 22.—The report of the committee on appropriations of the national W. C. T. U. was adopted by the executive board before adjournment. Fifty-eight hundred dollars are given to the president, vice president, treasurer and secretary. "Y" branch gets $800 and "L. T. L." $500.

The departments get an aggregate of $7,255. Among the various appropriations for departmental work are: Legislation, $1,000; for foreign-speaking people and missionary on Ellis island, $650; colored people, $500; scientific temperance instruction, $800; soldiers and sailors, $250; anti-narcotics, $200; physical education, $250; purity, $200; non-alcoholic medication, $350; franchise, $175. Total appropriation for the year, $14,855.

SENSATIONAL TRIAL COMING.

Woman Charged With Murdering Her Child With Poison.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—"Let no one who is guilty escape." This message from Henry S. Dale of Chicago to the chief of police of Hoboken this morning was followed by unusual steps being taken in the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Howe Dale, who is a prisoner in St. Mary's hospital on a charge of having killed her child, Emeline Dale, by administering strychnine tablets.

By agreement among the half dozen physicians who were present at the autopsy, no statement as to the cause of death will be made until the analysis of the contents of the stomach is completed. It may be said, however, on excellent authority, that the autopsy failed to show that death was due to natural causes.

Additional evidence obtained by the police led Assistant Public Prosecutor Vickers to announce today that Mrs. Dale will be placed on trial charged with the murder of her child. The trial promises to be one of the most remarkable in the history of New Jersey.

MILLIONS BRING TROUBLE.

Man Who Inherited Them Buried Under Avalanche of Letters.

UNION HILL, N. J., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Since the story that John Dobson of New Durham, N. J., has fallen heir to an estate of $35,000,000 has been published the man has received each day hundreds of letters from people who wish to either share his supposed fortune or to advise him how to invest it. As an additional incentive to correspondents, the fact that Mr. Dobson is a widower has become known. Photographs of women of all ages and sizes float in and add to the mighty avalanche of his mail.

Mr. Dobson, when seen today, looked worried and said that at the present ratio of 2 cents per letter which he is compelled to pay the letter carrier, there being no free delivery, his fortune will dwindle to an insignificant sum if the letters keep on coming in at the present rate.

JAPS SEE SUBMARINE BOAT.

Naval Officers of the Orient Charmed by the Invention.

GREENPORT, L. I., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Commanders Nishi and Sata and Lieut. Ide of the Japanese navy, witnessed a trial of the Holland submarine torpedo boat Fulton here today. When asked what he thought of the boat, Commander Nishi replied:

"Beautiful! Beautiful! I never expected to see anything like it."

Commander Nishi said he would recommend the adoption of the Holland boat by the Japanese navy. After the mile submerged run and porpoise dives, the visitors took a trip in the Fulton.

Physician Found Dead.

GREENVILLE, PA., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Dr. C. A. Miller was found dead in bed at his home in Shenango street today. Dr. Miller was born in New Castle, August 3, 1857. He graduated from the Pulte Medical College, Cincinnati, and began practice in 1882. In 1885 he came to Greenville. He was a member of the Hahnemann Medical Society of Cincinnati, and belonged to the Masonic fraternity, the Beneficial Protective Order of Elks and Ancient Order of United Workmen. He is survived by a widow and two daughters, Edith and Eva.

Freight Handlers Strike.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 22.—All the freight handlers at the Pennsylvania freight depot here tonight joined the Erie freight handlers in the strike for a reduction of from ten to nine hours without reduction in pay. Efforts are being made by Erie officials to effect a settlement with their men.

Bank Teller Indicted.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Kings county grand jury returned an indictment today against George Zollnhofer, the teller of the Williamsburg Savings bank, who confessed that he and a fellow employe robbed the institution of $60,000.

Revolutionists Claim They Have Won at Chorrera, Which Places the Isthmus at Their Mercy. Uribe-Uribe Coming to Colon.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
(Copyright, 1901, by New York Herald.)

COLON, COLOMBIA, Nov. 22.—Revolutionists are in control along the line of the Panama railroad up to within two miles of Panama. An attack on the troops of that city is imminent, for Gen. Domingo Diaz is now at Empire station, which is 13 miles from Panama, with a force of 1,100 revolutionists.

A cable dispatch was received today announcing that Gen. Uribe-Uribe will arrive in Colon on November 28.

Panama is awaiting important developments. Whether Gen. Alban's troops have been seriously repulsed by the intrenched insurgents at Chorrera is not definitely known, though reports reached here that part of Alban's force, which had gone to Chorrera by sea, had been surprised by the rebels soon after landing and had been badly defeated.

The report was that of 900 men Gen. Alban saved only a remnant, including 27 officers, and that the survivors sought refuge on the government vessels. The other part of Albdn's force which went overland from Miraflores is said to have deserted and joined the insurgent army.

It is announced by the insurgents that one of the leaders, Gen. Victoriano Lorenzo, with 1,500 men, is advancing toward Chorrera from Penonme, which is about 25 miles away from the former place. Gen. Herrara, a Liberal chief, reports that there is another force of insurgents, about 600 men, near Panama.

Secretary Arjona, who is in charge of the government in Panama during the absence of Gen. Alban, has requested Capt. Perry of the United States battleship Iowa to land marines. He received a reply from Capt. Perry that the present situation in Panama does not justify such a proceeding. Secretary Arjona is working hard to keep the city in the possession of the government. There are many sympathizers and supporters of the Liberal cause in Panama.

The insurgents say that the important Pacific coast port of Buena Ventura is now in their possession. The town, it is reported, was taken by assault. Buena Ventura is about 400 miles south of Panama.

The insurgents in Colon now number more than 400, as many recruits have been armed with rifles captured from the government force. All of the principal railroad stations along the Panama railroad near Colon are being watched by large revolutionary bands.

The provisional government in Colon has begun to reduce the heavy duties. The commercial tax has been reduced 10 per cent and other financial measures are being changed. It is the aim of the Liberals also to strike at the salt monopoly.

The United States gunboat Marietta has not yet arrived at this port. Trains are running regularly over the isthmian railroad. All stores are open in Colon.

PORT OF SPAIN, TRINIDAD, Nov. 22.—(Herald Copyright Cable.)—According to advices from Caracas, Venezuelan revolutionists have suffered several reverses. It is reported that Gen. Montilio has been defeated at Carabobo and that Gen. Gustman has been compelled to retire after a six hours' attack on Barcelona. During the attack a son of President Marcano of the department was killed. Gen. Sarrana, a revolutionary leader, is said to be a fugitive. Gens. Pietri and Guarcia, two more insurgent leaders, are reported to be inactive.

President Castro, believing that a conspiracy to overthrow him existed, caused the arrest at Puerto Cabello of Ramon Guerra, the minister of war. The president also brought about the arrest at Caracas of a number of partisans of Ramon Guerra, among them being Montauban, who claims to be a French citizen.

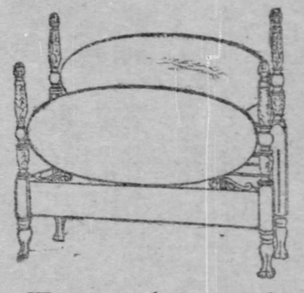
beds—



We are amply prepared to supply the splendid demand there is just now for four-post and Napoleon beds.

These goods form an interesting display on our third floor, comprising the most beautiful productions in crouch mahogany, with carvings that are a treat to see.

The prices range from $35 to $400, but not one of the beds can be duplicated in any other store at the figures we have marked on them.

The only way you can have any idea of the magnitude of our stock, or the opportunities we offer in this line, is to visit the store, as it would be impossible to put into print any description that would do the exhibit justice.

The above illustration represents a Solid Mahogany 4-post Bed we are selling at $68; the bed has beautifully carved posts and claw feet..... $68.00

NOVEMBER COLDS

Should Not Be Allowed to Develop Into Chronic Catarrh---Peruna Cures a Cold Promptly and Permanently.

Miss Anna Rossiter, 467 Norwood avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, writes:

"I have found strength and inspiration in Peruna. In the early part of the winter I caught a cold which seemed to settle all over me, inducing unpleasant catarrhal conditions through my system and producing a general debilitated feeling of body and mind. Four bottles of Peruna restored me to perfect health, and I am thoroughly convinced of the superior merits of this popular remedy."—ANNA ROSSITER.

A Slight Cold May Develop Into Systemic Catarrh.

Miss J. Newlove, 25 Rowley street, Rochester, N. Y., writes:

"I suffered with systemic catarrh, had such a tired feeling, faint spells, pain in the back of my head and over my eyes, got so I could hardly see. I was getting very nervous so that my hands trembled. I was chilly nearly all the time. During the months I doctored I lost 40 pounds, so I thought I would have to try something else. Peruna was recommended to me by a friend, and I gave it a trial. Now I feel better than I have for years—do not think I could feel any better. I am so thankful I [illegible] runa, for it has done me a good. When I started to [illegible] weighed about 119 pounds [illegible] 155 pounds. I cannot praise [illegible] ly enough. It has been a [illegible] to me."—Miss J. Newlove.

Many People Pay No Attention to Cold Until Catarrh [illegible]

Miss Myrtice James, Secretary [illegible] People's Christian Temperance Un[illegible] writes from 401 River Street, Water [illegible] ley, North Dakota:

"I know that Peruna saved my li[illegible] and I cannot speak too highly in its praise. Three years ago I caught a heavy cold which settled in catarrh of the head and bronchial tubes. I thought it only an ordinary cold at first and paid little attention to it until the catarrh developed. I coughed badly and was unable to secure a good night's rest. Finally my father read of a cure called Peruna and sent for a bottle. I found that it relieved me wonderfully and so kept taking it for nearly three months, when I was well once more. Peruna has a great number of friends in this neighborhood. It has a good reputation as a catarrh remedy, which it well deserves."—Myrtice James.

Catarrh of Head and Throat as the Result of a Neglected Cold.

Henriette C. Olberg, one of the Judges in the Flax and Hemp Exhibit at the World's Fair in Chicago; Superintendent of the above exhibit at the International Exhibit at Omaha, June to November, 1898; Secretary National Flax-Hemp and Ramie Association, and editor of this department in The Distaff, Boston, writes from Albert Lea, Minn.:

"I contracted an aggravating cold, having been exposed to the damp weather. Catarrh of my throat and head followed, which persisted in remaining, notwithstanding I applied the usual remedies. Reading of the merits of Peruna in the papers, I decided to try it, and soon found that all that has been said of your medicine in such cases is true.

"I am very pleased with the satisfactory results obtained from using Peruna, am entirely well and consider it a most valuable family medicine."—Henriette C. Olberg.

Peruna is the woman's friend everywhere. It is safe to say that no woman ever used Peruna for any catarrhal derangement but what it became indispensable in her household.

Letters from Women.

Every day we receive letters from women like the above. Women who have tried doctors and failed; women who have tried Peruna and were cured.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

STAR WITNESS SOON DROPPED

BE CALLED LATER BY THE DEFENSE

Policemen Testify to Finding the Body of Ayres, and the Condition of the Room and Its Contents. Dummy Not to Be Introduced.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—One important point was established by the defense in the Bonine murder trial today and impressively presented to the jury by Attorney Douglass. The government's contention is that no struggle preceded the murder. The upper buttonhole of the undershirt worn by Ayres was put in evidence, and it proved to be torn and the button was loosened. Mr. Douglass laid great stress on it, as he brought it to the attention of the jurors.

The testimony today was interesting, particularly on account of the appearance of W. O. Warfield, proprietor of the Kenmore hotel. The government had summoned him as one of its witnesses, but at the very outset it was made clear that his testimony would benefit the accused. District Attorney Gould dropped him instantly, and his failure to open well the subject prevented the defense, in cross-examination, from bringing out many favorable points desired, except, by making him a witness for the defense and thus giving the government the right to cross-examine. Attorneys for the defense left the subject open for the present, but will later in the proceedings call Mr. Warfield as their own witness.

Testimony of Policemen.

Besides Mr. Warfield only four witnesses were heard today. They were Policeman Walter S. Brady, who detailed the finding of the body and the condition of the room; Policeman Fulton Wolfe, who runs with him, and testified in the same strain, but agreeing that the room showed no signs of a struggle; Detective Benjamin F. Williams, who took charge of the room with the body lying on the floor until the arrival of the coroner, and J. Frank Drew, a capitol policeman, who lived at the Kenmore, on the floor occupied by the central figures of the tragedy, in a room opposite the one of Mrs. Mary Minas. He was still on the stand when adjournment was had until Monday morning.

Policeman Walter S. Brady was the first witness called. He was on duty near the Kenmore hotel on the morning that Ayres' body was discovered and he was summoned to the hotel at about 8:20 o'clock by the proprietor, W. W. Warfield, who told him he thought he had a suicide upstairs. The witness, in company with three or four other persons, finding the door fastened, forced it open. On subsequent investigation he had found that the door was bolted, and not locked.

Position of the Body.

The body of the dead man was lying on the floor near the window, in a bent position, and with the arms drawn up in front of the face. The head lay across one of the rounds of a rocking chair, and the only clothing on the body was a light undershirt, splattered with blood. The hands and feet also were bloody, the feet looking as if he had stepped in the blood, which was on the floor in considerable quantity.

Three wounds were found on the body, one being in the breast, another in the arm and the third in the thigh. The bed looked, he said, as if some one had lain in it and had gotten up.

Ayres' coat and vest had been carefully laid over the back of a chair. A pistol and a small single-barreled shotgun lay on a trunk in the room, and the barrel and chambers of the pistol were covered with blood. The gas was burning when he entered the room, but was turned low. The lower sash of the one window in the room was up as far as it would go. The string on the window shade was covered with blood, as if it had been drawn through bloody fingers.

In concluding his examination-in-chief of the witness, District Attorney Gould put in evidence the undershirt found on the body of Ayres. It was well stained with blood. The sight of the garment apparently affected the prisoner more than any preceding incident in the course of the trial.

Corroborated by Other Officers.

The other officers' testimony was corroborative. Policeman Benjamin Williams said he had discovered no evidence of a struggle in Ayres' room when he entered it. He also replied in the negative, as Officers Brady and Wolfe had done, when asked if he had discovered any footprints on the floor.

On cross-examination he said he had noticed the torn condition of the upper buttonhole of Ayres' shirt, and he added that the corresponding button was hanging by a thread. There also were powder marks about the wound on Ayres' body, indicating that he was shot at close range.

W. W. Warfield, proprietor of the Kenmore hotel, said that Ayres occupied room 70 in the main building, and Mrs. Bonine and her family rooms 69 and 70 in the annex, but on the same floor. District Attorney Gould elicited from Mr. Warfield the fact that there was an electric button in the room, as in all others in the house rendering it practicable to call the office at any time. The witness said Ayres had told him that the lock of the door to his room was out of order and that the door could not be fastened with it.

Question Ruled Out.

Mr. Fulton, on cross-examination, asked the witness if Mrs. Bonine had made arrangements to leave the Kenmore prior to the tragedy. Mr. Gould objected, but before he could state his objection the witness replied that she had made such arrangements. Mr. Gould asked to have the reply stricken out as irrelevant. Mr. Fulton contended that the theory of the government concerning the killing of Ayres made it decidedly relevant to show that Mrs. Bonine had prepared to leave the house before Ayres had made his own plans to go away. This, if established, would go far toward relieving Mrs. Bonine of the charge that her relations with Ayres were such as to cause her to take extreme steps to prevent his going away. The court decided against admitting the question on the ground that the point had not been touched on by Mr. Gould in his direct examination.

District Attorney Gould has changed his attitude in regard to the introduction of the dummy supposed to represent the human body with which he intended to illustrate to the jury the course taken by the bullets which lodged in Ayres' body.

The Bonine family circle was larger by one member this morning, the addition being U. S. Grant Henry, the defendant's brother, who has come on from Texas to give her moral support. He is the young man who at the time of his father's assassination at Hamilton, Mo., in 1885, was taken in custody by the police, but released at once. His sympathy for his sister is manifest, and he has declared that he will devote the remainder of his life, if necessary, to raising funds sufficient to reimburse those who are now fighting for her life.

WITH A BROKEN HEART COMPELLED TO WRITE OUT A RESIGNATION

Fall of the Head of the Church in Greece Dramatic. Premier's Escape.

RIOT VICTIMS' FUNERAL

ATHENS, Nov. 22.—The resignation of the metropolitan of Athens, Procopius Geconimidis, head of the church in Greece, was very dramatic. The minister of public worship, M. Stais, visited him during the night and told him that the king and the government desired him to resign. At first the metropolitan refused. He was then taken to see the premier, M. Theotokis, after which all three went to the palace at 1 o'clock in the morning. As a result of the interview with King George the metropolitan signed his resignation, weeping and broken-hearted.

M. Theotokis had a narrow escape when his life was attempted. He displayed the greatest courage and forbade his friends to fire on his assailants. The entrance gates at his residence bear the marks of seven bullets.

At noon today it was announced that the obligation of the government to preserve order prevented the ministers from attending the chamber of deputies today, but that they would attend tomorrow and ask a vote of confidence. In the absence of a quorum the chamber adjourned.

In the course of the afternoon the growing crowds and the increasing excitement heralded the hour fixed for the funeral of the victims of the riots in opposition to the translation of the gospels into modern Greek. The bulk of the troops were confined to barracks. The shops along the route were closed by police orders.

At 5 o'clock the cortege left the cathedral for the cemetery, dense crowds following. The seven coffins covered with white flags were preceded by students carrying a black banner. The procession halted for some minutes before the palace, but no cries were raised. The populace going and returning from the cemetery maintained a silent and restrained demeanor.

At the cemetery M. Levidis delivered an oration, in the course of which he attacked the government and declared that the people ought to erect a mausoleum over the "victims of duty and patriotism."

The city resumed its normal aspect as the evening wore on. The students, however, still remain in occupation of the university. The rector, at the head of 30 professors, endeavored to persuade them to retire, but they declined to comply unless given guarantees that no legal proceedings would be taken against them; that the translators of the gospels would be excommunicated and that the university would not be occupied by troops.

INSURGENTS STARVING.

Famine Will Help Yankee Guns in Samar Island.

MANILA, Nov. 22.—The Filipinos captured in Samar island by our troops show evidences of suffering and hunger. The coasts are closely patrolled by gunboats and the use of the searchlight makes it almost impossible for natives to land food on the island for the insurgents. The patrolling gunboats have captured over $20,000 in cash, and $100,000 worth of hemp upon which a tax had been paid to the insurgents, has been confiscated. The system of taxation, and the collection of taxes maintained by the insurgent leader Lukban was perfect.

Smallpox is raging in the southern islands of the archipelago. The United States Philippine commission is preparing an act to compel everybody to be vaccinated.

It has been officially reported to Gen. Chaffee that the insurgent leader Caballos has 500 fully armed men, including a number of American negroes under his command in Laguna province, Luzon. An insurgent officer has just been captured carrying papers.

BRIGANDS' LATEST MOVE.

Miss Stone Gets Her Feet Wet Crossing a Stream.

SOFIA, Nov. 22.—According to the statement of a person who arrived from Dubnitza last night, the captors of Miss Stone have removed their prisoners from a village near Dubnitza to a point near the frontier, and Miss Stone got wet while crossing the river Struma.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Consul General Dickinson has mystified the state department by his departure from Sofia, Bulgaria, to Constantinople. He notified Secretary Hay of his departure from the capital of Bulgaria, but failed to give the reason of this move. The effect of his return to Constantinople is to leave the United States without official representation in Sofia and the result will probably be to delay the liberation of Miss Stone.

FLOGGING BY WHOLESALE.

Punishment of Polish Children by Prussian Schoolmasters Nearly Causes a Riot.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—"Shocking accounts have been received here," says a dispatch from Cracow to the Daily Mail, "of wholesale flogging of Polish children by Prussian schoolmasters for refusing to learn the catechism and prayers in German at Wrzesnia.

"Such conduct nearly produced a riot. Parents and relatives assembled in front of the school and violently denounced the authorities. Many persons were arrested on charge of insulting government officials and sentenced to imprisonment and to be put in chains."

PLOT IN JOHANNESBURG.

Twenty Arrests Made in Various Parts of the Town.

JOHANNESBURG, Nov. 22.—Another conspiracy has been nipped in the bud. Twenty arrests were made at midnight Tuesday in houses in various parts of Johannesburg.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The steamer Banrigh, which was detained here this week by the British authorities on the suspicion of being a Boer filibuster, has been released and will proceed to Hamburg. She is said to be destined to become a Colombian gunboat.

POPULAR SHERLOCK HOLMES.

William Gillette Further Extends His Season in London.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
(Copyright, 1901, by the New York Herald Co.)
LONDON, Nov. 22.—As an evidence of William Gillette's remarkable success in "Sherlock Holmes," Comyns Carr, managing director of the Lyceum, announces that he has arranged with Charles Frohman for a further extension of Mr. Gillette's season right up to the time when Sir Henry Irving and Miss Ellen Terry return from America. It will be remembered that an extension was first made to the beginning of January. Now the season is to be extended more than double the time it was expected the play might run at the Lyceum.

As a further evidence of the popularity of "Sherlock Holmes" it is announced that by the beginning of the year four companies will be touring the provinces in this country, and that companies are now rehearsing to play in Vienna, Hamburg and other large cities. It will also be produced in Cape Town during the Christmas holidays.

PROPOSED STEEL TRUST FOR RUSSIA.

(Special Cable to The Gazette.)
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 22.—Representatives of the steel and iron industries have petitioned the minister of finance for assistance in creating a Pan-Russian trust, alleging the measure is imperative in view of foreign competition crushing out the Russian industry.

Remembering the minister of the interior's recent order regarding municipalities to employ only Russian contractors, it is believed that the trust promoters' Pan-Russian scheme will receive the official help demanded.

INCOMPETENT MUSIC TEACHERS IN BERLIN

Voices and Natural Talent of American Students Are Ruined by Them.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
BERLIN, Nov. 22.—Because two-thirds of Germany's 150,000 music teachers are alleged to be incompetent, the coming reichstag is asked to pass a law compelling music teachers to undergo a state examination. The movement is indorsed by the National Federation of Vocal and Instrumental Instructors.

It is asserted that Germany's fair name in the world's school of music is in danger of forfeiture through the bad systems of training applied to numerous individuals in the so-called conservatories of music. Leonard Liebling, the Berlin critic of the American Musical Courier, is quoted as follows:

"Yankee students are evincing the liveliest sort of interest in the proposed legislation, because a number of them are obliged to pay fancy prices for a musical education. In Berlin alone there is spent 3,000,000 marks a year for music lessons, and some of the instruction received is little less than criminal. A large percentage of the teachers not only fail to teach anything, but often spoil the pupil's natural talent.

"Just now the American pupils of the student colony are agitated over a typical case of two young Chicago women, students of a certain well-known singing professor. He told the ladies to shove, three or four times a day, a miniature steel shaft in their throats, which would produce the desired chest tone qualities. The doctors find that the vocal chords of the ladies are nearly severed and all chances of their voices being cultivated are gone."

NEARLY A MILLION SHORT.

Betting of Liverpool Bookkeeper May Result in Loss of £170,000.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 22.—Announcement was made today that the bank of Liverpool had been victimized by a trusted bookkeeper to a large amount. What the losses amount to is not yet known, but an official statement issued by the bank says that through the dishonesty and betting transactions of a bookkeeper they may lose £170,000.

The bank of Liverpool's shares fell 5l on the stock exchange today. The defaulter has not yet been arrested.

Italian Finances in Good Shape.

ROME, Nov. 22.—(Special Cable.)—Owing to the prosperous condition of finances and a large surplus, the budget rentes are quoted at par and the government is considering plans for a gradual withdrawal of the paper currency and a reduction in the interest upon national loans.

CABLED BREVITIES.

There is still no confirmation of Count Tolstoi's rumored death.

The first iron steamer built in Chile will be launched on Sunday at Valparaiso.

Owing to the anti-Scripture translation in Athens, police officials there have resigned.

The Bank of Liverpool announces that through a defaulting bookkeeper it would probably lose £170,000.

The French senate has adopted a proposal to appoint a commission to study the means to be taken to arrest the depopulation of France.

Queen Wilhelmina's illness is said to be more serious than was anticipated. Stories about the prince consort's conduct are making him very unpopular.

The St. James Gazette repeats its assertions that English actors are "consumed" in America and that "visits there are artistically detrimental to English actresses."

The vatican has given Bishop Matz of Denver to understand that it desires his resignation owing to his difficulties with the Irish-American clergy of Denver. Matz is not inclined to comply.

Mrs. Wackerman, the mother of Miss Vanderbilt, the artist's model, who is in St. Giles infirmary suffering from brain fever, arrived at Queenstown yesterday. Mrs. Wackerman said she was undecided whether she would remove her daughter from the workhouse or not.

ALL FOR A PET MONKEY.

Cuban Refuses to Pay $1,000 for Its Recovery—She Is Tricked Out of $18,000 Worth of Jewels.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Because she declined to pay $1,000 demanded by men she had employed to recover her lost pet, a monkey, Mme. Rosalia Abru was dispossessed of a diamond necklace valued at $10,000. Contesting the claim at a judicial hearing today, Mme. Abru was tricked out of the possession of pearls worth $8,000.

Mme. Abru is a wealthy Cuban woman. She engaged the services of Warden Dixon, a Jersey City lawyer, and John H. Francis Gregory to recover the stolen monkey. Their bill for $1,000 she refused to pay. On the ground that she was a non-resident, and liable to leave the state, Dixon and the others secured a writ of attachment and Mme. Abru's diamond necklace was seized. She retained as counsel ex-Mayor Morris of Long Branch, who secured an order to show cause against Dixon and the others.

When all the parties appeared today in Jersey City before Frank P. McDermott, appointed to take testimony, Mme. Abru took the stand. She said that when the writ was served she had $10,000 worth of jewels in the house. This did not include the value of the earrings she was wearing at the hearing.

"Are they real pearls?" asked Dixon.

"If they were not they would not be worth $8,000," indignantly replied Mme. Abru.

Dixon then asked the witness if she would object to permitting a man present to examine them.

"Certainly not," replied Mme. Abru, handing the lawyer one of her earrings, and then the other at his further request.

Dixon passed them to Constable Frank Burden, who produced a legal document and declared that he seized the earrings by virtue of a writ of attachment. Then Dixon explained that he had abandoned the old writ and secured the new one in its place. Application in contest of this attachment will be made by Mme. Abru's counsel.

Here's a Pointer.

Take a postal card, address it to the Cranitonic Hair Food Co., 526 West Broadway, New York City, and write on the reverse side something like this: "Please send me a copy of the 48 page illustrated book entitled Hair Care and a sample of the Cranitonic Hair Food Products, which the Commercial Gazette says you are sending free and postpaid to people who ask for them." Sign your name, give your address, street and number and mail the card. Then wait a few days and you will receive by mail a sample of the most exquisite French toilet preparation ever offered to the public.

If you will write a letter, enclosing a small lock of hair or a sample of the daily combings, and state if you have failing hair, dandruff or itching scalp, the physicians of the Cranitonic Institute will make a microscopical examination of the hair, send you a report upon its condition and prescribe curative treatment free of charge. 111h

ARTHUR LYNCH BOUND TO TAKE HIS SEAT IN COMING PARLIAMENT

This in Spite of the Fact That He Commanded a Regiment for the Boers.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
PARIS, Nov. 22.—Arthur Lynch, who has just been elected to the British house of commons from County Galway, beating by a large majority the Unionist candidate, Plunkett, proposes to take his seat in the house unless prevented by force. In spite of the fact that he commanded a regiment of Irish in the Transvaal against the British, Lynch insists the British government has no case against him. His success seems to have surprised him, but has roused his fighting blood.

"There is no law able to annul my election," said Lynch to The Gazette correspondent this evening. "I purpose to take my seat and fight tooth and nail for the cause of Ireland, in spite of all opposition. It is true that I fought against the English, but this is merely a logical carrying out of the convictions animating the entire Nationalist party. Therefore, if I am excluded the rest of the party must also be turned out of parliament. The government has not courage enough to take such a step, even if it were justified."

Lynch, who is by birth an Australian, lives in Paris, where formerly he was a correspondent of the Daily Mail, which discharged him on account of his anti-Dreyfus attitude. Since his Transvaal exploit Lynch has not visited England, where he is liable to arrest, but has become one of the heroes of Paris. He was feted tonight by Irish sympathizers, each of them wearing a button containing a photograph of Lynch clothed in the uniform he wore in the Transvaal. Lynch is not experienced in politics, but is well known in Paris newspaperdom, where one of his best exploits was the reporting of Dreyfus' landing for an American paper.

This evening's papers call Plunkett's defeat a severe blow to Chamberlain, quoting Maud Gonne, who declares that in its wildest dreams the Irish party never thought to capture Galway.

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—Col. Arthur Lynch, who fought in the Boer army, has defeated Horace Plunkett, the Unionist candidate, for the house of commons, by a vote of 1,247 to 473 in Galway. If Lynch attempts to take a seat in the house he will be subject to trial for treason as having been engaged in war against Great Britain. Lynch's friends seem satisfied that he will attempt to take the seat.

PLOT FOUND TO BLOW UP BRITISH COTTON SHIP.

Match Heads and Dynamite Cannon Crackers Found in Inflammable Cargo.

PENSACOLA, FLA., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—An attempt was made today to blow up and burn the British steamship Cayo, which is loading a cargo of cotton for Bremen. The plan was frustrated by one of the cotton screw men at work in the hold of the vessel discovering strewn in the lower hold a large quantity of heads of matches.

About 10,000 bales of cotton had been placed in the vessel when the man discovered the match heads. This led to an investigation, and some 20 cannon crackers, 12 inches long, were found jammed tightly between the bales of cotton. In each instance matches had been placed into the heads of the cannon crackers adjoining the stem, with the heads protruding, and in such a manner that the least friction would strike the matches and ignite the cannon crackers. A large amount of the cotton was uncovered and searched. It is thought that all danger has been removed.

The cannon crackers were stolen from the steamship Winifred, which arrived Monday with a cargo of fireworks from New York. The authorities are of the opinion that those who planned the destruction of the vessel calculated that when the vessel got out to sea the tossing of the ship would cause the cotton to jam repeatedly together, thus striking the matches' heads, and discharging the cannon crackers, would make the destruction of the ship almost a certainty. Big cannon crackers are charged with dynamite, and if the ship was not severely damaged by the explosion, it would have been destroyed by fire.

Some say it is a plot similar to one concocted in New Orleans, when a British transport was badly injured by a bomb supposed to have been placed by a Boer sympathizer. It is understood that the Cayo has been in that trade. Detectives are at work on the case.

GROVER CLEVELAND ILL.

Founder's Day Orator at Carnegie Library Was Threatened With Pneumonia.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 22.—Reports come from Princeton to the effect that ex-President Grover Cleveland is ill at his home at that place. Mr. Cleveland recently returned from a gunning trip and was taken ill with a chill and was threatened with pneumonia.

Inquiry at his home tonight elicited the information that he is very much improved. His condition is not understood to be dangerous.

Old Estimate Renewed.

The committee of the public library of Allegheny met last evening at the Sherman avenue high school and decided upon the same estimate for the ensuing year as that of last year, $8,920.

JEWEL THIEF ARRESTED HERE

RHODA READE, PRETTY YOUNG BOSTON GIRL CAPTURED.

She Stole $1,400 Worth of Diamonds and $112 in Cash in Order to Dress Well Enough to Accompany Lover to New York—He Deserted Her There, Leaving Her to Pay Board Bill.

Shortly after 3 o'clock last evening, Detectives John Roach and James Egan arrested Rhoda Reade, a handsome young woman wanted in Boston, for stealing $1,400 worth of jewelry and $112 in cash. The woman has already won much sympathy for herself as she has been, to all appearances, the dupe of an ardent wooer. She had just made up her mind to return to her home, Boston, and give herself up, when the Pittsburgh detectives arrested her last night as she entered the postoffice. She is scarcely 23 years old and apparently of a respectable family. She refused to disclose her family connections.

The diamonds are in a safety vault in Boston. A broker of that town will likely be arrested for receiving stolen goods. The man in question used her to attain his own ends, then deserted her in New York.

She says that two weeks ago he told her he was going to take her to New York and quietly hinted that she would come in contact with the best families of the metropolis.

She determined to go there in splendor, and stole the money and diamonds to do so. The broker had taken her several times to a house in Congress street, Boston, and there she saw the jewels that tempted her. She went alone one day last week and stole all the jewelry and money she could find. She then left with her broker friend.

Arriving in New York her conscience troubled her, and she turned over the jewels to the broker, who, it is claimed had them locked in a vault.

They remained in New York several days until the broker left her and a board bill of $114. She paid the bill and has since been roaming about from city to city. She arrived in Pittsburgh Wednesday. The chief of police of Boston has been wired and will have her taken back. The following are the articles reported by the Boston authorities as stolen: Five diamond rings, three stick pins, diamond brooch, two $5 gold pieces, a pair of diamond earrings, and the money.

IN ROOSEVELT'S CHURCH.

A Chaplain of the Boer Army to Preach Sunday Night.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—A chaplain of the Boer army, who is now in Washington, is announced to preach at the Dutch Reformed church next Sunday evening. This is the church at which President Roosevelt attends divine service on Sunday mornings.

He has been especially invited to be present on Sunday evening, when the Boer chaplain preaches, but no announcement of his acceptance has yet been made.

Every woman loves to think of the time when a soft little body, all her own, will nestle in her bosom, fully satisfying the yearning which lies in the heart of every good woman. But yet there is a black cloud hovering about the pretty picture in her mind which fills her with terror. The dread of childbirth takes away much of the joy of motherhood. And yet it need not be so. For sometime there has been upon the market, well-known and recommended by physicians, a liniment called which makes childbirth as simple and easy as nature intended it. It is a strengthening, penetrating liniment, which the skin readily absorbs. It gives the muscles elasticity and vigor, prevents sore breasts, morning sickness and the loss of the girlish figure.

An intelligent mother in Butler, Pa., says: "Were I to need Mother's Friend again, I would obtain 9 bottles if I had to pay $9 per bottle for it."

Dyspepsia and Indigestion

To get rid of these ailments you must start at the seat of the trouble by setting the stomach right.

The stomach supplies the strength for every department of your body. If your face is pale it shows clearly that there is an imperfect circulation of the blood. It shows also that the blood is thin, watery and weak.

Johann Hoff's Malt Extract always successfully helps digestion. It is a certain remedy for dyspepsia and all forms of indigestion.

Indeed it is the perfect assimilator of food. Every person who takes with his meals will realize the difference. Not only is the disorder gone from the stomach but there is the unmistakable prompting of strength and energy, because the nutrition in the food is penetrating to every portion of the body.

Dr. J. M. Powers, of Warrensburg, Mo., writes: Johann Hoff's Malt Extract is always a builder; always a blood maker by making digestion more perfect.

R·I·PANS

One said I had chronic dyspepsia, others claimed I was suffering with nervousness and kidney trouble. The last doctor told mother to take me away to the country. I could not eat nor sleep. My aunt, where I was staying, persuaded me to try Ripans Tabules. The fifth 5-cent box relieved me a little. I was so glad I kept on taking them. In all I had taken nine boxes. God bless Ripans Tabules! May they be spread abroad to those that are afflicted as I was. They have done for me what doctors could not do.

Dwellings Burned—Four dwellings were burned and two badly damaged in Grace street, Crafton, early yesterday morning. They were worth about $8,500 each, and with the furniture and other property destroyed, the total loss will be $25,000. It is not known how the fire originated.

McKeesport Institute—Final preparations have been made for the annual meeting of the McKeesport Teachers' institute. The session will begin Monday morning and will continue until Friday afternoon. The schools have closed for institute vacation and arrangements for entertaining the crowd of visitors have been completed.

Shot in Card Quarrel—William Lawson, aged 35 years, a negro, was shot and instantly killed yesterday morning by Amos Byers in a fight over a game of cards. The shooting occurred at the working camp in Greentree borough, where the Greentree tunnel is being built for the Wabash railroad. Byers, who is also a negro, made his escape after the shooting.

For McGovern Assault—Charles, alias "Shadow" Thomas of Rural avenue, was arrested yesterday in the East End on suspicion of being one of the burglars who assaulted Detective McGovern on Thursday night. Thomas denied being implicated in the affair, but could not give a satisfactory account of his whereabouts and was landed in No. 6 police station.

Met Death in Ore Chute—Ludovico Dalusia, 17 years old, was crushed to death in the ore chute at the American Steel and Wire Company's works, Neville Island, yesterday afternoon. It is not known how he got into the chute. The first knowledge the workmen had of anybody being in it was when the boy's lifeless body rolled out with the massive pieces of ore.

A Strong Organization—At the regular meeting of the Pittsburgh association of the Pattern Makers' League next Wednesday night 25 new members will be admitted. This will give the organization over 250 members in this district, practically all of this class of craftsmen in the district. President L. R. Thomas of the Pattern Makers' League is now engaged in organization work in this district.

Testing a New Process—Tests are being made at the Demmler plant of the American Tin Plate Company of the Ailis-Andrews process, which, if shown to be successful, is expected to revolutionize the industry and reduce the cost of manufacture by one-half. The process facilitates the rolling and increases the output. Thomas V. Ailis, president of the International Tin Plate Corporation, is here to superintend the tests.

Free Delivery Begins—The free delivery of mail will be started on Monday in Sharpsburg. The following young men of Sharpsburg will act as carriers, having passed the necessary examinations: Daniel C. Metzenbacher, John F. Hancock, Albert H. Jennings, John D. Wakefield. There will be deliveries as follows: Business district, 8 a. m., 10:30 a. m., 12:40 p. m., 4:25 p. m.; resident route, 8 a. m., 4:25 p. m.

Struck Another Gusher—Lawrence Offener of Homestead received a telegram yesterday morning from Beaumont, Tex., stating that another big oil well had come in on property owned by the Anglo-American Oil company, in which a number of Homestead business men are large stockholders. The size of the gusher was not stated. This is the second gusher that the company has struck within the past three months.

Steiner to Give Recitals—The weekly free organ recitals at Carnegie music hall will be given tonight and tomorrow afternoon by Mr. William K. Steiner of Pittsburgh in response to an invitation from the trustees of Carnegie institute. Mr. Steiner is a native of Pittsburgh and received his early education in music in this city. He spent four years in Germany under the best masters. These organ recitals are the first public recitals given by him in Pittsburgh.

He Read the Papers—Great wealth [illegible] to Anton Hofman Sr of Mc[illegible] PAPERS—[illegible] may come to Anton Hofman, Sr., of McKeesport, through a newspaper, which furnished news of the whereabouts and recent death of a brother, George Hofman, who went to California in 1852, and thence to New Mexico. A notice of the missing man's death appeared in a New York newspaper, stating that the deceased had left a large estate. Correspondence has confirmed Hofman's belief that the dead man was his brother.

City Missionary Work—The Reformed churches of Pittsburgh and Allegheny are about to introduce an innovation in their methods of work. A city missionary will be employed for a time, and if the experiment proves successful the work will be established by the board of the Reformed church. Miss Bertha St. John Haverstick, a graduate of the Moody institute of Chicago, will make visits among the families in the young missions of the Reformed church, particularly those of Bellevue, Homestead and Duquesne.

Contracts Awarded—William Glyde Wilkins, civil and mining engineer of this city, has awarded the contract to the Van Dorn iron works, Cleveland, O., for a steel trestle 1,000 feet long and coaling pockets for the Hitchman Coal Company, Wheeling, W. Va. The coaling pockets will have a capacity of 200 tons each and will be used to coal engines of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Contracts will be awarded this week by Mr. Wilkins for the tipples and inclined planes for the Logansport Coal Company, Logansport, Pa., and for the new Chartiers Coal Company, near Carnegie.

Successful Concert—The concert given last evening in Curry College hall by advanced students of Curry Conservatory of Music, assisted by Miss Marie H. Sprague, was attended by a large audience. The performers were the Misses Minnie Baisch, Helen Haushalter, Emilie Wornald, Bessie O'Brien, Emma Vickeroth, Mae Reynolds, Marjery Riley, Adelaide Merriman, Mary Swyers and Messrs. Charles S. Richard, Thomas Weible and Master Alois Hrabak. At the commencement of the program Director Bissell gave a talk on "Music—Old and New."

Another Official Gone—The prolonged absence from that city of Ordinance Officer William Fehr of McKeesport has given rise to much uneasiness on the part of his family and friends. Mr. Fehr, who is a member of the board of school controllers, as well as city ordinance officer, left McKeesport two weeks ago. He wrote from Philadelphia to his family that he did not intend to return. Chief of Police Patrick J. Morrissey, who returned yesterday morning from a two days' search for the missing man, says he was unable to obtain any clue to his whereabouts.

Embezzlement Is Charged—J. W. McNeil of 341 Fourth avenue had a hearing yesterday before Alderman James V. McMasters on a charge of embezzlement. J. P. Lehr of 244 Fifth avenue, who made the information, alleges that McNeil was an officer of the Pittsburgh Security and Investment Company, and that he has $996.91 coming from the concern. The president of the company is said to have fled with all the funds, and Lehr entered suit against McNeil. The latter denies any connection with the company. Alderman McMasters reserved his decision until Monday and McNeil renewed his bail of $500.

Rivermen's Bean Bake—The first annual bean bake of the Allegheny Riverside association was held in McKenzie's hall, Aspinwall, yesterday. There were two sessions, one in the morning and one in the evening. The morning session was given over to business. Secretary Hugh Simmons of the association read his report, in which he dwelt especially on the necessity of organization among the Allegheny rivermen to secure the needed improvements along that river. He reported the association prosperous in every particular. The evening session was given over to amusement. A number of speeches were made on the improvements needed to make the Allegheny river navigable.

WORKS NEARING COMPLETION

Pittsburgh Seamless Tube Co. Will Soon Begin Extensive Production at Beaver Falls.

The Pittsburgh Seamless Tube Company recently incorporated by interests formerly in the Atlantic Tube Company is almost ready for extensive production of steel seamless boiler tubes at Beaver Falls. The old Atlantic plant will be utilized. Extensions are now under way, a force of about 100 men being employed there. A piercing apparatus from the works of the H. B. Hogg Foundry and Machine Company of this city has just been received at the plant and is being installed.

The new company will issue $200,000 of preferred stock, $300,000 of common stock and $100,000 of bonds. The business affairs of the Atlantic Tube Company are rapidly being closed. S. M. McElroy, cashier of the Citizens National bank; John V. Rittz of the Butler County National bank; D. A. Rees of James Rees & Sons, G. T. D. Braden of the South Penn Oil Company and G. H. Blaxter, the president of the Atlantic Tube Company, acting as the bondholders' committee, have received practically all the bonds and issued new ones for them.

The property of the Atlantic Tube Company was first sold by the receiver of the Pennsylvania Title and Trust Company, also the trustee of the first mortgage bondholders, subject to these bonds. It was subsequently sold by this interest as the trustee of the bondholders.

George A. Dickson, one of the original incorporators of the Atlantic Tube Company, has resigned as general manager of the Manufacturers and Producers' Supply Company. Mr. Dickson's successor has not yet been named.

HUNTING A MOTIVE.

Police Say Mrs. Dale Murdered Her Child to Secure Legacy From Father's Estate.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The internal organs of Emmeline Dale, the child who died in Hoboken early on Tuesday morning, and whose mother is a prisoner, charged with her murder, are now in the possession of Dr. Otto Schultz of Cornell college, who will examine them for traces of poison. Dr. E. N. Smith of this city will make the microscopic examination.

The autopsy was performed yesterday afternoon. After the autopsy the physicians declined to talk.

The child's father has not yet arrived from Chicago, but Assistant Prosecutor Vickers says he will come to Hoboken at the right time. The authorities are working to establish a motive for the alleged crime. The county authorities and the Hoboken police are, they claim, forging what they consider a strong chain of evidence. According to the authorities they understand the will of Mrs. Dale's father is said to have been so drafted that in case of Emmeline's death Mrs. Dale would be sole beneficiary.

At St. Mary's hospital, where Mrs. Dale was taken from the court room yesterday, it was said that she was better.

ASSESSED AT $75,000,000.

Decision Rendered at Springfield Adverse to Injunction-Seeking Corporations.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Nov. 22.—The application of the Chicago Union Traction Company and the Consolidated Traction Company for an injunction restraining the state board of equalization from assessing the capital stock of these companies for 1900 was denied this afternoon by Judges Grosscup and Humphrey in the United States circuit court. The temporary injunction issued by Judge Grosscup in Chicago on Tuesday was dissolved.

Immediately after the decision was announced the board was convened.

[illegible] announced assessments aggregating $75,000,000 and involving over $1,000,000 in taxes were made by the state board of equalization as the fair cash value of the capital stock of the traction companies over and above the assessment on their tangible property. The $75,000,000 valuations made take the place of $3,500,000 valuations made last year as representing the fair cash value of the property assessed. The teachers' federation estimate was $125,000,000.

ASSAILANT COMMITS SUICIDE.

His Victim Hovers Between Life and Death at a Hospital.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—Geza Granzner, who on Monday last attempted to murder Mrs. Susanna Miller by shooting her in the head, was found dead today in a house at 325 North Tenth street, having committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. After Granzer had attempted to kill Mrs. Miller he fled and the detective force of the city had been unable to locate him.

The woman is still hovering between life and death at a hospital.

Manslaughter Charge Too Weak.

ROME, N. Y., Nov. 22.—By a decision handed down by Justice Merwin, one-half of the estate of Mrs. Moses M. Davis, valued at $50,000, will go to the Christian Scientists. The charge of manslaughter brought against members of the church for not allowing Mrs. Davis medical attention, the judge holds, is too weak.

TURKEYS WILL COME IN HORDES

20,000 Needed to Supply Pittsburghers on Thanksgiving Day.

PRICES ARE SOMEWHAT HIGHER

Those Who Wish to Enjoy the Proper Dinner Next Thursday Will Have to Pay a Good Price. Threatened Famine Avoided.

How much consumers will have to pay for Thanksgiving turkeys is not altogether certain, although it now looks as though prices would be from 18 to 20 cents a pound, or slightly more than last year, when 18 cents was about the top of the market. There will be no shortage, although the large surplus of supplies, which occupied so prominent a position in 1900, will likely be absent next week. Prices now are running close to 18 cents a pound, retail, and, unless an unexpectedly large demand comes to the front, inside of the next week, there is little reason to believe these prices will be increased.

The Pittsburgh market, which includes Allegheny and surrounding towns, requires about 20,000 turkeys for the Thanksgiving day trade, and these fowls will average not less than 12 pounds each in weight, making a total consumption of 240,000 pounds of turkey consumed on the day we give thanks. In addition to this, there are many consumers of chickens, ducks, geese, rabbits and roast pigs, but turkey is the most popular. Ducks and geese this year are in fair supply, rabbits are plentiful, and chickens are abundant. This week dealers in chickens have notified country shippers to refrain from making any more consignments on account of the great number already here. This will help to keep down the price of turkeys.

During the early spring, when the weather was cold and wet, it was feared that the young turkeys had suffered so severely that there would be almost a famine for the holiday season, but Ohio and West Virginia have come forward with more than was expected, and receipts in this market so far have been ample for all demands, though nearby supplies have been light. Dealers do not like to have them shipped in large quantities before the beginning of Thanksgiving week, as they shrink in weight rapidly when housed up, and for this reason how many will be here next week cannot be accurately estimated. No one seems to be expecting any unusual excitement, or that there will not be enough turkeys to go around.

It sometimes happens, however, that a sudden rush to buy will send prices forward in one day, when purchasers put off provision for their wants, until the last moment, while, on the other hand, warm weather will cause holders to let go of stock at reduced prices rather than run the risk of having it left on their hands. If it is cold early in the week there will be quantities of dressed stock brought in to the market, which will be lacking if the weather is warm.

Cranberries, the essential side dish with turkey, are about the same price as last year and are of fine quality.

NEW INDIAN POLICY.

Commission Jones to Give Them Homes and Throw Them Upon Their Own Resources.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—A policy which, it is contended, will settle the entire Indian question within a generation is announced by Commissioner of Indian Affairs William A. Jones, in his annual report made public today. His plan is to give the Indian opportunity for self-support, the same protection of his person and property as is given others, throw him upon his own resources and to enforce upon him realization of the dignity of labor and the importance of building and maintaining a home for himself.

Mr. Jones says that at the outset the Indian must have aid and instruction, and necessaries, doubtless, will have to be furnished him until his labor becomes productive. Until the Indian has become a part of the community in which he lives, day schools, the commissioner says, should be established at convenient places where the Indian may learn enough for ordinary business transactions.

The key to the whole situation, the commissioner suggests, is the home. The larger and more powerful tribes, he adds, are located in an arid region, on unproductive reservations, often a rigorous climate where there is no chance to make even a living. In these cases something should be done quickly toward placing such Indians in a position where they can support themselves.

ANDREW CARNEGIE'S TREAT.

Arranges for Special Performance of Elijah for Musical Friends.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Andrew Carnegie has arranged for a special performance of "Elijah," at which the members of the People's Choral union and the music teachers of this city are to be the millionaire's guests. The performance will be given at Carnegie hall a week from Tuesday evening, and the same noted singers who appeared in it a few days ago will participate. Lill Lehman will be the leading soprano.

This treat for the Choral union and music teachers is the result of Mr. Carnegie's inability to be present when "Elijah" was sung on Tuesday evening.

FIXED THE MINISTER.

And He Needed Looking After.

"In a minister's family in Los Angeles where I was visiting some time ago, the wife complained of serious indigestion and dyspepsia. She admitted that she used coffee and said she more than half believed that was the trouble. I told her that I knew it was the trouble, for I had gone through with the experience myself and had only been cured when I left off coffee and took up Postum Food Coffee.

"She said she had tried the Postum, both for herself and her husband, but they did not like it. With her permission, [illegible] they did not like it. With her permission, I made Postum next morning myself, and boiled it full fifteen minutes after the real boiling of the pot began. Then when it was served, it was a rich, deep brown color and had the true flavor and food value that every Postum maker knows. It is all folly to talk about trying to make Postum with one or two minutes' steeping.

"You can't get something good for nothing. It must be boiled, boiled, boiled, and to keep it from boiling over, use small lump of butter, perhaps twice the size of a pea. That morning the minister and his wife liked Postum so well that their whole lives were changed on the question of diet and they abandoned coffee at once and for all time.

"Now after a hard day's work, they are comforted, refreshed, and rested by a cup of well-made Postum for supper. They are both enthusiastic in its praise. The wife has entirely recovered from her dyspepsia. I will not go into the details of my own case, except to say that I was a desperate sufferer with dyspepsia and discovered by leaving off coffee that coffee was the cause of it. I quickly got well when I took up Postum Food Coffee. I earnestly hope many more coffee drinkers may get their eyes open." Name and address given by Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

ARBITRATION ALREADY.

Question of Jurisdiction Causes Trouble Among St. Louis Exposition Stockholders.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—A final effort was made today to adjust the dispute between the World's Fair National Commission and the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Company as to which body should have authority over foreign exhibitions, but without result, and the matter will now go to arbitration under the act of congress providing for the commission.

The board of arbitration will consist of two members of the national commission and a like number from the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Company. Should they fail to come to an agreement, a fifth arbitrator will be appointed by the secretary of the treasury.

Ex-Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska and ex-Congressman John M. Allen of Mississippi have been appointed members of the board of arbitration on behalf of the National commission. The names of the local members have not yet been made public.

Devery Appeals His Case.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Deputy Commissioner of Police William S. Devery today filed in the supreme court a notice of appeal to the appellate division from the decision of Justice O'Gorman denying the writ of prohibition to prevent Justice William Travers Jerome from holding the hearing on the charges of oppression preferred again Devery by Policeman O'Neill.

unusual overcoats

Have just received and offer for selection an entirely new line of swell new Overcoats—Chesterfield and Yoke styles, $15.00 to $35.00.

They are entirely different from the Overcoats seen in stores generally, and as such entitled to the prompt consideration of every man who wants something superior and different from what men are, as a rule, wearing.

Oxfords are practically out—Black and mixtures and color effects in which grey and brown predominate are the fashion.

Black and White materials are all in the height of favor, both for Suits and Overcoats.

The new range includes something handsome in medium weight Rain Coats—Black and White Check effect that's decidedly swell, and undeniably new—turned back cuff, vertical pockets, silk lined shoulders and sleeves—price $25.00.

The dark fancy mix Overcoats that are now being worn by New York's best dressed men are here in a splendid range—$18.50 to $25.00.

While Cloth is a very important particular in relation to the goodness of an Overcoat or Suit, it is not as much so as the Tailoring.

We believe in good Tailoring, and when you come you'll see how plainly it shows in the clothes.

You'll oftentimes see similar fabrics in different stores at very different prices.

Frequently there's a vast intrinsic difference in the materials.

There's always a big difference in the tailoring.

We stand for the better tailoring.

Wear one of the Suits that look well only as to cloth, and see how long it will look well.

Pay a little more for one that's well tailored and it will look well as long as it lasts—and last longer.

We're bound to charge you more for the better tailoring.

Our point is this, that our better cloths and better tailoring is sold for less than any other store that sells as good clothing sells it.

We don't attempt to compete with the general run of ready-made clothing stores.

They're in another class entirely.

Their clothing doesn't compete with ours.

If that sort satisfies you we have nothing to say.

But we note that men are getting more and more critical every day as to their clothing.

We are glad of it.

Our Clothing business is growing splendidly.

Lot of Men's Blue and Black and Fancy Mix Cheviot Sack Suits—best tailoring, $18.50.

Fancy Wash Vests are, as you know, very fashionable for winter wear this year.

We have just received a large, choice new line intended for spring—White Duck, P. K., Birdseye and Linen.

Brown P. K. and Brown Linen.
Neat Black and White Effects.
$1.00 to $4.00.

is parallel with the men's—first tailoring, then superior stuffs, and prices for the best that proves it pays to buy that kind, and to come here to get it.

Sack Suits for young men, 14 to 19—$10.00—cut in the latest style—broad shoulders, peg top trousers—and made splendidly.

Three-piece Suits—latest for boys 10 to 16—plain and fancy mixtures—$5.00.

Double-Breasted Coat Suits for boys 8 to 16, $3.50—knee pants.

Sailor Blouse Suits for boys 3 to 10—$3.50

—Navy, Cadet and Royal Blue Serges and Cheviots, silk embroidered shield, braid trim'd collar and shield, silk scarf.

Wool Kilt Suits for boys 2 to 3 years, $3.00—all wool Blue, Brown, Red and Green Cheviots—silk braid trim'd collar and belt—skirts full width.

boys' overcoats

The range of cloths and styles and impressive values—$5.00 to $12.00—will be well approved.

Russian, Reefer, Cape and Hood styles—2½ to 7 years.

Gray, Red, Blue, Brown and Fancy Scotch and English mixtures.

Our artists have reproduced the smart things worn at the New York Horse Show.

They are now on Display and Sale.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

From Senator Quay.

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
November 21, 1901.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

As you know, the removal of Maj. A. M. Brown, if he is removed, will be against my earnest protest and advice, and I repudiate all connection with it or responsibility for its consequences, which may be far-reaching and disastrous. M. S. QUAY.

An Example for Mr. Elkin.

"I am not in sympathy with and do not approve of the removal of Recorder Brown," is what Attorney General Elkin says of the most dasterdly political crime that has ever been committed in Pennsylvania. "I hereby resign my position as secretary of the commonwealth," is the way Matthew Stanley Quay put it in 1882, when Gov. Hoyt committed an act which in his opinion was a menace to the interests of the Republican party and the people of Pennsylvania. The attorney general is a leading member of the governor's official family. No matter how fervent his disclaimer, or how strenuous his opposition, he cannot remain in office and divorce himself from his just share of responsibility for the governor's action in so important a matter. Especially is this so in this particular case, for rumor clear and well defined has it that one of the considerations for this open sale of a public office was the delivery to Mr. Elkin, as a candidate for governor, of the votes of the Allegheny county delegates to the next Republican state convention. The attorney general cannot expect to share the spoil without also sharing the responsibility for the crime. He is credited with an ambition to be governor. The ambition is a natural and an honorable one; but he may as well realize first as last that THE PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA WILL ELECT NO MAN FOR GOVERNOR WHO BEARS THE HEAVY BURDEN OF THE PRESENT GOVERNOR'S FRIENDSHIP. IT IS ASKING TOO MUCH.

A City Without Government.

Except for the continuance in office until Monday of Andrew Fulton, director of public safety, Pittsburgh is without a city government. For this anomalous condition Gov. Stone is responsible. The recorder was summarily removed from office and his successor will not be sworn in until Monday, after the approval of his bond. As a protest against the arbitrary action of the governor in removing the man who had chosen them as his agents in the conduct of the city's business, City Solicitor W. B. Rodgers, E. M. Bigelow, director of public works, and W. W. Nisbet, director of charities, resigned their positions, leaving their places vacant. Owing to the nature of his duties as the guardian of the public peace Mr. Fulton retains the office until the new recorder takes the oath, when he, too, will step out.

This bare statement of fact is a sufficient commentary upon the governor's statement that his reason for removing Recorder Brown was for the sake of stability of tenure in the municipal offices. He discredited his professions in the very act of making them. He has brought about wholesale changes and dislocated the whole frame of municipal government, and this is just what he intended to do.

Moral Forces at Work.

Now that the moral forces of Allegheny City have put their shoulders to the wheel righteous influences should prevail mightily. Indorsement is given to The Gazette in its efforts to cleanse that city of its gambling places and speakeasies, and all good people are called on to give aid in the task. There should be quick and vigorous response. The proprietors of the dens are flagrant law-breakers. They have violated the moral code and the statutes. They are entirety outside the pale of the law's protection, and haven't a leg to stand on when hauled into a court of justice. They have no license to exist. Their annihilation is the people's business, and the people should see to it that an end is made of the whole foul brood. The job should be thorough; the broom should sweep clean; no vestige or trace should be left of the agencies of iniquity when this campaign is over. The Allegheny City authorities will be first called on, and after that let there be no delay.

The Business Situation.

The money market was the paramount subject this week. Attention was directed to it by the fact that on Tuesday $7,050,000 gold was exported, on Thursday $500,000, and until the close of the week sterling ruled so strong as to foreshadow additional exports the coming week. The question was not as to the available supply of the metal in the United States, but whether it could be conveniently spared at a time when business was expanding and our own government continuing to withdraw money from circulation through excess of revenues over expenditures. There can be little doubt that but for the action of the secretary of the treasury in redeeming bonds some stringency would now be felt in the money market. Since the gold export movement began in October, $16,000,000 has been shipped to Europe. Thus far this month the receipts of the government have exceeded the expenditures by $3,000,000, making a total of about $20,000,000 that has been withdrawn from domestic circulation through these two channels. The total amount of money in circulation, however, is probably larger now than it was a month ago. It has been increased through the purchase of about $10,000,000 government bonds, the receipts of gold from Australia and Alaska and the product of domestic mines. At no time during the week did the rate for call money rise above 6 per cent, and the decline in sterling exchange will probably obviate the necessity for gold exports the coming week.

Monetary stringency, if it occurs, will likely be confined to Wall street, and general business will not be affected unless the period of high rates should be prolonged. In that event the first effect would be liquidation in the stock market and the attraction of money from the interior to the east to take advantage of the higher rates of discount. The element of distrust, which marked the outgo of gold in previous years, is wholly absent from the present situation, however, and outside stock market circles there has been no real uneasiness over the money market outlook.

The maintenance of activity in industrial circles, and the enormous distribution of merchandise as reflected in uninterrupted gains in railroad earnings, constitute one of the most remarkable features of the general business situation. The confidence displayed by the great corporations in placing orders for betterments and supplies, and the contracts placed for structural material, which cannot be filled until the middle of next year, are significant of the general feeling as to the future. Some descriptions of iron and steel have again advanced in price this week in response to the urgency of consumers, and production and distribution are only limited by the ability of the railroads to handle the freight offered.

The revival of speculation is in response to the excellent trade conditions. In some instances security values reached the highest level of the year, which is remarkable when the events of last spring are recalled. The public is apparently being convinced against its will that the condition of business is beyond all expectations, and professional Wall street operators are exerting all their powers to stimulate the appetite for stocks. It may be a fortunate circumstance that the state of the money market will act as a check against overtrading, such as precipitated the violent collapse last May.

One Republican Gets In.

The decision of the court of appeals of Kentucky which ousts Robert J. Breckinridge from the office of attorney general and puts Clifton J. Pratt in that place is an acknowledgment from the court of last resort that the Republicans of Kentucky carried the election of 1899 and that the state officers then elected by the people were thrown out of office unjustly by the Democratic reviewing authorities. William S. Taylor was elected governor at the same time that Clifton J. Pratt was selected attorney general. He took his seat and performed the duties of his office, but was summarily unseated by the legislature, after the assassination of Goebel, and the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, Beckham, was then sworn in as governor. This unseating was an act of usurpation utterly foreign to all ideas of self-government. The Democrats in the legislature threw Gov. Taylor out of office simply because they had the votes, and in defiance of the wish of the people as expressed at the polls.

A National Need.

The need of a department of commerce becomes more apparent with the progress of discussion of the complex problem of our trade relations, present and future. A complete system of reciprocity cannot be expected to spring into being from the wisdom of one session of congress, after the fashion of Minerva from the brow of Jove. Our tariffs have fostered the growth of our industries and their protecting care has given us a surplus for export. But our home market remains the most valuable and in the establishment of reciprocal relations with other nations great care must be exercised that no vital measure of protection be abandoned. To preserve the balance advantages in prospect must be carefully weighed against the certainties of the things we would trade for them. The disagreement of the doctors is early foreshadowed in expressions from men eminent in politics and business, notably in the opinion given publicity by Andrew Carnegie on his arrival in this country against the general proposition of reciprocity, now further emphasized by his reported message to the president through Attorney General Knox. In this he is represented as taking ground against interference with prosperity by tariff revision and "against reciprocity with countries whose products are rivals of American made goods." In the midst of so much confusion of counsel, without disparagement of the usefulness of the treasury bureau of statistics, it is plain that a department of commerce would be, at the least, a valuable storehouse of information for the guidance of congress. Unquestionably it could render much aid to our foreign commerce and home industries, its activities being specialized in bureaus devoted to particular subjects. A bureau of tariff and reciprocity would be not the least important, and several others might be mentioned. But if we are to move in the direction of reciprocity, and the trend is in that direction, let us by all means have a department of commerce. It is needed now.

A Time for Caution.

The closing of a number of rural schools because of the prevalence of contagious diseases is a disagreeable but none the less timely reminder that now is the season for the exercise of caution on the part of those having schools in charge. Legislation has done much to prevent epidemics by prescribing quarantine regulations and barring from schoolrooms those who have been exposed to diseases of a contagious nature, but it is feared that frequently the law is not as strictly enforced as it should be.

In the autumn and winter the pupils are necessarily subjected to close confinement in rooms too often overheated, and the conditions favor rapid development of disease should there be attendance of any of the members of a family in whose home there is such affliction. The exercise of vigilance and the enforcement of the health laws would greatly minimize such danger, and it is hoped that the school authorities will not be remiss in their duty in this respect.

The Baltimore & Ohio of Today.

From the Baltimore American.

Though the control of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad has passed from this city to others, yet Baltimore is deeply interested in the condition of the company, and rejoices at the prosperity as shown by the annual report. These are great days for railroad business in all parts of the country, and the Baltimore & Ohio seems to be getting its full share of both the freight and passenger traffic between the east and the west. While the report submitted at the annual meeting in Baltimore shows a small decrease here and there as compared with the year before, yet as a rule the increases have been very marked, and in the past ten years the road more than doubled its tonnage. The increase for the year over the year before was more than a million and a half of tons.

The Circular Fiend Infests the New York Hotels

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.

Three hundred advertising circulars were showered upon one of the big uptown hotels yesterday. That is a common experience in horse show week. Men with something to sell, from patent harvesters to liver pills, who are in the habit of sending alluring circulars addressed personally to the recipient, and sent through the mails, keep a close eye on the arrivals at hotels. Their representatives scan the registers when they can, and when this is not allowed, seek other means of finding out who is at the hotel. It is in such a rush as that of this week that the circular man is particularly active. He does not often enjoy the opportunity to get so many wealthy and prominent people together as at horse show time, and he does his best to call the attention of all of them to the article he has for sale. It is charged that attaches of the hotels sometimes sell names to these advertisers. If they do, there is the certainty of their instant discharge if the act is discovered; but as the circular man is willing to pay high for a gilt-edged list, the employes of the hotels are tempted to take the risk. At the hotel here referred to the registers, of which there are four, are carefully guarded, and a stranger cannot get even a glimpse of any of them unless he is a bona fide guest of the house. Then he is allowed to insert his own signature under a room clerk's vigilant eye. Yet it is this very hotel whose registers are the object of attack by advertising agents, and, somehow or other, the agents generally manage to obtain the information they desire. A few reputable newspapers in different parts of the country are permitted to take a list of names from the registers, and those only of guests from the city in which each newspaper is published. A list of the Pittsburgh guests appears every day in The Gazette. The 300 circulars which got into the hotel letter-boxes were addressed to residents of every important city in the union, Pittsburghers being among the sufferers.

Carnegie Sings "Annie Laurie."

Andrew Carnegie has an especial love for the St. Andrew's society. It was one of the pleasant days of this season for him when he entertained about 400 members of the organization at his home in West Fifty-first street last night. He sang "Annie Laurie" with his guests in a clear, well-modulated voice, and today was looking back upon the evening's enjoyment with the most pleasurable feelings. I met Mr. Carnegie a year ago on the day after he had attended a dinner of the St. Andrews society, and he told me then that he had never had a pleasanter evening in his life. It is not often that Mr. Carnegie entertains so large a party in his home as he had last night, and additional significance attached to it in the fact that it was the first time since he returned from Europe a few weeks ago that he had given any formal entertainment at all. The house was ablaze with flowers and heavy with fragrance, and, of course, blossoms that are suggestive of Auld Scotia were in the ascendant.

Toiling Horses in Deep Pits.

There is perpetual entertainment for the Broadway stroller in the neighborhood of Herald square. The houses have been pulled down on the west side of Broadway from Thirty-third to Thirty-fifth streets, and there are pits 50 or 60 feet deep. Down in these pits are horses and wagons hauling away the stone that has been blasted out for weeks. How do the horses get down there? And, still more important a question, how do they get out? At first glance one thinks of derricks and engines; but a second look shows that the horses actually drag the heavily-loaded wagons out of the hole by main strength. Each wagon weighs several tons, and two horses to a wagon is the rule. A steep path running up to the street has been made, and the horses breast the hill with the wagon behind them, and go up most gallantly. There is a great deal of shouting and much cracking of whips, but the horses never fall. It is better than a circus to the watchers, and there is always a large crowd peeping through the fences at the performance, particularly in the evening, when the scene is all the more picturesque in the white glow of a dozen great arc lights.

Bowery Theater's Days Numbered.

And now they threaten to pull down the Bowery theater. This is the playhouse near Chatham square which used to be the center of fashion and fun a century ago. The Bowery theater was built and opened in October, 1826, and it is a fine-looking building even at this day. It has been devoted to the Yiddish drama for half a dozen years or so, and is called the Thalia by the management and its present habitues; but to the world at large it is still the "Bowery," and will be until it is gone, and afterward. Edwin Forrest, Charlotte Cushman, John Elisler, the elder Wallack, the Booths, and, indeed, all the great actors of the last generation have played in the house, and it was here that "Mazeppa," with Adah Isaacs Menken as the hero, first appeared to American audiences. The house is to be demolished and a modern skyscraper will go up on the site. There is no room for theaters of the size of the "Bowery" below Fourteenth street, and even the few that are left in that neighborhood exist only by appealing to a special class, with performances in a foreign tongue.

One Old Landmark to Remain.

The Grand Union hotel, opposite the Grand Central station, is likely to take a new lease of life. Pittsburghers are familiar with this hostelry on account of its being so near the terminus of the New York Central railroad. It has been bequeathed to Julia E. Ford and her brother, Samuel T. Shaw, by their deceased mother, Mrs. Julia A. Shaw. The hotel has been one of the landmarks of New York for half a century, and the news that it is to be conducted along the old lines is a matter of sentimental satisfaction to visitors to this city from all over the United States.

"The" Allen's Life Still Charmed.

"The" Allen, who has been a notorious character in New York for 60 years or so, but who has never been convicted of any misdemeanor in all that time, escaped arrest again today by a narrow margin. "The" Allen has been charged by the police scores of times with keeping a gambling house and poolroom. He has always denied it, saying, when "caught with the goods on him," as it were, that his place was only a "club." He might have been arrested today only that one of his accusers had given a false address to Magistrate Crane, who made the proclamation from the bench: "I'll give no warrant to a man who lies to me." Thus "The" escaped. The police refer to him as having "a lead pipe cinch on dumb luck." "The" responds: "You can't hurt a good man."

Actresses Serve Tea and Cakes.

A bevy of popular actresses in new bonnets and frocks, burbled, beamed and dimpled in the Astor gallery of the Waldorf-Astoria this afternoon. The harvest festival and sale for the benefit of the Free School for Crippled Children was the occasion, and there were tea and cakes for the visitors, dispensed by such charming young women as Mrs. Fiske, Miss Julia Opp, Miss Grace Freeman and others whom most of us are accustomed to see only over the footlights. Society women are taking part in the affair, which will last until tomorrow night. There was a dance tonight and other amusements, all of which cost sometsing extra individually, after the custom of charity entertainments. The object is a popular one, and even the horse show is not a potent enough counter-attraction to keep women away. There is every indication that the home will be materially enriched by the festival.

Pittsburghers Grouped in a Hotel.

A group of Pittsburghers representing great wealth and influence was at the Holland this evening. While they were not disposed to tell whether any particular object had attracted them to this particular hotel, there was considerable speculation on the part of representatives of different newspapers, and all kinds of weighty reasons for the presence of the Pittsburghers were gossiped about. But it was only gossip, for no confirmation would be given by any of the Pittsburgh visitors to the wild rumors afloat. Among the Pittsburghers were Henry C. Frick, B. F. Jones, R. B. and A. W. Mellon, Senator William Flinn and others, all of whom are more or less interested in great Pittsburgh interests.

The Horse Show Ends Today.

Only one more day of the horse show. Tomorrow night the managers of the exhibition will have a record of the number of people who have visited Madison Square Garden in the most successful horse show week New York has ever seen. Yesterday was the biggest day in point of attendance up to that time, but, judging by the way people have crowded into the Garden today, and particularly this evening, this should beat yesterday. It is commented on as remarkable that there is no falling off in the interest, so far as can be observed. In fact, there has been more horse talk tonight than on any other night of the week. So taken up has everyone been with the horse show that there was little general discussion of the wrestling match between Roeber and the Turk, Nachad, this evening, or the sparring bout between Terry McGovern and "Young Corbett" on Thanksgiving day. Until the horse show is closed tomorrow night it will be the main point of interest, and no entertainment, such as a wrestling or boxing match, could interfere with it.

Crooks Driven Upstairs.

"Wise" persons in the Bowery insist that everything is not closed up at 1 o'clock in the morning, in spite of the order of the new police captain of the precinct. Lights go out in the barrooms and drinking dens at the back on the ground floor, and everything looks decently gloomy from the street; but things are wide open upstairs for those who can be trusted by the saloonkeepers. Barkers stand outside side doors and scrutinize "regulars" who apply for admittance. If they are pronounced all right they go in, stumble up a flight of stairs in the pitch darkness, give a certain number of raps at door, and, after a countersign and response, are almost blinded by a sudden flash of light as the door is flung open. They are dragged in quickly and the door is closed. In the room there are all the crooks and other shady characters that used to disport themselves downstairs, and intoxicating liquors are on sale by the gallon. "Suicide hall" and similar places are not to be closed entirely by one order from a police captain, and lively times are looked for on the Bowery.

Housing Lipton's Yacht for Winter.

Shamrock II., the yacht that did not lift the cup, is in the hands of workmen, who are getting her ashore to be beached and covered until the opening of the next yachting season. The boat will be hauled up at the Erie basin tomorrow, all preparations having been finished tonight. She will be a busy yacht next year, it is understood, although Sir Thomas Lipton has not made known in detail his plans with regard to her.

EUROPEAN GOSSIP.

A Norwegian Peasant Who Is an Intimate Friend of the German Kaiser. Saved His Life from a Bear—Ibsen and the Intruder.

BY THE DUCHESS DE BELIMERE.

Few people are so highly honored as an old peasant named Kristian Hjertoy, who occupies a little thatched cottage in Molde, Norway. Several days ago he celebrated his eightieth birthday, and on the only table which his home boasts, proudly displayed to admiring neighbors, a new music box in Louis XV. style. Attached to the silver handle was a Bristol card bearing the words: "To Kristian Hjertoy from his friend, the kaiser." Five years ago the old chap rendered a valuable service to William II., while the latter was hunting in northern waters, and thus this friendship. His majesty, bent on getting a splendid seal which the royal party had been after for nearly a week, had, in some way separated from his companions. He was cautiously clambering over ice cakes, endeavoring to get within shooting range of the animal, and did not notice that a large object was quite as carefully following him. This was a bhabel," one of the most ferocious bears in Norway. Fortunately old Hjertoy was busily repairing his boats near by and saw the hunter's danger. Quickly throwing off his wooden shoes he crept along in the procession's wake. The bear was rapidly gaining on its imperial prey when the peasant interfered. Two minutes later bruin was stretched at his feet, but not, however, before he had badly torn the man's arm. The kaiser's gratitude at this narrow escape may be imagined. Hjertoy could have had a fortune, a permanent position in the Berlin household, or anything he might have dreamed of. But to all these handsome offers he remained deaf. "No, no, your majesty," was his reply. "I must finish my days where I have passed the three score and ten. Old Hjertoy could never be happy under anything but his old thatched roof." The only favor he had to ask when Emperor William pressed the matter, was a small contribution for his Seamen's Orphanage fund of his little village, which needless to say, his majesty complied with most readily.

Granted a Rare Privilege.

Aside from receiving birthday gifts from such an august donor Kristian Hjertoy enjoys a unique privilege. He is the only person outside the royal pale permitted to "tutoyer" (familiar use in foreign tongues of "thee" and "thou") William II. The latter never makes his Scandinavian tour but he invariably passes by Molde and looks up his rescuer, when the same stereotyped dialogue takes place each year. It always begins by kaiser's "Good day, Kristian, how are you?" To which the other never fails to answer, "Good day, William, I am very well, thank you, and thou?" The ice broken in this way, the two chat together on hunting, fishing and farming, until the peasant removes the green baize cover from his hurdy-gurdy, the only one, by the way, in all that district, and plays some pieces. As William II. has two musical ears to listen to this concert any longer than he can help, he usually interrupts him before the second selection is finished, and, slipping into the old man's hand a few crowns, takes his departure. It is said to spare royalty's nerves on future visits that the kaiser had this year made him the present of a handsome music box.

The Lovejoy Monument.

From the Chicago Inter Ocean.

The Lovejoy monument at Alton, erected by the state of Illinois, is to have two new inscriptions, selected by Col. J. S. Culver of Springfield, the builder of the memorial, whose offer to add them at his own expense has been accepted by the monument association. One of the inscriptions will be in prose and the other in verse, and they will be placed upon the exedra wall of the tripod pedestal. The first is taken from the address delivered at the dedication of the monument, and is as follows: "Here in historic old Alton—Alton that slew him and Alton that defended him—Alton, whose people today, with one heart and one mind, pluck from oblivion this wreath of immortality and place it around the memory of Lovejoy. Lovejoy and Alton! Names as inseparable and as dear to the people of Illinois as those of Lincoln and Springfield, Grant and Galena." The second is taken from one of the poems of Thomas Davis, and reads:

Whether on the scaffold high,
Or in the battle's van,
The fittest place for man to die
Is where he dies for man.

PERSONAL.

"The saw manufacturers of the United States have been obliged to go to the remote corners of the country to find a market for their products," said H. C. Colburn of the firm of Henry C. Disston & Sons of Philadelphia. Mr. Colburn was on a westbound Baltimore & Ohio train en route for Oregon on a business trip. He said that this search for a market is due to the obliteration of all the woodland in the east, saws being now so much needed as formerly. The type of saws used and manufactured most largely today differs entirely from that used a few years ago. After the circular saw supplanted the old up-and-down style of saw, another change in demand came, and now manufacturers are bending their best efforts toward producing very fine scroll saws, which are capable of doing remarkably delicate cutting.

This was the second meeting of the committee this year, another having been held in Harrisburg in September. The committee met last night to make plans and arrange a program for the 47th annual meeting of the state association, which will be held in Pittsburgh in July, 1902. "It takes a lot of work to arrange for one of these meetings," said President Flickinger, "and we have to begin early. We expect men of national repute to be speakers at the July meeting. At the meeting in Philadelphia last year 2,000 members of the association registered. We expect that number or more than this number will attend the Pittsburgh convention." In addition to arranging some of the details of the program the committee appointed sub-committees on enrollment, entertainment and press duties.

Passengers passing through Pittsburgh yesterday over the Pennsylvania railroad experienced exasperating delays. This was true of both east and westbound passengers on the Pennsylvania lines. Passengers over the Panhandle suffered the same inconvenience. This was due to a demoralization of the automatic switch system, caused by the moving of a tower from Seventeenth street to Twenty-third street.

It was a necessary change on the part of the Pennsylvania management, and the delay could not be safely avoided, as all the switches had to be thrown by hand. No train could go ahead with the assurance of a clear track, as when the automatic system is working perfectly. Most of the incoming trains arrived on time, but were held up in the Lawrenceville yards. The eastbound trains were all delayed at least an hour. The first section of No. 4, bound for Washington and Baltimore, was delayed an hour, and the second section was nearly two hours late in getting started.

Dr. J. R. Flickinger, superintendent of the Central Normal school at Lock Haven, Pa., Prof. C. A. Babcock of Oil City, and other members of the executive board of the Pennsylvania State Educational association were at the Seventh Avenue hotel last night. A meeting of the executive committee was held jointly with the local committee of the state association. The local committee is composed of Prof. Samuel Andrews, superintendent of city schools; Prof. John Morrow, superintendent of Allegheny schools, and County Superintendent Samuel Hamilton.

---

S. Hattori of Tokyo, Japan, is in Pittsburgh in the interest of the Imperial university of Japan. He is a professor in the department of technology in that university, and has come to America to study the construction of bridges and other large structures. Yesterday he visited the Union station and the adjacent tracks and yards. Today he will make a tour of the great Westinghouse plants at East Pittsburgh and Wilmerding. He is registered at the Victoria.

---

Officers of the Mu Sigma Nu fraternity held an initiation of new members at the Victoria hotel last evening. A number of medical students of the Western University of Pennsylvania were admitted to the mysteries of the fraternity.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Among the persons from nearby towns and cities who registered at Pittsburgh hotels yesterday were the following:

Lincoln—James I. Moorhead, Greensburg, Pa.; J. S. Ermentrout, Reading, Pa.

Duquesne—I. L. Brownfield, New Haven, Pa.; J. V. Adams, Wheeling, W. Va.

Henry—William H. Fisher, Brownsville, Pa.; J. W. Emery, Washington, Pa.; A. J. Wells, Akron, O.

Griswold—H. G. Forsythe, Fayette City, Pa.; R. Gartner, Fairmont, W. Va.; J. E. Barnes, Uniontown, Pa.; John S. Eaton, Waynesburg, Pa.

Monongahela—E. E. Sault, Greenville, Pa.; Robert J. Wentz, Nazareth, Pa.; J. R. Patterson, Union City, Pa.; W. R. Leonard, Youngstown, O.; S. F. Hopwood, Uniontown, Pa.; H. L. Swisher, Morgantown, W. Va.

Seventh Avenue—M. J. Kennedy, Scottdale, Pa.; S. F. Spangler, Tarentum, Pa.; F. R. Parker, Scottdale, Pa.; M. L. Williams, Johnstown, Pa.; James D. Johnston, Erie, Pa.

Count von Haitzfeldt.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Count von Haitzfeldt, late German ambassador at Lincoln, died at the embassy this morning. Count von Haitzfeldt was born in 1831. His mother was the Countess Sophie von Haitzfeldt, the patroness and companion of Ferdinand le Salle, the philosopher and Social Democrat. In 1862 Count Haitzfeldt went to Paris with Prince Bismarck as one of his secretaries.

Joseph W. Britton.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 22.—Joseph W. Britton, one of Cleveland's best known manufacturers, died today at his home in this city, aged 72 years. The cause of death was paralysis. Mr. Britton had been engaged in the building of railroads, a partner in iron mills, and was a large holder of gold mine property in Bellevue, Ont. He leaves a widow, five sons and three daughters.

George A. Montgomery.

George A. Montgomery, for many years employed as a window washer at the Courthouse, died yesterday morning at his home, No. 2 Berlin street. He formerly lived in Sewickley, and controlled the colored element of that borough at elections. He was 53 years of age, and is survived by his wife and five children.

Obituary Notes.

Senor Gamazo, former Spanish minister of finance, is dead at Madrid.

Charles W. Otto, president of the Germantown National bank, died yesterday at his home in Philadelphia.

John Rose, a well-known fireman, is dead at his home, No. 1257 Ridge avenue, Allegheny. He had been employed in the fire department for the past 17 years, and was recently connected with No. 27 engine company.

Father Was With Washington.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

The official board of the Methodist church of Stroudsburg, Pa., has just completed arrangements making it possible for the three only living daughters of a revolutionary soldier to spend the remainder of their days together. Mrs. Catherine Bowden, aged 90, one of the church's oldest members, has been removed to Matamoras, Pike county, to join her sisters, Mrs. Grinsford, aged 96, and Mrs. Valentine, aged 85. Their father crossed the Delaware with Gen. Washington, and wintered at Valley Forge.

WHAT THE EDITORS ARE DISCUSSING.

THE STATE PRESS.

Architects and builders claim that the new Frick office building in Pittsburgh is the handsomest and most complete structure of its kind in the world.—Crawford Journal.

There is every reason to expect the greatest holiday trade ever done here. Nearly everybody is employed now and has been for some time. Times are good and money is plentiful.—Elizabeth Herald.

The worst thing that has yet been said about President Roosevelt's forthcoming message is that it will fill 15 or 18 columns of our newspapers. But we won't believe it until we see it.—Oil City Derrick.

There is no good reason for tinkering with the tariff. The rule to "let well enough alone" should be applied in this case, and that appears to be the verdict of the Republican leaders.—Venango Citizen Press.

Merit and not political pull appears to be the winning card to secure office under the present administration. President Roosevelt has turned down several recommendations made by representatives and senators, on the ground that parties favored were not up to the mark.—Meyersdale Commercial.

If violet leaves are a specific for cancer and ripe watermelon is a sure cure for dysentery, as Mark Twain avers with an appearance of seriousness that is almost convincing, the science of medicine will have to change its gait to catch up with the lore of old women and Zulu witch doctors.—Philadelphia North American.

William Allen, colored, who was to have been hung at Uniontown today, has been respited until December 12. Prolonging that man's life is a mistake, he should have been hung long ago. The fact is, hanging is too easy a way off the face of the earth for such a vile wretch.—Brownsville Clipper.

Ex-Gov. Pattison is authority for the statement that one consequence of the recent fusion between Democrats and Insurgents is that the Democrats have lost their status, as the minority party and the column hitherto given them will belong to the Union party at the spring or municipal election. This is hard on the Democrats and a just reprimand for not attending to their own affairs.—Warren Mail.

"The Geary law, or what is more commonly called the Chinese exclusion law, will expire on the fifth day of May next and there is a popular demand for its re-enactment by congress. This country cannot afford to permit such a body blow to be delivered to the present prosperity of America's working classes as would be delivered upon the failure to re-enact this law. We have been getting along very well without the coolies of China and the doors should be kept closed against them.—Somerset Standard.

If the public prefers investigating money in a lighting plant of its own to paying a private corporation for light, councilmen have no business to interfere or try to block the arrangement. It is a matter that should be decided by the people who foot the bill. Councils will be abusing a privilege if they deny the people of the city of McKeesport an opportunity to say whether or not they desire the city to furnish its own light. Councilmen are servants of the public, not masters.—McKeesport Times.

George W. McMurray, the murderer of James Rudge, has had his death sentence commuted to one of life imprisonment. The murder was a most deliberate one and the motive was to be found in the fact that Rudge, a pit boss, had discharged McMurray. The only plea of the murderer was that he had committed the deed while intoxicated. He was convicted and sentenced to die. He owes his life to the fact that his father struck oil. Perhaps that does not sound well, but it is none the less true.—McKeesport Herald.

PICKED UP HERE AND THERE.

Kittanning is old enough and rich enough to have a town clock.—Kittanning Times.

If you expect to use the service furnished by the weather man, you should take hold of that government official by the contrary end. He predicted last week for rain-weather, but out of the seven days he failed to show up any sunshine.—Moundsville Echo.

The apple crop of Bedford county was fair and a considerable quantity of the crop was compressed into cider. We presume that the Democratic people in that "neck-o'-the-woods" will drown their sorrow in quaffs of the prime distillation of the apple when they talk about "how near we came to elect."—Windsor Era.

Emery Mutnch and his snow plow were missed on Friday morning, and the children had to wade to school over walks in many places deep with drifted snow. The borough authorities have never spent any money to the greater satisfaction of the taxpayers than that for cleaning the walks of snow, and the good work should be continued.—Conneautville Courier.

According to the predictions of the Bethlehem hornets the coming winter will be an open one. But whoever heard of the hornet outside of Bethlehem as a weather prophet? The old reliable goosebone has declared directly to the contrary, and the industrious little chipmunk has indorsed the goosebone. What further does a man want to know that his gas bills will be high next winter?—Oil City Derrick.

The Kansas City Journal tells of a physician in Russell, Kan., who complained to the editor of the local paper that the doctor's name was not mentioned in announcements of births. "I'll insert it hereafter on one condition," replied the editor. "What's that?" asked the physician. "That I shall also mention your name in connection with the deaths." The physician thought the matter over, and concluded that he didn't care to have his name printed in connection with births anyway.

The other day when Wood Dickey and Robert Bleakney of Apollo office of the Conemaugh Gas Company were walking along the pipe line and when near Avonmore they saw snakes—real, live copperheads. The gentlemen undertook to diminish the snake census for next year and when completing their work they had 20 coppers as a reward for their labor. No affidavits accompany this report, neither do we know of their condition before or after the ordeal, but we believe them to be truthful gentlemen.—Saltsburg Press.

The man who aims to attain a "ripe old age" never hurries or worries. He leaves his cares in the shop, the office or the field, when his day's work is done and goes home to rest. At night he sleeps soundly. He laughs at petty annoyances and neither borrows nor lends trouble. He is not an extremist in any sense. He is optimistic and avoids the ways of the churl. He does not indulge in anything that he finds is to his injury. He avoids over-work and over-indulgence in any bad habit. He is a conservative person.—Bradford Era.

A New Principle of Law.

From the Philadelphia North American.

The last legislature of Pennsylvania did many remarkable things, but its most notable achievement was the construction of a statute proclaiming an absolutely new principle of law, viz.: That the dead may inherit from the dead. Heretofore the dead could retain control of property only by dictating to the living as to its disposition, but it is now lawful in Pennsylvania for the defunct to take their earthly possessions along and lay up treasures in the next world. Pockets in shrouds should be the correct thing.

THE REMOVAL OF BROWN.

Philadelphia Papers Speak of It in Terms of Condemnation.

From the Philadelphia Press.

Unless Senator Quay and Attorney General Elkin, as well as others influential in the machine management in Pennsylvania, are playing a game of pretense with the public—and in the case of Senator Quay at least there is no reason to suppose this—this movement means a machine disruption that will have an influence on the politics of the state, the full extent of which, at this early day, can be but little appreciated. Senator Quay indicates in an exceedingly pointed telegram that it amounts to the political parting of himself and Gov. Stone.

The governor takes occasion to give what he deems public reasons for his action. They serve only to gloss over what is well known to be a mere political intrigue. Whatever position Gov. Stone may publicly assume his real purpose throughout the Pittsburgh ripper business has been too thoroughly uncovered to be hidden behind words and phrases at this late day. He has more than once declared that the Flinn machine was the most perfect and effective thing of its kind in existence. He has need of it, and he could get it in no other way than that now adopted.

The deposed recorder would have answered the purposes very well if he had not fallen under the influence of those who were determined to wipe Senator Flinn off the political map and shown his intention to aid them by sweeping removals of Flinn's friends from the municipal offices they held. In doing that he was disarranging the governor's deals, and it was necessary that he be removed or the deals would prove futile. The stroke is a bold one, but in no other way could Gov. Stone expect to play any hand in the politics of the future. He allies himself with Flinn and must depend upon the strength which that managing politician can give him in what will be a desperate battle with the Quay-Bigelow-Oliver forces in Allegheny county.

What the effect of this movement will be upon the gubernatorial fortunes

DOINGS IN SOCIETY AND GOSSIP OF THE HOME

SATURDAY, November 23.

"There was never yet fair woman, but she made mouths in a glass."—Shakespeare.

THE college girls entertained yesterday afternoon and the result was one of the most delightful luncheons given thus far this season. The hostesses were the juniors of the Pennsylvania College for Women, who entertained in honor of the seniors of this year. The luncheon hour was 2:30 o'clock, after the studies for the day were concluded, and covers were laid for 28. The young girls present included only those who are members of the two upper classes, the honorary members of the two classes, and Dr. Chalmers Martin, the president of the college and his wife.

The table was decorated in gold and green, the colors of the senior class, large ferns and huge yellow chrysanthemums processing the required colors. The flowers formed a large centerpiece, there were numerous candles with dainty yellow shades, standing in tall candelabra, while cards and bonbons, completed the pretty ensemble. The name cards were exquisitely painted water colors, representing the college girls, in cap and gown, further embellished with the class colors.

The juniors of the college, who entertained yesterday were Miss Ruth Johnston, Miss Harriet Buss, Miss Sarah Persell, president of the class; Miss Mary Willson, Miss Eleanor Fitzgibbon, Miss Annie Petty, Miss Hilda Sadler, Miss Jennie McSherry, Miss Anna Hunter, with Miss Jane B. Clark, the honorary member of the class.

The seniors were Miss Mary McKinny, Miss Helen Sherrard, Miss Anne Houston, Miss Anna Montgomery, Miss Helen Dickey, Miss Clara Littell, Miss Edith Stanton, president of the class; Miss Grace Kingsley, Miss Mary Blair, Miss Marie Shrom, Miss Margaret McClelland, Miss Elsie Van Wagener, Miss Elsie Fraun and Miss Caroline M. Galt, the honorary member of the senior class. The list of guests were completed by the presence of Dr. and Mrs. Martin.

Celebrating the Centennial.

The concert work of the Mozart club's twenty-fourth season begins at Carnegie music hall next Tuesday evening, when the club will be heard in concert for the one-hundredth time. Few choral societies have attained such a record in point of existence, and it is gratifying to note that the club, instead of declining in this age is in much better condition that it has ever been. The list of associate members and patrons is much larger this year than hitherto, and for the first time in a number of years the society is entirely free from debt. The chorus this year has no vacancies, and already there is a good-sized waiting list.

The program for the centennial concert on Tuesday evening is one that will not fail to interest every music lover. The first work is Mendelssohn's "Walpurgis Night," and the second, in direct contrast, is Rossini's "Stabat Mater." The former has been heard in Pittsburgh but once, and that several years since. The "Stabat Mater" is so popular that the repeated performances are always welcome. The Pittsburgh orchestra will play the accompaniments and the solo parts are in the hands of an excellent quartet. The soprano is Mrs. Marie Knabe Zimmerman of Philadelphia and the contralto is Miss Isabelle Bouton of New York, who makes their first appearance in Pittsburgh at this time. The tenor and bass are George Hamlin and Charles W. Clark of Chicago.

Luncheon for the Debutantes.

Mrs. Albert A. Horne gave a handsome luncheon yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock for her debutante daughter, Miss Helen Horne. As the family has only recently been in mourning and Mrs. Horne is not yet entertaining formally, the luncheon was one of the delightful informal affairs, having for its object the pleasure of the debutantes of this season. Luncheon was served at several tables, the decorations being in pink and white, pink rosebuds being the flowers, while the name cards were daintily hand-painted.

Among the guests, many of whom were formerly school girls at Pelham manor, where Miss Helen Horne was educated, and included the debutantes of this season and last, were Miss Helen Earl, Miss Marguerite Johnson, Miss Eleanor DuPuy, Miss Amy DuPuy, Miss Laura Boughton of Corning, N. Y.; Miss Edna Johnson, Miss Ayres of Philadelphia; Miss Rosamond Kinney, Miss Dorothy Smith of New Bedford; Miss Emma Rumbird, Miss Kate Wells of Chicago; Miss Florence Latshaw, Miss Mary Johnson of Muncie, Ind.; Miss Marjorie Maxwell, Miss Julia McKelvy, Miss Mary Peebles, Miss Mary Evans, Miss Romaine LeMoyne, Miss Clark, Miss Elizabeth Buggley, Miss Ada McCrea, Miss Jeannett Hawkins, Miss Virginia Johnston, Miss Margaretta Wood, Miss Elizabeth Utley, Miss Ruth Kirtland, Miss Sallie Speer, Dunbar, Miss Isabel Pontefract.

Off to the Orient.

A party of Greensburg people sail next February, for a three-months trip to the Orient. The party will go on the Celtic, and visit points of interest in Europe, en route to the Holy land. The trip will be conducted under the direction of the Rev. E. S. Wallace, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Greensburg, to whom the different points of interest are familiar ground. The Rev. Mr. Wallace a few years ago served a term as United States consul to Jerusalem, and during his sojourn, the Orient made extensive trips to all parts of Palestine and the countries surrounding the Mediterranean. The party will sail from New York on February 8, to be gone three months. The travelers will be the Rev. S. B. Morse, D. D., pastor of the Second Reformed church; the Rev. A. L. Yount, D. D., pastor of the First Lutheran church; Paul H. Gaither, Mrs. Lewis Trauger, Miss Madge Welty, Miss Catherine Lotz and others. Dr. Morse and Dr. Yount are sent on this pleasure trip by their respective churches, which, in addition to their salary, give them a purse of $850 each for their expenses.

A Thanksgiving Sale.

The Young Woman's Aid society of the Third Presbyterian church, Fifth and South Negley avenues, will conduct a Thanksgiving sale of home-made pies, cakes and candy on Wednesday afternoon, November 27, from 2 to 5 o'clock. The committee in charge consists of Miss Sara Bishop Moore, chairman; Mrs. Robert L. Townley, Mrs. Thomas H. Hartley and Miss Emma B. Sugden. The proceeds are to be used for the charitable work carried on by the society, of which Miss Elizabeth L. Dickey is the president. This society, besides working for the hospitals and institutions in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, pays scholarships to schools in the West and South, sends boxes to the needy and this winter a room in the Presbyterian hospital is to be furnished and maintained.

Hanst-Diehl.

Miss May Hanst, cashier of the Prudential Insurance Company in Altoona, and E. M. Diehl of Danville were married at Lewiston yesterday morning. A touch of the romantic is attached to the case, in that the young woman's family were opposed to the marriage on account of the difference of 25 years in the ages of the bride and groom, he being 58 and she about 23. She therefore ran away from Altoona last evening to wed the man of her choice.

Entertaining in Greensburg.

Hon. and Mrs. E. E. Robbins last evening entertained about 60 of their friends at euchre, at their home in Greensburg. Guests were present from Pittsburg, Irwin, Jeannette, Latrobe, Uniontown and other places. The house was artistically decorated for the occasion and the entertainment was one of the most elegantly appointed affairs ever given in that city.

Col. L. B. Huff and wife on Wednesday evening entertained a number of the colonel's gentlemen friends at dinner. Guests were present from Pittsburg, Derry and Greensburg.

Galley-Crouch.

The marriage of Clarence Crouch and Miss Vada Galley, both of New Castle, has just been announced, it having taken place in Youngstown. The wedding was somewhat in the nature of an elopement, as the parents of the bride did not know of the event until yesterday. The bride has been visiting in Avalon for the past six weeks, from where she went to Youngstown to be married. She did not stop in New Castle after that event, but returned to Avalon, where she now is. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Galley of Grant and Highland avenues, New Castle, and the groom is a member of the firm of Crouch Bros. & Beatty of that city.

NOTES OF SOCIETY.

Miss Thurston issues invitations for a reading by Samuel Harden Church from his new poem, "Sewoswolf," next Tuesday.

Mrs. D. N. Rankin and her daughter, Mrs. H. A. Plumer of Shields, will leave early next month for Europe, where they will travel for some time.

Mrs. Richard E. Chislett gave an afternoon reception and tea yesterday to present her young daughter, Miss Margaret K. Chislett, to her friends.

Miss Mary Alice Riter gave a large card party last evening at her home in Ellsworth avenue, in honor of her house guests, Miss Clara Harrington of Minneapolis, and Miss Whitaker of Wheeling.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nimick Frew will give a cotillion on Christmas evening for their daughters, Miss Marguerite Frew and Miss Virginia Frew, and the girls and boys home from school for the holidays.

A sale of Thanksgiving delicacies will be conducted in the rooms of the Business Women's club, Arch street, Allegheny, next Wednesday, November 27, the proceeds to be used for the benefit of the Woods Run industrial home.

Mr. and Mrs. August Blockinger of the South Side have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Loella Blockinger, and Albert W. Smith of Aspinwall. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents on Thanksgiving evening, November 28.

Annual donation day was observed yesterday at the South Side hospital, and during the afternoon and evening enjoyable musical programs added to the pleasure of all who visited the institution. Generous donations of money, provisions and articles for use in the hospital were made.

The Ami Vive club of Wilkinsburg will give the third of its series of winter dances in Penn Hall on Friday evening, November 29. The committee in charge of arrangements includes J. C. Hill, G. V. Kappel, H. H. Henning, W. M. Elberty, W. B. Patterson and R. K. McQuiston.

Current Modes.

Green has held high favor with smart women ever since the autumn days set in and although it has been used to the limit of monotony, there are no signs as yet of diminution. The clear hunter's green, which was always beloved by women of fair skin, is used for every possible wear, instead of being confined to street and toilet gowns, as was at first intended. A handsome afternoon toilet of green suitable for visiting, the matinee or the street, came home from a famous New York modiste the other day to a Pittsburgh woman. It is of soft satin-finished cloth, in dark green, the plain, untrimmed skirt and with long postillion tails to the coat. This coat, which had six cut steel buttons in front, like the old directoire fashion, opened in two big lapels faced with black and white striped velvet, the stripes so close as to look like corduroy. A vest of white cloth is piped with black and a white satin stock is to be worn with it. It is a stately affair, well calculated to add dignity to a dark-eyed, clear skinned woman of goodly height, such as she who owns it.

Stitched bands of silk are a favorite garniture for semi-evening frocks. One I saw yesterday was of rose pink voile over silk, and was adorned in every conceivable place with alternate strips of ecru lace and stitched bands of the silk, matching the voile in color. The bodice fluffed directoire tie of ecrue lace fastened by a gold butterfly was prepared, to be worn when the hair low neck would be unsuitable.

House gowns of deep red, either without contrast or in combination with cream colors, are dainty and new. The shade in favor is a sort of dull tomato red, a combination of scarlet and crimson which is becoming to dark eyes and not ugly for blue ones.

Pretty petticoats are made from fine white alpaca. Sometimes they are trimmed with bunches of lace, sometimes with bands of narrow velvet ribbon.

Small buttons of gun metal are seen on some of the smartest flannel waists.

Silver tissue under the adorning lace of a fancy bodice or frock gives a peculiar air of richness to the gown.

Shaggy felts and rough beavers are the foundations for most of the smart hats, especially for girls and unmarried women.

The Medici collar appears to be struggling for revival, appearing on many of the new evening wraps and fur garments.

Long scarfs of crepe de chine, bordered with marabout feathers all around, are popular for evening wear. Pittsburgh girls will wear them as evening hoods, called loosely, such in Paris and London letters tell that they are worn around the throat, above the wrap.

A lovely new shade of blue, known as sapphire, is predicted for after-holiday favor.

Turban of Bronze Velvet for Afternoon Wear--A Cluster of Salmon Pink Satin Under Brim Gives Chic and Distinction.

Home Hints.

Meat may be kept fresh for a week or two, says a country housekeeper, by putting it into sour milk or buttermilk and placing it in a cool cellar. A thorough washing with salt water after the immersion and before use will remove all trace of the acid.

Bath powder may be made from a spoonful of oatmeal, cornmeal or almond meal and a few of the unused bits of soap always found where there is a large family. The bags may be nine inches square, of Turkish toweling, and may be used as a cloth or sponge, the filling being renewed as often as necessary.

A lump of camphor in the clothespress will keep steel ornaments from tarnishing.

The proper temperature for the living room for adults is from 68 to 70 degrees. Invalids and aged persons require more heat. Children should never be kept in a temperature above 70 degrees.

Two pounds of potatoes contain as much nuriment as 13 pounds of turnips.

Larding is simply drawing strips of salt pork or bacon through the surface of meat. It is done with a larding needle and is a necessary adjunct to the flavor of game and fowl.

Crown Roast of Lamb.

Cut the same number of ribs from both sides of a rack of mutton, selecting ribs on one side that correspond to those on the other. Cut the ribs at the backbone, but separate the chops no farther. Trim the bones as for French chops, removing the skin and all superfluous fat. Sew the two pieces together at the ends, turning the bones out and the skin side in. If necessary, trim the rib bones to make all the same length. Cover the ends of the bones securely with strips of salt pork. Rub with salt, or dip the salt when partly cooked. Set in a hot oven 10 or 15 minutes, then reduce the heat, and if necessary to keep the dripping from burning add hot water. Baste with the dripping and cook from 45 to 60 minutes, basting often.

Housekeeper's Notebook.

If a fish seems hard to scale immerse it for a moment in boiling water and then plunge into cold. The scales will come off almost without scraping.

A pork tenderloin treated in the same way as a chicken fricassee, with dumplings, makes a toothsome novelty in most homes.

The least bit of a piece of cheese may be saved from the usual waste by grinding it as soon as it begins to harden. Put in a covered jar; it is then ready for all impromptu cheese dishes.

A canton flannel cover for the broom when sweeping a floor covered with matting will clean it far better than the unprotected bristles, and will likewise save the matting.

The white of an egg rubbed immediately over a burned surface excludes the air and eases the pain almost magically.

A pair of kitchen scissors used for clipping cloth, cutting bread for stuffing and dicing chicken for salad will save many a half hour and much strength.

Olive oil should always be purchased from a reliable pharmacy and poured into pint cans, which may be preserved in the ice box or cool cellar, where it is both dark and cool.

HELD UP BY FOG.

Greenwood Was Detained by Heavy Mist—Poultry Coming In.

The steamer Greenwood was detained by fog and did not arrive in port until last night. She should have been here early yesterday morning. The boat brought considerable poultry. She will depart early this morning. Next week the incoming steamers will bring much poultry for the Thanksgiving trade.

There is said to be considerable snow in the mountain regions and as yesterday was the first clear day for a week, the snow was expected to melt. This ought to keep the streams from falling very far. The present indications are not favorable for a shipping stage of water by Thanksgiving, and some of the old mariners now aver that there will not be a rise until December.

Stricken With Paralysis.

LANSING, MICH., Nov. 22.—Robert C. Kedzie, professor of chemistry at the Michigan agricultural college since 1883 and formerly president of the American Health association, was stricken with paralysis while addressing a class at the college this morning.

High Class Mirth and Music.

Boggs & Buhl's Employes' Relief association has been specially fortunate in arranging for the concert in behalf of the association's fund at Allegheny Carnegie hall, Tuesday evening, November 26. The entire program will be presented by the Allegheny Concert Company, an organization which, though comparatively new, includes a personnel of established ability and such varied talent as insures a brilliant performance, pleasing to all tastes.

Miss Alice E. Snider, contralto; Mrs. Clarinda Longdon, soprano; James Ball, baritone; M. Bert Howard, saxophone soloist; Herr Ernest Jores, concert organist; Henry Stevenson, humorist, and the Melvin string quartet, E. C. Melvin, M. H. Eberle, Dr. R. H. Sykes and F. O. Houser, with Mr. Melvin as violin soloist.

This exceptional array of artists, practically their initial appearance as a grand concert company, is full warrant for the great interest in the occasion already manifested. Tickets and seats on sale at the pattern counter at Boggs & Buhl's.

The Cut-out Art Supplement which is issued with the Sunday Edition of The Pittsburgh Gazette is the most beautiful ever issued in this city.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Was given a new point yesterday to take notes about some of the new fancies in photograph frames shown for the holiday trade. A pretty novelty ordered especially from a local dealer is an oval of wood, sharply slanted at the edge and this slant silvered. The photograph, a platinatype, was cut oval and glued on top of the wood, showing a pretty silvered bevel all around. Another which will recall memories of Canadian days, is made of birch bark, cut long and narrow and intended as a mount for three summer photographs taken by an amateur. The edges of the bark are notched and in one corner is sketched a little Indian head, slightly colored with ochre and crimson. The pretty frames of inlaid wood, made by the Indians in Washington and sent here two years ago, are on hand again to offset a scarcity last winter, and bid fair to prove very popular for photographs of shirt waist or sailor hat girls.

Frame and Picture—

Must be in harmony nowadays for the careful owner. Time was when any sort of a frame suited any sort of a picture, but the fad for carrying out the idea of the picture to its frame has grown now beyond the fun pictures of little pigs framed by rough wood resembling a pen to the photograph world. A clever girl has made some pictures for college friends this year, and each one typifies in a manner the inclosed likeness. A miniature oar cut from bristol board and colored is glued to a broad oak frame for the picture of a Pennsylvania boy, and another of dull orange linen has a black tiger's head etched in one corner and a group of three dashing footballs fashioned out of an old black kid glove tied at the bottom. The idea admits of limitless variations for clever fingers.

For Baby's Picture—

It is a good plan to paint a mat of white cardboard and frame the whole with narrow silver or gilt. A pretty frame completed for a Christmas gift is designed to hold four portraits of the baby taken at different ages. The mat has sprays of rosebuds trailing around the oval openings and a narrow line of silver forms the outer frame.

Linen Trays—

Are recommended by an original worker as a dainty remembrance. The linen pieces are stamped and worked, then inclosed in tray frames consisting of heavy plate grass, bound around the edges with leather or with silver or gilt framework. They may be used for a small teaset or for flower holders.

A Bride's Book—

Just completed after the first year of marriage is of white kid with smooth thick pages. On the first page of these is a photograph of the church where the ceremony was performed, showing the guest-carriages grouped about the corner and a few stragglers looking in. A few grains of rice, a pressed orange blossom and a tiny doll's show, which a waggish brother threw after the party are around the photograph. Various pictures, menu cards and railroad tickets from the wedding tour follow in close succession, and then a picture of the homecoming, with the new home ready. A photograph of the array of wedding gifts, some of the mementoes of the little entertainments given by friends for the couple, and various reminiscences of the first year of housekeeping fill the book with an interest which will not flag as long as the bride has eyes to see.

For Bedroom Windows—

Curtains of lawn or dimity or chintz in delicate colors are just now favored above the lace draperies which so long held first favor. Sometimes the lace is placed close against the window pane, and the tinted stuff draped at the sides, always with charming effect of daintiness and airiness.

"OLD SOL" WILL DECIDE.

Golf Doings of Today Will Be Largely Determined by Weather Conditions.

The amount of golf today depends upon the weather man. There are but few scheduled events, but with inviting conditions of sky and atmosphere there will be plenty of play on the different courses in the way of the popular golf ball sweepstakes. The Pittsburgh Golf club has the fullest bill planned for the Schenley course, with two events. One is putting contest on the clock green for women members, the one holding a certain number of balls in the least number of strokes winning. Mrs. H. G. Brown won the last contest with the remarkable record of 18 strokes for 6 guttaperchas.

For the men a driving contest will be decided, the lowest average for the balls driven within proscribed boundary limits taking first place. H. C. Fownes won on July 4 with 155 yards. The handicap competition scheduled for today against "bogey" was decided last Saturday, Maj. G. M. Laughlin taking the trophy cup offered by N. Holmes.

At Highland a golf gall sweepstakes will be played in the afternoon, while in the morning the caddie boys will have a contest.

A sweepstakes is also likely at Edgewood, while the tie between Blaine Robinson and W. S. Dalzell may be played off.

Play at Logans Ferry depends upon the number of Westmoreland golfers reporting. A "blind" handicap and a "kicker" handicap yet remain on the schedule.

It is announced by the Allegheny Country club that the handicap competition for the women's Cresson cup will not be played, Miss Howe having won from Mrs. T. McK. Cook in the playoff of the tie, resulting in the tournament last season.

Elevator's Fatal Drop.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., Nov. 22.—The elevator in the dry goods store of Townsend & Wyatt fell from the third floor today, probably fatally injuring John Bannon, salesman; Helen Ryan and Lillian Moylan, saleswomen, and seriously injuring Arthur Burns, elevator boy.

500,000 WOMEN

Have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file and prove this statement to be a fact, not a mere boast. When a medicine has been successful in curing so many women, you cannot well say without trying it—"I do not believe it will help me."

PINKHAM'S Vegetable Compound

Is a positive cure for all those painful

Ailments of Women.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, all Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements of the Womb, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

Your medicine cured me of terrible female illness.
MRS. M. E. MULLER,
1A Concord Sq., Boston, Mass.

Backache.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Leucorrhœa than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels Tumors from the Uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors.

Your Vegetable Compound removed a Fibroid Tumor from my womb after doctors failed to give relief. MRS. B. A. LOMBARD, Westdale, Mass.

Bearing-down Feeling

Womb troubles, causing pain, weight, and backache, instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the laws that govern the female system, and is as harmless as water.

Backache left me after taking the second bottle. Your medicine cured me when doctors failed.
MRS. SARAH RAFFERTY,
3 Davis Block, Gorham St., Lowell, Mass.

Irregularity,

Suppressed or Painful Menstruations, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Flooding, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility.

It is a grand medicine. I am thankful for the good it has done me.
MRS. W. W. JAY,
76 Carolina Ave.,
Jamaica Plain (Boston), Mass.

Dizziness, Faintness,

Extreme Lassitude, "don't care" and "want to be left alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy, or the "blues," and backache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, some derangement of the Uterus.

I was troubled with Dizziness, Headaches, Faintness, Swelling Limbs. Your medicine cured me.
MRS. SARAH E. BAKER,
Bucksport, Me.

The whole story, however, is told in an illustrated book which goes with each bottle, the most complete treatise on female complaints ever published.

For eight years I suffered with womb trouble, and was entirely cured by Mrs. Pinkham's medicine.
MRS. L. L. TOWNE,
Littleton, N. H.

10 CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Central Young Women's Christian Association Will Hold Services.

TOMORROW'S SERMON SUBJECTS

Harvest Home at Second Presbyterian Church—Grace Reformed Church and Bellevue Mission Will Hold Joint Afternoon Services.

The Central Young Women's Christian association, with headquarters in Fifth street, will celebrate its tenth anniversary tomorrow by special services at 3 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church chapel. Miss Lily M. Strong, state secretary of the association, will deliver the address of the afternoon. A report of the association's work during the last ten years of usefulness has been compiled by the president, Miss Sarah Pence, and will be read at the meeting. Special music has also been provided.

A harvest-home festival will be celebrated at the Second Presbyterian church tomorrow. The church will be decorated with flags, flowers and grain. Leon Provost's brass quartet will make its first appearance in Pittsburgh at this service. Among the numbers to be played by the quartet is Handel's "Largo." A special song service, conducted by B. F. Butts, will also be a feature. The national hymns of America, Russia, Germany, France, Italy and Greece will be sung.

The Lawrenceville Young Men's Christian association will celebrate its twenty-second anniversary tomorrow, the services to be held in the Seventh United Presbyterian church, Forty-fourth street, at 7:45 p. m. The Rev. Dr. David R. Breed will speak.

A new arrangement of services will be inaugurated at the new Allegheny district mission of the Reformed church, Bellevue. In order to better accommodate members of the mission who also attend the Grace Reformed church, the Rev. A. C. Dieffenbach has arranged to combine the two afternoon services into one. Immediately after the Sunday school service at 2:30 a brief sermon will be preached by Mr. Dieffenbach. This mission is prospering. It now numbers about 150 members, and the advisability of building a church is being considered. During the past week the mission was visited by the Rev. Dr. D. S. Fouse, general superintendent of missions. He expressed himself as well pleased with the progress made.

Tomorrow is Hospital Sunday. Secretary Samuel Harper of the Hospital Saturday and Sunday association has sent appeals to more than 400 churches in the county asking collections for the work.

The new United Presbyterian church in Bellevue will be dedicated tomorrow. The pastor, the Rev. W. W. Lawrence, and the officers of the church have arranged an interesting program. The Rev. J. K. McClurkin of the Shadyside church will preach the dedicatory sermon. The Rev. Dr. Thomas Park will preach in the evening.

The sixth Sunday service of the Reform Congregational Rodeph Shalom will be held tomorrow morning, at 10:30 o'clock in the new temple, Eighth street, below Penn avenue. The subject of the address to be delivered by the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy is "A Mother's Influence." The service begins at 10:20 o'clock, the choir at about 11 o'clock.

The usual Sunday sacred concert will be given at the Bijou theater tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Director Duss and his band will render a special program. Gertrude Horner, soprano soloist, will sing "Come Unto Him," from "The Messiah." The large chorus of mixed voices from the Second Presbyterian church will render "Seek Ye the Lord," by Roberts. Benjamin Franklin Butts, director, and Samuel M. Brown, accompanist. Following the musical program Rev. S. Edward Young will deliver a brief address.

The Gazette wishes to call the attention of pastors to the necessity of sending in their pulpit notices early. If they do not reach The Gazette office by 3 p. m. Friday publication cannot be assured.

Officials Hear a Lecture.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Nov. 22.—Prominent officers of the Baltimore & Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia Central railroads are here to attend a series of lectures by Dr. Herman von Schrenck of the St. Louis station of the United States forestry bureau. The question of wood is becoming a important one with railroads on account of the depletion of the forests at the present alarming rate. The West Virginia Central officers are considering planting trees in order to replenish the tie supply.

General Manager L. Bretz, of the West Virginia Central, gave a dinner tonight in honor of President Lowe, of the Baltimore & Ohio. There is a host of railroad officials here, including ex-President E. R. Bacon, of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern; General Manager G. L. Potter and Assistant General Manager Hale, of the Baltimore & Ohio, and Charles K. Lord, president of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania.

THREE BISHOPS AT DEDICATION.

Interesting Services Will Mark Consecration of the Most Holy Name Roman Catholic Church at Duquesne.

The new building of the Holy Name Roman Catholic church at Duquesne, will be dedicated Sunday. The exercises will begin at 10:30 a. m. and will be conducted by Bishop Phelan of Pittsburgh, assisted by Bishops Shannon of Baltimore, and Garvey of Altoona. The congregation was organized about 10 years ago and now numbers about 200 families. The new building, which cost about $50,000 was begun three years ago and has been in use about one year. It has a frontage of 75 feet and is 135 feet long. It is built of buff brick with Cleveland stone trimmings.

PLOT SPOILED BY DISCOVERY

Conspiracy to Rebel Against Canadian Authority Was Well Matured.

DAWSON WAS TO HAVE BEEN SEIZED

Secret Service Men Learn of the Plans and Take Measures to Suppress Affair--Incriminating Papers in Possession of Officials.

SEATTLE, WASH., Nov. 22.—The Times prints the following from Victoria, B. C.:

There was an organized conspiracy to seize Dawson, secure the barracks of the Northwest mounted police with their arms and ammunition, loot the banks and pillage the property of the rich northern gold field. These facts are confirmed.

James Seeley, formerly of this city, now head of the secret service of the Northwest mounted police, who is in this city, says that not only was there a conspiracy to overthrow Canadian rule in the Yukon and loot Dawson, but the scheme hatched by the conspirators was a very feasible one and had its existence not been discovered by the secret service of the Yukon and nipped in the bud the conspirators could have accomplished their purpose, and after taking Dawson could have held that place and the Yukon for six weeks or two months. By that time they would be overwhelmed, and each man of the raiders would be a fugitive from the avengers. The conspiracy was born at Dawson and had a branch at Skagway, but no existence in any other point to the south of Skagway, although efforts were made to secure the assistance of Boer sympathizers in Seattle and other points in the United States.

Plot Hatched at Dawson.

It was at Dawson that the plot was made last summer. Several American Fenians who had drifted to Dawson got together and formed an organization which was called the "Order of the Midnight Sun." A number of members were gathered in and the order grew until there were several hundred, when, in September, the members of the secret service in the Yukon became aware of its existence.

OTTAWA, ONT., Nov. 22.—All the facts in the possession of the interior department regarding the alleged conspiracy to capture the government of the Yukon were made public today. Officials here do not take a serious view of the situation. On the 21st of September Comptroller Fred White of the mounted police was advised by Superintendent Primrose of Dawson of a report from Seattle that some scheme was being concocted to seize Canadian territory in the Yukon. On the 25th Mr. White again received a message from Superintendent Primrose saying that he was unable to confirm the report, although circumstances tended to confirm his suspicions. On the 27th of September Superintendent Primrose again wired that his previous cipher message referred to the disputed territory and the Dalton trail, and that he was writing.

Plan a Feasible One.

Superintendent Primrose's letter was received October 7. It stated that he had been unable to confirm current reports. It appears that a man named H. Gresht had told at Dawson that he knew of a conspiracy against the government, that Gresht had been shadowed by the police and it was discovered that he told several stories about himself. He had been in Dawson about a month.

His conversation was to the effect that a secret organization intended to take possession of the Yukon territory, their plan being to run White Horse Pass, take the smaller detachments along the river, it being the easiest matter then to capture the barracks at Dawson. The organization had representatives at both Seattle and Skagway and they expected to be assisted by men from Circle City and Eagle City. This was the plan outlined by Gresht.

Gresht, it was said by a member of the mounted police, had been in the grocery business in Butte, Mont. Nothing more was heard of the matter until the 4th of November, when Comptroller Fred White received the following telegram from Superintendent Wood of Dawson:

Refuse to Surrender Papers.

"Snyder reports discovered whereabouts in Skagway papers relating to conspiracy to seize territory. United States refuse to secure unless Snyder makes affidavit as to conspirators. This, of course, he cannot do. Am satisfied such conspiracy exists."

The police were also trying to locate a man named Short, who had been mentioned as having knowledge of a conspiracy.

The story of the plot, based upon official reports to the minister of the interior, is as follows: About three weeks ago the police got into this man's confidence and he finally disclosed a plot which he said had been formed by people at Skagway and Seattle. The idea was to rush the posts in the lower part of the Yukon and then take possession of the country. The conspirators reckoned upon the American citizens in the Yukon not assisting the Canadian authorities, so that the raid, in their opinion, would be comparatively an easy matter.

Nipped in the Bud.

News of the plot was quickly sent from Dawson to White Horse and the police there soon had under surveillance all suspicious characters. The headquarters of the conspiracy was located at Skagway and it was ascertained who the characters associated with it were, and where the papers bearing upon the plot were kept. There was nothing, however, to show any overt act of treason to the United States or Canada, consequently the authorities could not take any proceedings.

Canadian officers went down to Skagway and consulted with United States officers and concerted action was agreed upon in case of necessity, in the meantime the parties connected with the plot are closely watched.

WILL LAY CORNERSTONE.

Formal Exercises Today at New Crafton School Building—School Children to Participate.

The corner stone of the new Crafton school building will be formally laid this afternoon with appropriate exercises by the school authorities and the children, who will in the future occupy the edifice. The new building, when complete will be a model structure, planned to meet the latest educational ideas. It will contain sixteen rooms and will, when properly equipped, cost about $55,000. George Wald of Johnstown is the architect. The building is of dark vitrified brick with stone trimmings, and is three stories high.

The bond issue, by means of which the money for the building was secured, was for a long time fought in the courts, and the residents are preparing to make the laying of the corner stone an event in the town's history. The program of the exercises today is as follows: Singing, "American," school children; invocation, the Rev. John E. Wishart; address, Prof. Samuel Hamilton, county superintendent; formal laying corner stone; music, Crafton Military band; singing, "Guard the Flag," school children; address, the Rev. Dr. Thomas N. Boyle; song, "Star Spangled Banner;" unfurling flag, Master Robert James Orr; salute to flag, Epworth Guards; school board's acceptance of flag and pole; music, Crafton Military band.

REPORT OF ENGLISH PLANT.

British Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co. Makes a Good Showing.

The second annual report of the British Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company has been received in this city. It shows the net profits for the year to be £49,533 4s 6d. Of this sum an interim dividend of £15,000 has been paid, and the directors propose to appropriate a further sum of £15,625, making the full 6 per cent dividend upon £750,000 preference shares, paid last July. This company's works at Manchester, Eng., are to be completed by the first of the year. The general order report indicates that there is a big demand for electrical productions throughout the British empire.

FELL INTO BOILING LIME.

Homestead Workman Met With a Terrible Accident.

James Castor, an employe of the Chess Cook Metal Company's plant at Rankin was perhaps fatally burned by falling into a vat of boiling lime while at work yesterday morning.

He was employed in placing strips of metal in the lime to clean them, when he accidentally fell head first into the vat. A number of his fellow workmen rushed to his assistance and by their prompt action succeeded in pulling him out before he was burned to death. He was taken to the Mercy hospital. Castor is married and lives in Third street, Rankin.

HEALS DISEASES CALLED INCURABLE

Ministers, Doctors and Professional Men Tell How He Has Cured the Blind, the Lame, the Paralytic and Many on the Very Brink of Death.

FREE HELP FOR THE SICK

Professor Adkin Offers to Help All Sufferers From Any Disease Absolutely Free of Charge—Professional Men Investigate His Powers.

PROF. THOS. F. ADKIN,
President of the Institute of Physicians and Surgeons.

In all parts of the country men and women, doctors and surgeons, clergymen and educators are wondering at the remarkable cures made by Prof. Thomas F. Adkin, discoverer of the Adkin Vitaopathic treatment.

Prof. Adkin heals not by drugs, nor by Christian Science, nor by Osteopathy, nor by Hypnotism, nor by Divine Healing, but by a subtle psychic force of nature in combination with certain vital magnetic remedies which contain the very elements of life and health.

A reporter recently talked with Professor Adkin and was asked to invite all the readers of this paper who are sick or who are worried by the ills of those dear to them to write to him for assistance. "Some people have declared," said Professor Adkin, "that my powers are of God; they call me a Divine healer, a man of mysterious powers. This is not so. I cure because I understand nature, because I use a subtle force of nature to build up the system and restore health. But at the same time I believe that the Creator would not have given me the opportunity to make the discoveries I have made nor the ability to develop them if He had not intended that I should use them for the good of humanity. I therefore feel that it is my duty to give the benefit of the science I practice to all who are suffering. I want you to tell your readers that they can write to me in the strictest confidence if they are troubled with any kind of disease and I will thoroughly diagnose their cases and prescribe a simple home treatment, which I positively guarantee to effect a complete cure, absolutely free of charge. I care not how serious their cases, nor how hopeless they may seem. I want them to write to me and let me make them well. I feel that this is my life's work."

So great is the sensation wrought in the medical world by the wonderful cures performed by Professor Adkin that several professional gentlemen were asked to investigate the cures. Among these gentlemen were Doctor L. B. Howley and Doctor S. Dutton Whitney, both famous physicians and surgeons. After a thorough and painstaking investigation these eminent physicians were so astounded at the far-reaching powers of Professor Adkin and the wonderful efficacy of Vitaopathy that they volunteered to forsake all other ties in life and all other kinds of treatment and devote themselves to assisting Professor Adkin in his great work for humanity. With the discovery of the Adkin Vitaopathic treatment eminent physicians are generally agreed that the treatment of disease has at last been reduced to an exact science.

In all some 8,000 men and women have been cured by the powers of Professor Adkin. Some were blind, some were deaf, some were paralytics, unable to move, so great was their infirmity. Others were afflicted with Bright's disease, heart disease, consumption and other so-called incurable diseases. Some sufferers dated their trouble from typhoid, nervous debility, insomnia, neuralgia, constipation, rheumatism, female troubles and other similar ills. Some were men and women addicted to drunkenness, morphine and other evil habits. In all cases Professor Adkin treats he guarantees a cure. Even those on the brink of the grave, with all hope of recovery gone and despaired of by doctors and friends alike, have been restored to perfect health by the force of Vitaopathy and Professor Adkin's marvelous skill. And, remarkable as it may seem, distance has made no difference. Those living far away have been cured in the privacy of their own homes, as well as those who have been treated in person. Professor Adkin asserts that he can cure any one at any distance as well as though he stood before them.

Not long ago John Adams of Blakesburg, Iowa, who had been lame for 20 years, was permanently cured by Professor Adkin, without an operation of any kind. About the same time the city of Rochester, N. Y., was startled by the cure of one of its oldest residents, Mr. P. A. Wright, who had been partly blind for a long period. John E. Neff, of Millersburg, Pa., who had suffered for years from a cataract over his left eye, was speedily restored to perfect sight without an operation. From Logansport, Indiana, comes the news of the recovery of Mrs. Mary Eicher, who had been practically deaf for a year, while in Warren, Pa., Mr. G. W. Savage, a noted photographer and artist, who was not only partially blind and deaf, but at death's door from a complication of diseases, was restored to perfect health and strength by Prof. Adkin.

Vitaopathy cures not one disease alone, but it cures all diseases when used in combination with the proper remedies. If you are sick, no matter what your disease, nor who says you cannot be cured, write to Professor Adkin today; tell him the leading symptoms of your complaint, how long you have been suffering, and he will at once diagnose your case, tell you the exact disease from which you are suffering, and prescribe the treatment that will positively cure you. This costs you absolutely nothing. Professor Adkin will also send you a copy of his marvelous new book, entitled "How to Be Cured and How to Cure Others." This book tells you exactly how Professor Adkin will cure you. It fully and completely describes the nature of his wonderful treatment. It also explains to you how you yourself may possess this great healing power and cure the sick around you.

Professor Adkin does not ask one cent for his services in this connection. They will be given to you absolutely free. He has made a wonderful discovery, and he wishes to place it in the hands of every sick person in this country, that he may be restored to perfect health and strength. Mark your letter personal when you write, and no one but Professor Adkin will see it. Address Professor Thomas F. Adkin, office 183 F, Rochester, N. Y.

LET THE TARIFF ALONE; DON'T DISTURB PROSPERITY

—ANDREW CARNEGIE.

In a Message to the President the Iron Master Opposes Any Revision.

HIS FACE SET AGAINST RECIPROCITY

Objects to the Arrangement With Countries That Compete With America—Protection Testimony Supplied by the Commission.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
601 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.

"Tell the president that the present prosperous condition of the country should not be disturbed, and in my judgment he should, in his coming message to congress, declare against any revision of the tariff and against reciprocity with countries whose products are rivals of American made goods."

The foregoing is a message from Andrew Carnegie to Attorney General Knox, and it is probable that it was delivered to President Roosevelt at the cabinet meeting today as requested.

A bulletin issued today by the industrial commission is another strong argument against tariff revision. It reviews the evidence taken on that point and asserts that the witnesses are almost unanimous in expressing opposition to any changes in our present tariff policy or in existing tariff schedules. Not one advocates a general tariff revision, and, although a number of witnesses point out specific inequalities or would be glad to have specific changes made in certain designated schedules, only one expressing an opinion on the subject is willing, for the sake of having such changes made, to have the matter of tariff revision taken up.

There would have to be a very "serious and troublesome state of affairs," in the opinion of one witness, to justify the undertaking of a general tariff revision. One manufacturer, although announcing himself to be a free trader by conviction, declares that the adoption of free trade in this country would unsettle everything, and wishes the tariff left untouched. One witness speaks in favor of the extension of the policy of reciprocity.

The business depression of 1893 and following years is attributed by several witnesses to tariff changes, and the development of a number of specific industries is attributed by other witnesses directly to tariff protection.

It is the opinion of the two witnesses who touched upon the subject that the removal of the tariff from the "trust" products would injure the domestic competitors of the trust more than it would injure the "trusts" themselves. One witness speaks in favor of the creation of a permanent tariff commission and believes that if the members of the commission were selected because of special fitness and without regard to their party affiliations, the appointment of such a commission would result in a better adjustment of tariff schedules than is otherwise possible.

President Roosevelt finished the reading of his message to congress to the cabinet members at their regular session today. It is understood to make between 28,000 and 30,000 words.

APPOINTED AND PROMOTED.

New Chief of Ordnance—First Gunners to Be Made Ensigns Since War.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—The president today appointed William Crozier chief of ordnance, with rank of brigadier general.

Brig. Gen. Albert R. Buffington, chief of the ordnance division of the army, went upon the retired list at noon today.

Francis Martin and H. R. Soule, former gunners, have been commissioned as ensigns in the navy. These two warrant officers passed highly creditable examinations three weeks ago for appointments as ensigns under an act of the law last congress. Martin and Soule may become rear admirals some day in the ordinary advancement of officers. They are the first men not naval academy graduates appointed to the line of the navy since the close of the civil war.

Harry B. Clary was today appointed postmaster at Grampian, Clearfield county, vice G. P. Douchman, removed.

SUE TO RECOVER BET ON WILL

Validity of A. D. Scorer's Bequests Made the Subject of a Gamble.

BENEFICIARIES WANT $500 DAMAGES

F. H. and M. B. Hepler and Jeanette Scorer Allege Several Defendants Wagered $500 That the Will Was Not Genuine.

A statement in a case filed in common pleas court No. 3 shows that some of the heirs of the late A. D. Scorer of Homestead made a wager upon the validity of a paper which was alleged to be the last will of the decedent. The suit entered shows that F. H. and Margaret H. Hepler and Jeannette Scorer are the plaintiffs and John G., N. E., A. J. and M. H. Scorer and Mary G. Laughlin are the defendants.

It is shown that previous to the decision upon the validity of the will by Register F. W. Edwards, it was agreed that if it was found the will was not that of Scorer the plaintiffs would pay $500 to the defendants, and if the will was that of the decedent the defendants would pay a like amount to the plaintiffs, which they failed to do. In addition to the $500 the plaintiffs also sue for $500 as damages.

HAD TO COOK OUTSIDE.

Wife Tells Tale of Cruelty in Divorce Testimony.

The report of the commissioner in the divorce case of Phoebe K. Knox against Andrew Knox was filed. The libellant says her husband scolded and beat her, drove her out of the house and would not furnish her anything to eat. She declared she was compelled to bake to earn a living and that when the gas was turned off on account of the bill not having been paid, she had to build a fire in the yard with which to cook her meals. Mrs. Knox says her husband refused to get a physician for their sick children and that he seldom provided them with clothes.

The master in the divorce case of Stella M. Strain against Andrew J. Strain recommended that a decree be made. The couple was married October 1, 1898. The libellant says she was compelled to leave her husband on June 10, 1899, because he did not provide for her.

Lawyer Taken to Task.

Judge R. S. Frazer called a well-known attorney to task yesterday in Common Pleas Court No. 2 for his actions in presenting a petition, the lawyer wearing his overcoat with the collar turned up and his hat in hand, hurriedly entered the court room and presented his paper. Judge Frazer told him that he did not like the manner in which he was acting, and in the future did not desire to hear a lawyer who rushed into court with overcoat on and hat in hand.

WANTS $50,000 DAMAGES.

James Keenan Charges Neighbors With Libeling Him in a Petition to Pardon Board.

A number of citizens of Oakdale and vicinity have got into trouble about statements signed by them reflecting upon the integrity of James Keenan, a resident of that borough. Keenan yesterday sued H. W. Williams, A. B. Conn, Charles N. Van Sickle, John F. Malovley and W. M. Hough to recover damages aggregating $50,000.

Keenan says the defendants attempted to destroy his good name and credit by signing statements, one of which reads as follows:

"I live in North Fayette township, Allegheny county, Pa. I have known James Keenan for many years. His reputation for truth and veracity is very bad. I would not believe him on oath. This has always been his reputation among neighbors and acquaintances."

These statements were signed by the defendants, it is charged, and forwarded to the pardon board.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

The account of Robert G. Laughlin shows a balance for the creditors of $2,048 78.

Abram Yablonsky, a resident of Altoona, filed a petition in bankruptcy, giving his liabilities as $1,281 and assets $55.

An account has been filed by the receivers of L. Young, bankrupt, showing a balance of $235 92 for the creditors.

By the will of George L. Roth, late of Lower St. Clair township, an estate valued at $3,200 is bequeathed to his wife.

In the case of Annie N. Dawson against the city of Pittsburgh, for damages to her property, the plaintiff was awarded $5,300.

Executions were issued as follows: John A. Bleichner vs. John Szok, $1,146; Heyl & Patterson vs. the Smoke & Spark Destroyer Company, $1,632.

Letetia Ehl was awarded $1,550 damages from Cronin & O'Herron for injuries received by falling into a hole in front of the defendants' place of business.

William Fowler, formerly employed by the city at the market house, was appointed tipstaff in criminal court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of P. C. Negley.

The account of Charles F. Kornman, bankrupt, was filed, showing a balance of $5,795 37 for the creditors. The property was appraised at $8,741 75, and sold for $8,000.

The will of John H. Williams, late of Allegheny, bequeaths $25 to each of his children and the residue of an estate worth $11,000 goes to his widow, provided she remains unmarried.

By the will of Ellen McWhinney, late of Allegheny, the United Presbyterian Orphans' Home is bequeathed $50 and the balance of a $1,050 estate is bequeathed to Miss Elizabeth Morrison.

The will of Christina Viechteller, late of Pittsburgh, was filed. George Hotz, a nephew, and Annie Hotz, a niece, were each bequeathed $50, and the balance of a $1,300 estate goes to the decedent's children.

An injunction in the equity suit of Samuel Kimmel against the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western railroad to restrain the defendant company from trespassing upon the plaintiff's property, was refused by Judge E. H. Stowe.

Exceptions were filed to the report of the board of viewers in the matter of the improvement of Rogers avenue, Bellevue, by Amanda M. A. Ralph. She was assessed $1,556 60 benefits and allowed $4,000 damages. She claims $7,560 damages.

The jury in the case of J. B. Eberhart against the Royal Insurance Company of Liverpool in the United States circuit court, found a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, giving him $1,855 damages. The case was to recover $3,000 loss by fire on store and goods in Punxsutawney.

Suit was brought by the First National Bank of Louisville against Charles M. Reed of Erie. The case came in on the trial list, but no statement was filed. In April of this year a petition in bankruptcy was filed against Reed, alleging insolvency. This he denied and demanded a jury trial. The case has never been disposed of.

The case of Dr. J. McGrew against his wife, Laura May McGrew, and the Shanahan Transfer & Storage Company, went to trial. The plaintiff alleges that Mrs. McGrew caused the removal of his goods from his house, among which were the doctor's surgical instruments. The case grew out of the trouble that existed between the doctor and his wife, which resulted in an attempt by Mrs. McGrew to obtain a divorce.

Statements were filed in the ejectment suits of Barbette Steger against Maggie E. McConnell, Clara F. McConnell, Annie Robertson, Charles G. McCoy, Nettie Walters, A. F. Beetman and Norton Wadell and John Ahr, to secure possession of property at Ingram. The property formerly belonged to Charles Steger. At his death he left his estate to his wife, but was defrauded upon the plaintiff claimed she was married to Steger in Nuremberg, Germany, years ago, and that he deserted her. The contest over the estate is pending.

An option was handed down in the equity suit of L. Douthett and others against the Rochester Tumbler Company and the Fort Pitt Gas Company. Under an agreement a test was drilled upon the plaintiff's farm. If no oil was struck the company was to get the well and if it produced less than 10 barrels it was to go to the plaintiffs, and if no oil or gas struck it was to be drilled into the fourth sand. The action was brought to compel the defendants to drill the well deeper, and in the opinion of the court the work should be continued.

Civil Service Reformer Sees No Necessity to Doctor the Law.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Civil Service Commissioner Foulke, who has just been appointed by President Roosevelt and is widely known as a reformer, says:

"In my opinion there is no necessity for congress to amend the civil service laws. While the present law is not perfect in all details, it is good as it stands. The president has clothed with power to extend the application of the law, and since the Pendleton act every president has availed himself of this privilege to enlarge the merit system. The commission should avoid engaging in a controversy with congress that would probably arise should an attempt be made to amend the law."

That Is the Teaching of a New Religious Sect in a Mississippi Boat.

HUMAN BEINGS THEN TO VISIT THE STARS

Devotees Support Themselves by Making Acetylene Gas and Burners—Their Head an Inventor Who Is Spending a Fortune.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 22.—Anchored in the shadow of the Merchants bridge at the foot of Angelica street is a modern Noah's ark, bearing 96 members of a new religious sect, who purpose to navigate the Mississippi until the millennium, which they believe will begin within 40 years.

This craft arrived in the port of St. Louis Thursday afternoon. The study of astronomy and the manufacture of acetylene gas and burners are the principal occupations of the Association of Christian Brethren, as the members of the new sect term themselves. The Megiddo is the name of the craft occupied by the Brethren. It is no mere houseboat, but a typical Mississippi steamer, with twin smokestacks, and a rear paddle wheel. "Megiddo" is an ancient Hebrew word for "the Lord of Hosts."

L. T. Nichols of Minneapolis is the president and founder of the Association of Christian Brethren and the owner of the Megiddo. The proceeds of several inventions chiefly connected with the manufacture of acetylene gas enabled Mr. Nichols to build the Megiddo and to insure his band of converts that they would be provided for along the river journey in which he expects, with the faithful among his followers, to spend the remainder of his days.

The doctrines which the 96 members of the new sect hold were formulated by Mr. Nichols, who preached them in Minneapolis until he gathered around him a body of persons whom, he says, would have filled two steamers like the Megiddo. The passengers of the boat were chosen from those who were least attached to their homes by incumbrances of family or property. Accordingly, there are only 12 children on board.

A uniformed brass band, six of whose members are women, is a feature of the religious activity of the boat. The band plays at the nightly meetings held on the boat or on shore as weather and circumstances may determine.

"We believe that the millennium will come in the year 1941," said Mr. Nichols, in describing the faith of his followers. "We believe that at the end of the 6,000 years of man's earthly existence, which will come in 1941, the earth will become paradise, and man, with his earthly body restored, with the powers and properties of angels, will be able to soar to the most remote planets until all of God's creation has been traversed. The sun; Neptune, 2,856,000 miles from the sun; Jupiter, Saturn, the fixed stars, all will be visited by man in those days. Therefore, our members make astronomy their study, next to the more simple teachings of the gospel.

"In the millennium, the Rockies will sink to the level of the Kansas plains, the Alps will descend to the level of the lands which they separate, and in fulfillment of prophecy, every valley shall be exalted and every mountain made low.

"We believe that holy lives, as well as faith, are needed for salvation, and we find it possible best to secure these by a partial separation from the world and by evangelization, such as we have undertaken.

"I shall remain on this boat, or on such another as may be built to replace it, as long as I live. If I die before the coming of the millennium, as is likely, my place will be filled, and the work of this boat, which may grow into a fleet, will be kept up. We have a physician on board. We teach our children all that they would learn in the public school.

"The Megiddo was built in Lyons, Ia., and was launched there last week. It is 175 feet long, 40 feet wide and has 50 staterooms. The families keep house in small groups, and there is no common dining room. Most of the men are mechanics and many of the women are seamstresses. The boat was built partly by the labor of the men who are now putting the finishing touches on its frame work before the departure for the south.

Wash.-Jeff. and Carlisle Ready for Battle--Yale and Harvard Meet on Gridiron Today

INDIAN TEAM READY FOR GAME

Carlisle Eleven Arrived Last Night and the Players Are in Fine Form.

THE STRUGGLE WILL BE A WARM ONE

Manager Craig Reports the Wash.-Jeff. Team to Be in Best Shape of the Season--The Officials Not Yet Decided On.

A tired and hungry-looking lot of Indians filed into the Monongahela house at 9:30 last night and made a raid on the dining room, without any delay. The party comprised the Carlisle football team which meets the W. & J. eleven at Exposition park at 2:30 this afternoon. The Indians came in from Carlisle over the Pennsylvania railroad, and the train was due at 7 o'clock, but was held up in the yards for over two hours, hence the hunger of the players.

The Indians are 22 in number and are in charge of the team coach, Glenn S. Warner. The first person to greet the players was little Hudson, the famous drop kicker, who is now a bank clerk and a resident of the East End. The team contains many players who are new to Hudson, but some of the old guard still remain and the ex-star was given a warm reception. If appetites denote playing form, then it can be truthfully said that the Carlisle team is certainly in fine shape.

Coach Warner said his team was in good condition for a bruising game, and he is looking for one from Wash.-Jeff. He says that two of his regulars, Beaver, left half, and White, guard, will not be in today's game, as they are not in the best of shape, and he wants them to rest up for the big game with Columbia in New York on Thanksgiving day. He has two fine subs to take their places, and says the team will not be weakened in the least. The team has put in a week at Bedford Springs, and is confident of securing a victory over the Washington county eleven.

Coach Warner, who is one of the best-posted football experts in the country, said last night that he expected to see Yale defeat Harvard by a big score. In his opinion the Harvard team had the best football talent, but the Yale eleven played the best football, and that was what would bring the victory. Manager Craig, of the W. & J. team, was at the Boston game Warner was there to look at officials for today's game. Drs. Carl Williams and M. Roy Jackson had been selected, but at the last moment had declined to serve. Mr. Warner had secured as the Carlisle official Dr. Stauffer of Lock Haven, and L. B. Palmer of Princeton was selected by W. & J.

Manager Craig reports word that the Wash.-Jeff. team has not been in better shape at any time this season than it is now. The regulars are all in line and the team is playing like a well-oiled machine. The Washington county team will arrive in the city this morning and will be accompanied by a crowd of nearly a thousand rooters. The Washington people are betting even money on a W. & J. victory. The line-up today will be as follows:

| W. & J. | | Carlisle. |
|---|---|---|
| Sutter | L. E. | Coleman |
| Long | L. T. | Wheelock |
| Murphy | L. G. | Phillips |
| Kammer | Center | Chesaw |
| Norton | R. G. | Saunock |
| Hays | R. T. | Dillon |
| Sargents | R. E. | Hare |
| Allen | Q. B. | Johnson |
| Montgomery | L. H. | Sheldon |
| Reed | R. H. | Charlott |
| Parkum | F. B. | Williams |

The W. U. P. football team left yesterday for Meadville, where it will meet Allegheny college's strong eleven this afternoon. The teams will probably line up as follows:

| Allegheny. | | W. U. P. |
|---|---|---|
| Leffingwell | L. E. | Martin |
| Fletcher | L. E. | McClain |
| Mogulton | L. T. | Watkins |
| Campbell | R. T. | Kerr |
| McCartney | L. G. | Wheeler |
| Lampe | R. G. | McConnell |
| Beyer | C. | Hankey |
| Harper | Q. B. | Morrow |
| Turner | L. H. | Simpson |
| Taylor | R. H. | Read |

THEIR FINAL GAME.

Geneva and Grove City Teams Will Meet Today.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The Grove City game tomorrow at Geneva field will probably close the season for Geneva, unless a Thanksgiving game is arranged. Geneva men expect a hard struggle as Grove City was the first and only team outside of W. U. P. to cross their goal line. Lowry, the Grove City coach and full back, has been presented on the ground that he is a professional, but nevertheless he will probably play on Saturday.

Grove City uses the guards back formation to a much better advantage than any team which has appeared here this season, and Geneva experienced much difficulty in breaking it up in their former game. The Geneva team is not in the best of shape. Capt. Thompson split a bone in his leg in the W. U. P. game, and now has it encased in a plaster cast. Whitehaw will take his place at left half. R. George, full back, is still out of the game, because of injuries received in the W. U. P. game, and Levis who took his place, injured his back last Saturday at Westminster, so that the choice for this position lies between Brown and Young. Finney, who has been ill for several weeks will be in uniform and will probably play a part of the game. The lineup:

| Grove City. | | Geneva. |
| Campbell | L. E. | Robb |
| Stewart | L. T. | Martin |
| Weld | L. G. | Finney, Barnes |
| Thomas | C. | McKean |
| Miller | R. G. | Edgar |
| Kelly | R. T. | Leach |
| Weil | R. E. | Critchlow |
| Larimer | Q. B. | H. George |
| Studebaker | L. H. | Walkinshaw |
| Young | R. H. | East |
| Lowry | F. B. | Brown, Young |

Among the Amateurs.

The Crescent A. C. goes to Sewickley today, and all players will meet at Ft. Wayne depot, Federal street, Allegheny, at 1:50 p. m. sharp.

The Crescent A. C. football team and the Monongahela City football team on the latter's grounds Thanksgiving afternoon, and all players are requested to report for practice Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

The Original Franklins will line up this afternoon on the gridiron of the Carnegie High school football team at 3 o'clock sharp. The following O. F. players are requested to report at 1 o'clock sharp at the court house: Davis, H. and B. Martin, Silverman, Perrin, Sigal, Broudy, Rosen, Resnick, J. and L. Van Luen, J. and B. Ryan, Schwartz and Kuhn. They will meet the Shamrocks at Market street and get off at Chartiers street.

The Pittsburgh college third team and the Wilkinsburg High school team will play on the Bluff on Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock. The third team would like to arrange with some good 80-90-pound team for this afternoon.

The following members of the Primrose A. C. will please report to Capt. Hilliard at the corner of Allegheny avenue and Bonnet street, Allegheny, at 1 p. m.: H. Boyle, Zorg, Smith, Driver, Focer, Briggs, J. Strasser, Bittner, Mosher, Burtt, F. Boyle, A. Strasser, Fielding, Christ, Boos and Callahan. The team this afternoon clashes with the strong Nevin Post eleven, on the latter's gridiron, at the end of the Perrysville avenue car line, and a battle royal is sure to ensue. Primrose will be followed by quite a few rooters, who will back the team to the limit, and no doubt quite a few shekels will change hands on the result.

The Wilmont A. C. would like to hear from any 100-pound team. Address Wilmont Play Address W. A. Munson, 3429 Ward street, city.

The Crescents second team of Wilkinsburg will line up against the Meadow Tigers this afternoon on the latter's grounds as follows: Wachter, l. e.; Bell, l. t.; Johnson, l. g.; Brought, c.; Smeltz, r. g.; C. Wachter, r. t.; A. Brought, r. e.; Wappat, q. b.; Kinley, r. h. b.; Speer, l. h. b.; Johnson, f. b. As these teams have played a hard game each, a hot time is expected. Crescents would like to hear from some team for November 30. Address Fred Wappat, 1310 Hunter street, Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Avalon A. C. will play at Crafton Saturday. Avalon players are requested to meet corner Fifth avenue and Market street at 2:15 o'clock. Take Crafton, Ingram and Thornberg car.

The Ingram football team is without a game for today, and desire a game with some good 85 to 90-pound team. Address B. S. Campbell, 913-2 Grant, or 1775 Main, P. & A.

The Young Men's Circle club would like to hear from all 110 or 115-pound teams for a game this afternoon. Will give full expenses and a good time. Call up 608 Brady before 10 o'clock and ask for John Douglass.

The "13" A. C. (deaf mute) will be the opponent for the South Side A. C. at the South Side Recreation park this afternoon. The mutes played great games against Altoona, California, Normal, Monessen, East Liverpool and Connopolis. The game will start at 3:30.

THE BIG EVENT AT CAMBRIDGE

Yale and Harvard Players Are Ready and a Great Struggle Is Promised.

BOTH TEAMS TRAINED TO THE HOUR

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 22.—Amid an immense salvo of undergraduate enthusiasm the sturdy sons of Eli, who will face Harvard on the gridiron on Saturday, left New Haven at 2 o'clock this afternoon. A Yale team has never had a greater send-off than that which the students gave to Captain Gould's players this afternoon. As the team left Osborn hall 1,500 undergraduates cheered every player and every coach again and again. The scene was inspiring.

Yale's team starts to Cambridge full of the old-time fighting spirit, and believing that they can and must whip Harvard. All fall the coaches have taught these players to respect Harvard's strength. Morning, noon and night the coaches have said to these players, "You'll have to face the very best team that Harvard has produced. You must remember that this team is full of fight and just as sandy as you are."

After the Princeton game last Saturday Frank Hinkey, the famous "silent captain," and George Stillman, the head coach, went to the gymnasium with the Yale team. In the very flush of victory the first thing that these coaches said to the players was, "You have whipped Princeton, but you have to play 50 per cent better next Saturday in order to whip Harvard."

Yale Team Not Over Confident.

This is the sort of moral teaching which has been administered Captain Gould's players. The coaches, realizing well that the recollection of the blue's victorious eleven of 1900 might make this team overconfident, and consequently careless, have hammered the spirit of submissiveness and modesty into the team until every man on the team believes that he will have to fight like an Indian and that the team as a whole will be put to the extreme test by the crimson. The Yale team expects to win, but by a hairsbreadth. If the coaches are more confident than this they are not saying so, and they are stoutly denying even to their best friends, that they expect anything but a close and hard-fought game.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 22.—The Harvard eleven had light signal practice of about 15 minutes this afternoon, after which they were sent off the field without doing any further work. The different formations went off very smoothly.

The official line-up, as given out tonight by Coach Reid and Coach Stillman is as follows:

| Harvard. | Position. | Yale. |
|---|---|---|
| Dibblee | L. E. | Gould |
| Lee | L. G. | Olcott |
| Sargent | Center | Holt |
| Barnard | R. G. | Harris |
| Cutts | R. T. | Hogan |
| Bowditch | R. E. | Swan |
| Marshall | Q. B. | DeSaulles |
| Kernan | L. H. | Hart |
| Ristine | R. H. | Chadwick |
| Graydon | F. B. | Weymouth |

The win of the Harvard law school over Yale law school this afternoon by a score of 24 to 0 and the enthusiasm throughout the college have aroused the students to confidence in their team. They are no longer asking odds, but are willing to bet even money.

Harvard's Coach Looks for Victory.

Coach Reid said tonight: "I believe our team is stronger than it was at the Yale game last year and I do not think Yale is as strong. The facts, judging from that game, would predict a close contest tomorrow. It all depends upon how our men keep coming after they are once warmed up to their work, but there are a great many things which may or may not happen."

In regard to the protest of Cutts, which Yale is reported to have made, Coach Reid referred inquirers to Prof. Hollis, chairman of the Harvard athletic committee, who said:

"Yale has made no protest. Whether Cutts plays or not rests with the athletic committee of Harvard, and it has not yet made up its mind. The decision depends on certain facts not yet ascertained. If these facts do not appear the decision will be clear and will be made known at the last minute. No information from Yale was presented to the athletic committee by Yale which has not been already presented."

Confidence in the prospects of the Harvard team in its game with Yale tomorrow was increased this morning by the announcement that the athletic committee would meet in the morning to definitely pass upon Right Tackle Cutts' status This came as a surprise as Harvard men had no knowledge, and the fact they have none yet, of any evidence submitted by Yale or any one else upon which to base the question of Cutts' ineligibility. Cutts' substitute is Dick Lawrence, of last year's team, but his form is not equal to that of Cutts, both in the line and in rushing the ball at tandem tackles' formation.

BOUND FOR FRANKLIN.

The Lalus Team Is Ready for a Strong Battle.

The Lalus team will leave over the Allegheny Valley railroad at 9 o'clock this morning for Franklin. The Franklin boys have practiced hard for this game with the crack Lalus eleven and are in fine form and determined to add another victory to their already long list. The team's record for the season is one that they are justly proud of. As yet they have not had their goal line crossed by their opponents.

The Lalus boys are just as confident that they will bring home a victory, but realize that the game will be a hotly contested one. Coach Lalus had the team out for two hours Thursday night and put the boys through some hard practice. Last night an hour and a half was spent in signal and light practice. The football followers of Franklin are greatly interested in the game, as the Lalus team is the strongest that will play in Franklin this season.

THE GREAT STAR TEAMS ARE READY FOR FRAY.

Homestead Eleven Practiced on Franklin Field--Betting Favors Fultz's Men.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 22.—Philadelphia and Homestead will meet at the National league ball park tomorrow afternoon in a battle royal for the ex-collegiate championship of the gridiron. Players from nearly every large college in the country will line up in this struggle of giants and football will be played as it is seldom seen outside of some great university at its best.

There will be Overfield, Wallace, Kennedy and Stehle of Pennsylvania, Poe of Princeton, Perry Hale of Yale and Pierce of the Indians, names for gridiron enthusiasts to conjure with. These teams tomorrow will meet and decide which is the better eleven. Promptly at 2:30 the referee's whistle will blow and the battle of the giants will commence. There will be on Homestead players from Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Brown, Kansas and the Indian school.

On Philadelphia there will be some of the greatest of Penn's players, Washburn of Brown, Lang of Virginia, Boller of Duquesne and Smith and Bader of Latrobe. From the start it should be one of the hardest struggles ever witnessed on the gridiron and from the standpoint of scientific football, without any question it should be the greatest game that has been played this season.

Homestead arrived in Philadelphia today and stopped at the Hotel Walton. A wreck near Pittsburgh delayed their baggage and they were forced to wait until 4 o'clock before going out to Franklin field, which had been secured by Overheld for the practice. The men had a fast signal practice and ran through their plays until darkness. The betting so far favors the visiting team.

The game will start tomorrow at 2:30. The officials will be E. Youngs of Cornell and Louis De P. Val of Pennsylvania. The teams will line up as follows:

| Philadelphia. | | Homestead. |
|---|---|---|
| Stehle | L. E. | Hunt |
| McCloskey | L. T. | H. Pierce |
| Fuller | L. G. | Overfield |
| Fulton | Center | Overfield |
| Smith | R. G. | Mosse |
| Wallace (Capt.) | R. T. | Winstein |
| Morgan Hedges | R. E. | Winstein |
| Kennedy | Q. B. | Poe |
| Washburn | L. H. | Richardson |
| Bader-Devlin | R. H. | Gammons |

FAVORITES ARE HAVING IT HARD

Only Three Have Managed to Make Good in Several Days at Bennings.

ODDS-ON HORSES WENT TO DEFEAT

Three of Them Were Easily Disposed of Yesterday—The Card Was Ordinary and the Racing Not of the Best Quality.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—First choice horses against and their troubles at Bennings today, Wild Bess quoted at 5 to 2, being the third favorite to win in three days. Three odds on horses were easily disposed of by good priced horses. The card was a very ordinary one. Speculation continues brisk. Weather fine, track fast. Summaries:

BAD DAY FOR TALENT.

The Oakland Ring Get Back Some Lost Money.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—At Oakland today the ring recovered some of the money lost recently, as some well-played favorites went down to defeat. The talent suffered a hard blow when Barnets, the first choice, was left at the post in the fifth event. He wheeled as the barrier went up, interfering with Educate. Both failed to get away. Noreford, running in the colors of George Baldwin, won from Forkford, of the E. J. Baldwin stables. The last race was run in the fog. Native played from 5 to 1, beat Tribeca a neck through Mathews outriding Hoar. Commander Forester suddenly regained his speed and landed the two-year-old event at odds of 5 to 1. Track muddy. Summary:

First race, 11-16 mile, selling—Ned Dennis, 107, Maxwell, 10 to 1, won; Fourchight, 104, Mathews, 6 to 1, second; Lou Clievedon, 104, O'Connor (4 over), 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:10. Game Warden, Spry Lark, Blanche Sheppard and Carrie also ran.

Second race, mile, selling—Billy Moore, 109, O'Connor, even, won; El Oriente, 100, Ransom, 2 to 1, second; Koenig, 101, Bullman, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:43. Bandad, Mornel and Pegalong also ran.

Third race Futurity course, 2-year-olds, selling—Commissioner Forester, 105, J. Woods, 6 to 1, won; Sir Preston, 107, Ransom, 4 to 1, second; Prestano, 100, Ransom, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:14. Phil Crimmins, Botany, Sir Lewis, Bendora, Lou Rassi and Sel Flattered also ran.

Fourth race, mile, handicap—Bedech, 106, O'Connor, 3 to 1, won; Sea Lion, 96, Hoar, 2 to 1, second; Orla, 104, Shilcraith, 9 to 5, third. Time, 1:44¼. Rubicon and Rio Shannon also ran.

Fifth race, ¾ mile, selling—Norford, 107, Bullman (4 over), 7 to 1, won; Forkford, 98, Ransom, 4 to 1, second; Orchard, 95, Windsor, 5½ to 1, third. Time, 1:17¾. Bernota and Educate also ran. The other two starters were left at the post.

Sixth race, 11-16 mile, selling—Native, 110, Mathews, 2 to 1, won; Tiberon, 104, Hoar, 6 to 1, second; Midnight Chimes, 104, Winslett, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:10. Censor, Claribel, Montrose, Dr. Sandeck, Moscatel, Prejudice, Reina de Cuba and Narra G also ran.

Entries for tomorrow:

First race, 4½ mile, selling—Darlene, 93, Cassius Clay, 96; Imperious, Metops, Favorite, 101; Galanthus, 98; Essence, Wyoming, 107.

VANDERBILT 'VILL RACE.

Nominates a Number of Horses for the Saratoga Meeting.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—For the first time in the history of racing in America W. K. Vanderbilt appears as a nominator in a number of rich stakes to be run at Saratoga in 1902. He has never, indeed nor for several years in France. Mr. Vanderbilt, whose American youngsters are now being trained by T. C. McPeek of Lexington, Ky., has made entries of the following high-class fillies, which he purchased in his interest during the past summer:

Brown filly by Ornament, dam Happy Salty II.; brown filly by Halma, dam Clatterfoot; bay filly by Ornament, dam Maggie Gray; chestnut filly by Ornament, dam Von Hera; bay filly by Ornament, dam Ariam; chestnut filly by Ornament, dam Charity.

Mr. Vanderbilt's colors were registered "for life" with the jockey club officials during the past season. They are white, black loop on sleeve, black cap.

M'CLELLAND WAS INJURED.

Pittsburgh Boxer Not Able to Meet Tim Callahan.

Jack McClelland, who boxed a 15-round draw with Billy Hamilton at New Castle on Thursday night, and was to have met Tim Callahan of Philadelphia at Toledo Canada, next week, will be reluctantly compelled to cancel the latter engagement.

McClelland and his manager, Billy Corcoran, returned yesterday from New Castle, when it was learned that McClelland had in one of the rounds strained the muscles in his back and was so sore that he could hardly lift his arms. The Pittsburgher came home to give up the Canadian fight as there was a big purse offered and the Canadian promoters have always treated the Pittsburgh fighters fairly.

CAUSE OF DEAFNESS.

The Most Common Cause Only Recently Discovered.

It has been stated on good medical authority that nine-tenths of cases of deafness are caused from catarrh or from sore throat trouble.

The little tube which leads to the ear from the throat is lined with a sort of velvety structure called mucous membrane. This membrane is simply a continuation of the mucous membrane lining the throat. When disease of any sort attacks the mucous membrane of the throat it is very liable to extend into the Eustachian tube and up into the ear.

The history of nearly all cases of deafness is like this: A cold is contracted and neglected, other colds are taken, the throat becomes sore and inflamed, which is aggravated by particles of dust and germs from the air. This condition causes the disease to spread into the tube that leads to the ear.

It seems a little far-fetched to say that most cases of deafness are caused from catarrh, but it is certainly true, and anyone who has had a severe catarrhal cold must have noticed how the hearing was affected while the cold lasted.

With catarrh sufferers this impairment of hearing becomes chronic and grows worse the longer the catarrh is neglected.

You can cure catarrh and deafness by the regular use of an excellent new preparation called Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, composed of antiseptic remedies which act both on the mucous membrane, but principally and most effectually on the blood, eliminating the catarrhal poison from the system.

People whose hearing is defective may think it a little remarkable that a simple and harmless tablet would very often remove all traces of deafness, but when it is remembered that catarrh causes the deafness and that catarrh is easily cured by the regular use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets there is no mystery about it.

If you are subject to nasal catarrh or catarrh of throat, bronchial tubes or catarrh of stomach and liver, the safest and most effective treatment is the new catarrh specific, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, sold by all druggists at 50 cts. for full sized package. 1121xspl

OFFICE OF CITY CLERKS.
City of Allegheny, Pa., Nov. 22, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance was presented at a meeting of Common Council of the City of Allegheny on the 21st day of November, 1901, and was referred to committee on surveys.

ROBERT DILWORTH, City Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE — Widening Shady avenue, Eleventh ward, from Brighton road to Stokes avenue to a width of sixty (60) feet, according to accompanying plan and as herein described.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That the widening of Shady avenue, Eleventh ward, from Brighton road to Stokes avenue be and the same is hereby widened to a width of sixty (60) feet, according to accompanying plan. The center line thereof being described as follows:

Beginning at a point of curve in the center line of Brighton road, said point being one hundred fifty-four and seven-hundredths (154.7) feet south of the southerly line of Ternaon avenue; thence southerly by a prolongation of the center line of Brighton road, a distance of three hundred eighty-eight (388) feet to the center line of Davis avenue; thence northwardly along the center line of Davis avenue a distance of sixteen (16) feet, more or less, to a point, said point being five (5) feet west of the present center line of Shady avenue; thence southwardly and parallel to the present center line a distance of one thousand five hundred ninety-eight and eighty-five-hundredths (1,598.85) feet, more or less to the northerly line of Stokes avenue.

The damages caused thereby and the damages caused by the grade thereof and the benefits to pay the same to be assessed and collected in accordance with the acts of assembly in such cases made and provided.

Section 2. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing be and the same is hereby repealed. 11,23jw

THE FINISHING TOUCHES.

The W. & J. Team Put Through Its Final Practice and Is Ready for Indians.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The W. and J. football team had the final practice of the week, and with but a few hours before the big game with the Indians they are ready for the contest. The practice today was spot and hard as it has been throughout the week, but the players were kept at work for a couple of hours by the coaches. While none of the men are seriously crippled, some of them are not in the best condition for a hard game, but will be at the opening nevertheless. There may be some changes in the lineup, although Capt. Alken has not definitely decided upon this yet. Campbell may be at halfback in place of Reed, and Heimberger may start at guard in the place of Norton in the game at least. Aside from this the lineup will be practically the same as it has been all season.

The practice this afternoon was characterized by more snap than at any time during the season. The men got started quickly with the ball and formed their interference with more speed and smoothness than usual. The men have been coached all week on defensive work and it is shaping up until the scrubs in the line held like a stone wall and very little gain could be made through them. A large crowd of rooters was on the field and witnessed the final practice, and the followers of the team are well pleased with the special game to be played against the Indians tomorrow afternoon. The student body will go over to Pittsburgh on a special train tomorrow morning, and the same systematic rooting that was displayed at the Bucknell game will be in evidence.

WILL ROOT FOR STARS.

Many Pittsburghers Go to Philadelphia to See the Big Game.

Several parties of football enthusiasts left Pittsburgh over the Pennsylvania last night to attend the big game at Philadelphia today between the Homestead Stars and the Philadelphia All-Stars. Harry Pulliam headed one large party. Another party was made up of H. W. Rhoads, John C. Ault, Jr., Lutz and the members of the Harris quartet. Hugh Blaney, C. F. Harris, Joseph Fetzey and John Mullen. David Gallagher, Elmer McConnell and Scott Donaldson headed another party. Four extra sleepers were required to carry the rooters.

Will Have a Fine Alley.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The Nonpareil Club Co. began yesterday the construction of a bowling alley at their new club house at this place, which it is said will rank with the finest alleys in the state. It is being constructed according to the rules laid down by the National Bowling association.

FIRE DESTROYS PACKING HOUSE

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Nov. 22.—The packing house and office of Armour & Co. were totally destroyed by fire today. Over a score of box cars and the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad depot were badly damaged by the flames. The loss is estimated at $50,000. The Armour plant is located along the river front in the central part of the city, and for a time it seemed apparent that the entire business district was threatened.

WYOMING, W. VA., Nov. 22.—Brunt Bros.' saw and planing mill, located near here, one of the largest in this section, was destroyed by fire last night. Almost all the lumber in the yards was consumed. The loss is $12,000, with less than $5,000 insurance.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Thompson, the Girard saloonkeeper, who was terribly beaten by two Finns last Friday, and who was brought to the hospital here, died yesterday as a result of his injuries. His assailants are in custody at Warren.

FINLEYVILLE, PA.—Fire destroyed the sawmill of Bolinger & Baldwin, near Sugar Loaf mountain, last night. The lumber was saved. Loss, $2,500; no insurance.

WARREN, O.—A report has reached here of the death at Nelson, Mich., of the 9-months-old child of Mrs. Fred Evans was fatally burned and the mother badly injured in carrying the babe from the house.

MONESSEN, PA.—Andy Zurella, a foreigner, while digging a foundation in the National tin plate yards yesterday, was killed by a heavy fall of loose earth.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.—James Shoat, aged 14, and William Little, aged 10, runaway boys from Allegheny, are being detained here by the police until their parents are heard from.

MASSILLON, O.—The United States Telephone Company will build a test station, warehouse and office here, making this its divisional headquarters. E. E. Ebersole, who will be placed in charge, will have supervision of all lines east of Columbus.

BEAVER FALLS, PA.—McHattie Brothers, wholesale produce and fruit dealers of this place, yesterday awarded the contract to J. S. Mitchell & Sons for the erection of a cold storage warehouse at the lower end of town, that will cover almost an entire block. It will be of brick and stone, two stories high.

WARREN, O.—A convention of the Reformed church was held in Warren last night, preceded by a conference of ministers. Addresses were made by the Rev. J. C. Paul of Lisbon, Mrs. J. C. Paul of Lisbon, the Rev. J. M. Kendig of Youngstown, and the Rev. G. E. Melger of Pittsburgh.

AKRON, O.—Dr. Charles F. Wilgohs yesterday celebrated his 88th birthday at his home in Clinton. He is believed to be the oldest practicing physician in the United States.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—The American Steel Hoop Company has made this city its headquarters for all the mills in this district, including Girard, Warren and Greenville, Pa.

MEYERSDALE, PA.—John W. Krettzburg and George Spangler, of this place, yesterday succeeded in bringing down a full-grown deer and a year-old fawn while hunting in Shade township.

BUTLER, PA.—Adam Crawford, aged 60 years, a pumper for the South Penn Oil Company, dropped dead while at work in his boiler house from muscular rheumatism reaching his heart.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—Twenty-five thousand green brick that were being piled to dry, fell with a rumble all over at Fiske's brick yard, seriously injuring Andrew Darly, Arthur Randall, colored, and Ros Scott.

DANTON, O.—C. Holman, who registered last Friday at the Phillips house, giving Pittsburgh as his residence, has mysteriously disappeared. While here Holman displayed a large roll of bills. Foul play is suspected.

DUNBAR, PA.—Hadley Rife, representative of capitalists from Duncannon, Pa., met Dunbar council last night and asked a franchise to erect a waterworks for Dunbar. Council asked for a month to consider the proposition.

MANY BURNED BY EXPLOSION

Seven Miners Fatally Injured and Others Overcome by Fire in Two Colleries in Eastern Pa.—Many Gallant Rescues Were Made by the Townspeople.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

WILKESBARRE, PA., Nov. 22.—A serious fire in No. 6 colliery of the Susquehanna Coal company, at Glen Lyon, started this morning and the 400 men in the mine had difficulty in escaping. Adam Kaiser and John Penan were fatally burned and Thomas Mulherin, Joseph Higginson and Fred Rodda were overcome, but will recover. A number of others were carried out unconscious, but all recovered. Many gallant rescues were made. Rescuing parties were sent in as soon as possible, but it was four hours before it was certain that all the workers were out of the mine.

A terrific explosion of gas in the slope of the Stevens colliery at Jittston today fatally burned five Polanders and Hungarians and severely burned Fire Boss Henry Powell and two laborers. The five badly burned men were taken to the hospital. The explosion wrecked the slope and made the rescue of the men quite dangerous.

Shot for a Burglar.

BEDFORD, PA., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Last night George Smith, living near Schellsburg, Bedford county, thought he heard burglars in the house, and taking his revolver started to investigate. His brother-in-law, George Egolf, has heard the same noise and started down stairs. In the darkness they encountered each other and Smith fired, shooting Egolf through the hip and inflicting a dangerous wound.

Runaway Team Scatters Fire.

WELLSVILLE, O., Nov. 22.—Hunter Connell, while cutting corn fodder on a farm about a mile west of this place, was perhaps fatally injured by the explosion of a steam engine. A wagon load of fodder standing nearby took fire and the horses ran away with it, spreading the fire all over the farm. It was with difficulty that the farm building was saved. A number of neighbors who were assisting Connell were more or less hurt.

JOHNNY BULL'S STEEL COMPANY

News of British Rival of the United States Corporation More Tangible.

AMERICAN METHODS TO BE ADOPTED.

English Manufacturers Foresee That the Yankees Sooner of Later Will Crowd Their Goods Into Trans-Atlantic.

(BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Private advices lately received from London have served to revive discussion of a British iron and steel combine similar to the United States Steel Corporation. This subject is not new, by any means. Ever since the formation of the United States Steel Corporation there has been more or less talk of an English rival to be patterned on similar lines, and American interests off and on have been interested in this gossip from across the Atlantic.

Each of these discussions has invariably ended here in the comfortable conclusion that nothing would come of the Britishers' dream of opposition, but it is again reported that English manufacturers are making progress and hope presently to announce a combination built upon American plans. If these reports had no foundation other than their persistence they still would be worth heeding, but they seem indeed to have more warrant than that.

A gentleman lately arrived here from London, who is in close touch with the iron interests of both this country and Great Britain, said today the British combine is assuming tangible form. In this, as in most other English undertakings, progress is slower than it would be in this country, but the gentleman ventures to say that negotiations have reached a point that practically assures the formation of an English combine on the lines of the United States Steel Corporation.

Some of the Big Constituents.

Among the English concerns said to be interested are Bolckow, Vaughan & Co., capitalized at $20,000,000; Guest, Keen & Co., capitalized at $15,000,000, and Cammell & Co., capitalized at $9,000,000. Other interests are involved, of course, but these names will probably constitute majority interests in any combine that may be formed.

Negotiations are being conducted under the direction of John R. Bartlett of New York, who has been in Europe for several months in connection with this business. He is expected to return to this country next January, and it is barely possible that at that time he will have something to announce that will be of considerable interest to iron and steel interests. Mr. Bartlett first distinguished himself abroad as a promoter by forming the British Oil and Cake Mills, Limited, capitalized at $12,500,000, which has proved to be a great success.

What British Companies Fear.

The gentleman on whose immediate authority the foregoing statements are made has the following to say of the situation in England:

"There are many people in Great Britain inherently opposed to any combination of capital, but larger commercial interests have come to realize that their future success will depend more or less upon the extent to which American methods are imitated. Community of interests, as typified by the recent combinations of American industries, has not injured Great Britain to any extent as yet, for the reason that in the more important lines of American industries the home consumption exceeds the supply. Prices at home, therefore, are higher than those that obtain abroad, and American manufacturers have been neglecting foreign markets. As soon as the domestic demand begins to slacken, Americans will push out abroad, and it is then that the British producers will begin to suffer in competition with American 'community of interests.'

"Take steel rails as an example. American manufacturers might reduce the price of steel rails several dollars a ton and still have a fair margin of profit on their output. Britishers are shrewd enough to foresee the fierce competition that inevitably will have to be met from American manufacturers, and they propose now to resist with weapons similar to those employed by Americans. I am not at liberty to say what iron and steel interests are likely to enter the English steel and iron combination, but I believe it will be a very strong organization, with a smaller capital, however, than the newspapers have suggested."

Money Situation Brightening.

Sterling exchange declined 40 points today, owing to a smaller demand for bills. Some very good banking authorities are half persuaded that the outward flow of gold is at an end. London refuses today to put forth the special inducements which were necessary to draw gold for shipment on the steamer sailing tomorrow. News that no more gold would be exported this week, and the welcome intelligence that the known movements of money seemed to indicate a slight cash gain for the banks, exercised a favorable influence over speculative sentiment and made it possible for the bulls to recover control of the situation. The banks are expected tomorrow to show a gain of about $90,000 in cash, in spite of the loss of more than $7,000,000 to Europe this week, and they will still have unimpaired credits to the amount of $3,700,000 made in their favor at the sub-treasury on account of new gold deposited at Pacific coast points.

Big Lead Mine Combination.

The Federal Lead Company will be incorporated next week under the laws of New Jersey, with a capitalization of about $10,000,000. It will represent a consolidation of 12 important lead properties in Missouri. The interests behind the undertaking are William C. Whitney, Thomas F. Ryan, the Guggenheim Exploration Company and the Union Lead & Oil Company. The stock will be issued in exchange for the properties, and the company will have its products on the market by January 1. The formation of this company seems for the time to preclude a deal between the National Lead Company and the interests lately involved in a triangular contest for control of the American Linseed Oil Company and the Union Lead & Oil Company.

Railroads' Faith in Prosperity.

Pretty conclusive evidence that railroad interests regard the prosperity of the country as altogether substantial is to be found in numerous orders that are being placed for new equipment. The American Locomotive Company has taken orders from the Mexican Central railroad, Minneapolis & International railroad, St. Clair Steel Company, Minnesota Transfer Company, Colorado Springs & Cripple Creek Railroad Company, the Lake Shore, the Rock Island, the St. Paul and the Chicago Great Western for an aggregate of 106 locomotives. Orders have been placed with the Rogers locomotive works by the Erie railroad for 15 locomotives, and by the Great Northern for 40 locomotives, in addition to the 30 ordered some time ago. The American Locomotive Company, with a capacity of about 1,600, and the Rogers locomotive works, with a capacity of 250, are increasing their output as rapidly as possible.

The record of orders placed for equipment other than locomotives, principally cars, is proportionately large. All manufacturers of railroad equipment report enough orders booked to keep them busy far into next year. Another famine of transportation facilities, such as that now existing, will not be the fault of the railroad companies, who are adding to their equipment just as fast as the capacity of the various manufacturing companies will permit.

Slight Change in Bolts and Nuts.

Representatives of nut and bolt manufacturing interests, who have been in conference in this city, have returned whence they came, having agreed upon nothing more important than a few slight changes in the existing schedule of prices. Their presence here was made the basis of rumors of consolidation, and indeed the subject of combination may have been discussed, but no definite agreement has been reached, according to the statements of those who participated in the conference. Discussion of prices occupied the gentlemen to the exclusion of most other matters, but no important changes are understood to have been agreed upon. It was said today officially that the recent meeting of bar iron manufacturers is not to be considered significant of contemplated price changes. Present indications are that there will be no material change from the present quotations for some little time to come.

Gotham Speculative Market Shows a Burst of Activity

MARKET BROAD AND ANIMATED

Wall Street Suddenly Awakes Into a Period of Speculative Activity.

BEAR ACCOUNT CAUGHT UNCOVERED

Unexpected Collapse in Foreign Exchange Market and Better Prospects in Money Market Left Bears Little Ground to Stand on.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The strength in today's broad and animated market was the sequence of the sudden awakening of speculative activity yesterday afternoon. A large bear account was caught uncovered as a consequence of the persistent shorts selling by the professional element for some time past on the assumption that the money market could not escape a squeeze between now and the first of the year and that the growth of opposition in the northwest to the Northern Securities company would disseminate depression throughout the market. The unexpected collapse in the foreign exchange market and the prospect of recuperation for the money market left the bears without much ground to stand on, and they bought eagerly to cover today. This was a considerable influence in the recovery of prices. But the clearing up of the money situation leaves the way open for the natural operation of various forces making toward higher prices. The character of today's market made it appear that a considerable speculative element has been waiting and eagerly on the watch for just this development. The demand for some of the favorite stocks was on a very heavy scale, and the day's transactions were run up once more to over a million shares. The considerable advance during the day invited profit taking in the final dealings, and last prices of the principal active stocks were between one and two points lower than the best. The late selling was accented by a renewal of the acute weakness in People's Gas on the denial of a restraining order against the assessment of taxes on the alleged high valuations of Illinois corporations. The stock tumbled 2¾ from the best, and Consolidated Gas slumped 4½. The aggressive strength of New York Central and Manhattan continued a widely diffusive influence in the whole market. No information was forthcoming to explain these movements. There were rumors of control of Manhattan by New York Central and of a coming distribution of the surplus in the treasuries of New York Central's subsidiary companies. The determined buying of Pennsylvania and the aggressive bidding up of Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis were based entirely, to all appearance, as a purpose to rectify the disproportion in the prices of those stocks, compared with the Vanderbilts. The placing of Hocking Valley on a regular 3 per cent dividend basis was an earnest of the prosperous conditions ruling in the soft coal trade, which was reflected in the absence of practically that whole group of stocks. The October statement of the net earnings of New Jersey Central, showing an increase of no less than 165 per cent over those of October of last year, was ample explanation of the recent strength in the anthracite coalers. The collapse in the foreign exchange market was due to the sudden falling off in the demand to cover maturities, which has been a feature of the market for several weeks. The further decline in the price of gold in London and an advance in the sterling rate at Paris corroborated the assurance that the foreign requirements for gold are satisfied for the present. The net result of the interior movement of currency has served to more than offset the drain on account of the gold export. The banks have lost to the sub-treasury up to Thursday evening, $2,774,000, which includes the payment for the gold exported. The net gain on the interior movement by express is estimated at something over $2,000,000, and $1,000,000 in gold has come in from Canada. The banks are estimated, therefore, to be gainers for the week to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars, notwithstanding the shipment abroad of $7,586,522 in gold.

The railroad bond market was quite active and strong. Total sales, par value, $2,870,000.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Latest Finds in Gold, Silver, Copper and Other Metals in the Far Western States.

(BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Last week's shipments of ore from the Mackintosh sampler at Park City, Utah, were 6,251,620 pounds. The Ontario led with 2,997,060, and the Daly-West came second with 1,179,600 pounds. Quincy was credited with 1,138,000, and the Silver King with 6,251,620 pounds.

Advices from Chihuahua, Mexico, note that Ohio capitalists have been examining the San Rafael in the interest of the Cleveland Quicksilver Mining Company. The purchase price is $75,000 gold.

The Lincoln, at Cripple Creek, which is owned by a few New York and Chicago capitalists, shipped 15 tons of ore to a Denver smelter on Wednesday. It will average about $40 a ton.

Prospectors are active on the north slope of Galena hill, Cripple Creek. Strong eruptive dykes have been uncovered, and the showing is regarded as encouraging.

A 40-foot ledge of specular hematite, or magnetic iron, has been opened on the Lord Roberts, near Loveland, N. C. Samples of the ore give returns of 62.9 per cent iron and $4 40 gold.

In spite of official contradictions, the rumor gains credence in Colorado that the Venture Corporation Company has refused an offer of $7,000,000 for the famous Camp Bird. The Venture is the company that floated Stratton's Independence.

A large body of ore is being exposed in the Central Eureka, Amador county, Cal., at the 2,000-foot level. Twenty stamps are to be added to the milling capacity, as it is believed these heavy stamps in sight to keep 40 stamps dropping for several years.

The mineral output of Colorado this year has already passed the figures for the whole of 1902. It is estimated that this year's output will be 20 per cent greater than that of last year, or about $60,000,000.

Large masses of native copper are being extracted from the Veta Madre and Copete, in Sonora, Mexico. One that tipped the scales at 2,300 pounds was recently shipped to New York.

THE THREE RIVERS.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 22.—The towboat Valiant arrived late last night and returned up stream this morning with ten empties for Pittsburgh. The Faille brought in four boats and one barge this morning and at noon departed up stream with ten empties. The Kanawha coal fleet has been having a hard time today above Nine Mile bar, near New Richmond, O. Most all the fleet is there with the exception of the convoy and the Crosse, which, having light tows, succeeded in getting in this morning. The flag ship of the fleet, the J. Mackey, sunk one barge in making the attempt to cross the bar, and during the day the boats have been doing their best to get over. The Calderwood succeeded in passing over at 4 p. m., at which time a heavy fog settled on the river in that vicinity. The Douglass Hall, while passing Levanna last night broke her shaft, but succeeded in landing her tow. The Convoy left at 10 a. m. to bring the boat back for repairs. The packet Courier at midnight broke her larboard wrist, but continued on her way to Pomeroy. Capt. W. H. Thomas of the steamer City of Wheeling is here with the intention of placing his boat in the Portsmouth-Cincinnati trade. Stage at 5 p. m., 5.5 feet and rising. Weather cloudy and threatening.

EVANSVILLE—River on a stand. Canal, 2.3 feet; falls, .6 of a foot; foot of locks, 3.6 feet. Business good. Weather cloudy and threatening rain. A swell is looked for here by tomorrow morning. Fog on the river during the day. The new George W. Thomas was inspected today and leaves for Pittsburgh tomorrow. Capt. Noble Pryor has resigned his position as captain and pilot on the canal towboats.

GREENSBORO—River 6.1 feet and falling. Weather clear and cool. Cherry down Saturday. Woodward up.

BROWNSVILLE—River 5.7 feet and stationary. Weather cloudy.

WARREN—River 1.6 feet. Weather clear and mild.

STEUBENVILLE—River 4.6 feet and falling. Weather clear and cool. Down, Bessie Smith at 8 a. m. Up, Greenwood at 1 p. m.

MARIETTA—River 4.6 feet and falling. Cloudy and warm. Bedford up at noon. The Baxter lost one trip on account of the death of Capt. Ritchie's father. Bessie Smith is due down at 10 p. m.

PARKERSBURG—River 4.5 feet and falling. Weather cloudy and mild. The Bedford left this morning for Wheeling.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet and stationary. Weather cloudy and cool.

Boats Leaving To-Day.

I. C. Woodward, Morgantown, 3 p. m.
Rose Hite, Brownsville, 4 p. m.

Capt. W. C. Stewart left yesterday for Industry, Pa., to enjoy a few days' hunt.

Albert Haight, who has been in Marietta for several weeks on business, returned to Pittsburgh yesterday.

The members of the Pool Deckhands union met yesterday afternoon in Firemen's hall in Third avenue and elected officers.

The Grace Virginia has taken the place of the Pioneer, the latter having gone to the Parkersburg docks to receive repairs.

The towboat W. W. Nell pitched into 15 or 20 coalboats at Baton Rouge on her way to New Orleans and is due at that latter port.

There will be a meeting of the members of the Pittsburgh Masters and Pilots' society at 10 o'clock this morning and a full attendance is desired.

The repairs to the towboat John A. Wood at Merrill's are completed. The boat has received a new electric light plant and surface condensers.

The piers being erected for the new bridge across the Ohio at Marietta are above an ordinary flood stage of water and the work is progressing rapidly.

The new towboat Robert Gilian is in the mouth of the Muskingum river, receiving her machinery. The boat is being built for the Compella Creek Company.

The towboat Frank Gilmore yesterday brought a tow of coalboats out of the pools for the Budd Coal Company and then began towing coal for Jones & Laughlins.

The towboat Yellow Poplar grounded at Buffington while on her way to Pittsburgh in tow of the John C. Fisher. The river is falling there. The towboat John Moren grounded yesterday at the Trap at Sewickley. The Tornado was sent to assist her.

The last of everything that remained above the main deck of the old Evansville packet S. G. Ragon has been leveled down and all that remains is the heavy hull, with the name on the bowsprit. It has not been decided whether the hull will be converted into a wharfboat or barge, but it would be good for either.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Coffee—Spot Rio, market firm; No. 7 invoice, 6¾c; mild, market steady; Cordova, 7½@11c. Sugar—Raw, steady; fair refining, 3 3-16@3¼c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3 11-16@3¾c. Molasses sugar, 3c; refined, steady. Coffee futures opened steady in tone, with prices 10 to 15 points higher. Unexpected strength in French and German markets stimulated buying here on the call, chiefly for foreign account, and to cover short sales made yesterday. A falling off in the primary movement also figured as a bullish factor of considerable importance in the day's news. Other items were without feature. The European firmness was attributed to an active demand from the short side. Locally the market was a quiet affair, but very steady, prices in the afternoon following a further upturn in the French market with an advance of 5 to 10 points, and closing 10 to 25 points net higher and steady. Total sales amounted to 32,750 bags, including December at 6.55c; January at 6.60@6.65c; March at 6.80@6.90c; May at 7.00@7.05c; July at 7.20@7.25c; September at 7.35@7.40c.

Stocks Active and Higher, Particularly Steel, Glass, Fire Proofing

P., B. & L. E. R. R. COMMON BOOMED

Over 1,100 Shares Sold at 36 and 36 1-4 Was Bid for 1,000 More.

WINDOW GLASS COMMON ADVANCED

Additional Fire Proofing Issues Again Went Up on Rumors—Crucible Steel Issues Active and Higher. River Coal Active.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was quite active and decidedly firm in the majority of the securities dealt in. The peculiarity was the fact that the trading was confined exclusively to the stock department, both bonds and receipts being steady to firm, but passing the day without sale or material change in the quotations. All told, 20 different stocks found buyers, of which number 12 advanced from ⅛ to 1⅜, while only two declined, the loss in each case being ⅛ only. Five issues sold at the last previous price and one sold for the first time. The total sales for the day were a little over 7,700 shares. There was considerable interest at the opening in American Window Glass common, which started business at 54⅛ and advanced rapidly to 55½, finally closing at 55⅝, a gain of 1⅜ for the day. There was no particular or evident reason for the rally, but the stock was undoubtedly quite firm at the close. The preferred was not mentioned all day. Fire Proofing issues again attracted considerable attention, but the first call were rather neglected. At the second and third calls the common was quite active and closed at 33, an advance of ⅝ for the day and ¾ above the opening and low prices. The sales were nearly 600 shares, and the close was very firm at the top. The preferred, while much less active, was equally as firm, opening at 41⅛ and closing at 48, a gain of 1¼ on sales of less than 300 shares. Small lots changed on the street that the company had recently succeeded in absorbing at least 10 independent plants and that its earnings during the last six months show fully 25 per cent on the common stock. From an official source it was learned that the company has only had negotiations for the absorption of several foreign plants, which would give the National almost if not quite international monopoly of the fire proofing business. These steps are not yet mature and no details could be obtained, but progress is being made in a manner that is quite satisfactory.

At the opening of the second call there was quite a movement started in Pittsburgh Bessemer & Lake Erie preferred common, and one buyer took over 1,100 shares at 36, an advance of ⅝ over the last previous sale. At the last call this gentleman was even more eager in his desire to purchase the stock, and bid 36¼ for 1,000 shares, but all offers had been withdrawn. There was no reason assigned to the sudden spurt.

In the steel stocks there was both activity and dullness. Crucible common was decidedly active and quite firm, opening at 23⅛ and closing at 23⅜, a gain of ⅜ on sales of a little more than 1,700 shares. At the windup the stock was firm and in demand at 23⅜ bid, without offers. The preferred was also quite active, selling nearly 600 shares and advancing ⅛ to 85¼, closing quite firm. United States Steel issues were dull, each selling only 100 shares and each scoring a gain of ⅛, the common at 42⅝ and the preferred at 92¾. The common, however, closed ⅛ higher still, at 42⅝, but the preferred finished without bid or offer. Monongahela River Coal common after the second call became very active and 1,000 shares sold in large blocks at 13⅛, the last price, which was unchanged. The preferred was very dull, having only one sale of 45 shares at 46⅝, a gain of ⅛. Pittsburgh Coal common was strong at 27½ for 200 shares, but afterward 27¾ was bid, with no offers under 28. The preferred sold small lots aggregating 190 shares at 92¼, a gain of ¼. In the remainder of the list Westinghouse Electric seconds led, selling nearly 400 shares at 71⅛@71⅜, a gain of ⅛. Airbrake was dull but firm, and ¼ higher at 73¼@73½ for 25 shares. Real Estate Trust sold 10 shares at 252½, which was the last price, while 10 shares of the First National bank of Sheraden, Pa., went at 110, which was the first time the stock ever sold on the exchange. A block of 200 shares of Lustre Mining sold at 9, a decline of ½, though the last previous sale was only two shares at 9½. Citizens' Traction was unchanged at 70, and Ice common was dull, weak and ½ lower at 15. Brewing common was very dull but unchanged at 24½. In the quotations Fidelity Title & Trust Company resumed its downward course by declining another dollar to $453 asked. Bank of Secured Savings was ½ higher at 64 bid. Consolidated Traction common receipts quoted at 23¼@23¾ without sales, while Philadelphia common quoted at 47¾@48 without sales. There were no other material changes.

Financial Drift.

A block of 100 National Glass was wanted at 17.

37¾ was bid for 10 Ice preferred at the last call.

Hall bid 80 for 100 Fayette County Gas. None offered.

McMullin bought 250 Window Glass common at noon.

100 Standard Chain preferred was offered at 60 at the last call.

Pittsburgh & Lake Erie quoted at 210 bid, 250 asked at the first call.

Sproul & Co. bought 300 Crucible Steel preferred at the last call.

Sproul & Co. sold 900 River Coal common after the second call.

At noon Darr & Moore sold 200 Luster Mining to A. J. Lawrence.

E. Schmidt sold 35 Citizens Traction at the first call to Robinson Bros.

Morris & Brown offered 500 Philadelphia Company at 48⅞ at the first call.

Rights on the new stock of the Farmers Deposit National bank offered at 125.

R. C. Hall sold Miller 10 Real Estate Trust Company at 250 at the closing call.

Sproul & Co. sold 100 United States Steel preferred at the first call to Carothers & Holmes & Sons; par is $100 and the capital stock $50,000; the bank was only recently organized and this is the first public sale of the stock.

At the first call the trading in National Fire Proofing issues was very light; at the second call the preferred passed without a sale, but M. K. McMullin bought 258 of the common, there being no other buyers; the selling was widely scattered. At the last call the preferred was very dull but firm; the common sold 450 shares of which McMullin took 300 and Walker 100; McMullin got 558 during the day and Wettengel sold 350.

Earnings and Dividends.

The net earnings of Chicago Great Western for October decreased $17,047.

Chicago & Northwestern for October increased $961,874 and for five months increased $1,534,566.

The gross earnings of Jersey Central for October increased $515,000, and the net increased $304,000.

A semi-official prediction is made that the gross earnings of the American Locomotive Company this year will reach $30,000,000.

The Ohio and Indiana Consolidated Natural and Illuminating Gas Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 per cent, payable December 2.

The directors of the Hocking Valley railroad have declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent on the preferred stock and a dividend of 1 per cent on the common stock, making the disbursements on the latter 3 per cent for the year.

Northern Pacific November gross earnings are showing about the same ratio of increase as was shown in the first week, and if the month it will be remembered broke all records in the history of the company, the increase being nearly $1,250,000.

It is understood that the American Can Company has from $16,000,000 and $17,000,000 cash assets. Friends of the company assert the earnings have been more than enough in the seven or eight months the company has been in operation to pay the dividend on the preferred stock for the year.

ENORMOUS INCREASE MADE.

Pittsburgh Bank Exchanges for Yesterday Over $3,000,000 Larger Than a Year Ago.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for yesterday were heavier than they have been for a long time, amounting to something more than $3,000,000, which was an increase of a little over $3,212,000 over the same day last year. Compared with the preceding Friday, there was also an increase of about $2,290,000. The local money market continues quite steady to firm, with the rate for call and time loans quoting at 5@6 per cent. The clearing house report in detail for the days mentioned are as follows:

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The subtreasury's returns of the week's transactions with New York banks show net receipts by the government on all accounts, $22,414,000; net payments by government to banks, $20,640,000; and, therefore, excess payments by banks to government of $2,774,000, against $849,000 paid by banks to government last week and $3,756,000 paid by government to banks in this week a year ago. Gold bars taken for export were $7,586,522. This is the largest withdrawal reported in any one week since the present gold overflow began. Bonds bought, $4,864,950; currency transfers, $1,790,000; pensions, $2,148,000.

Potato Situation Strong and Active

Millfeed Prices Again Advance. Fancy Apples Go Higher.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Excitement was not so much in evidence in the market yesterday, but the feeling was strong in oats, corn and millfeed, the latter taking another stride forward in quotations. Mills are all running full, but the demand for feed is so heavy there is a scarcity, and prices are very stiff. Rye was somewhat easier, shippers offering to make consignments at figures they refused to accept several days ago.

Receipts bulletined: Manchester yards, 21 cars hay, 4 do. corn, 1 do. feed, 11 do. oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 6 cars hay, 4 do. oats; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 8 cars hay, 2 do. straw, 2 do. oats; total receipts, 63 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Oat, $7 50@8 00; wheat, $7 50@8 00; rye, $8 25@8 75.

Hay—Choice timothy, $14 75@15 00; No. 1 do, $14 25@14 50; No. 2 do, $13 00@13 50; No. 3 do, $11 00@11 50; No. 1 clover, $11 00@11 50; prairie, $10 50@11 00; packing, $8 00@10 00; loose from wagon, $16 00@17 00.

Rye—Selling price, delivered, No. 2 Michigan, 61@62c.

Wheat—No. 2 red, winter, 68@68c f. o. b. car within radius of 80 miles of Pittsburgh.

Corn—No. 2 yellow, shelled, 69@70c; high mixed, 68@68½c; No. 3 mixed, 67@67½c; No. 2 yellow ear, 71@72c; high mixed, 68@69c; No. 2 mixed, 67@67½c.

Oats—No. 2 white, 47¾@48¼c; extra No. 3, 47@47½c; regular No. 3, 47c.

Millfeed—Middlings, No. 1 white, $25 00@26 00 per ton; No. 2, $24 00@24 50; brown, $22 00@23 00; bran, $22 00@22 50.

Groceries.

Reports from the wheat centers yesterday were of more quiet conditions, with the market easier, and flour remained unchanged. Quotations are being held fairly steady, but showing no disposition to go any higher, dealers being satisfied to keep the tone of the market dropping. Primary coffee markets were weaker, under the influence of disappointing European cables, and refiner prices declined in the crop country; nevertheless, local jobbers cling to the belief that these times of depression are only temporary, and that general conditions are favorable for the coming of higher prices is inevitable, and sure to take place. So far quotations here are uncharged. Navy beans are ruling firm at quotations, with supplies comparatively light and moderately. Refined sugar remains quiet, with trade about an average for the season.

Flour—Jobbers' price: Fancy spring patents, $3 90@4 10; fancy winter patents, $3 70@3 80; straight winter, $3 40@3 50; fancy spring, $3 00@3 00; rye, $3 15@3 60; graham, $4 25@4 50; commeal, bbl, $3 75; 10-lb cotton bags, 21 cents.

Sugar—Standard granulated, 4.90c; fine granulated, bbl, 100-lb and 25-lb jute bags, 4.50c; 60 2-lb cartons and 20 5-lb cotton bags, 5.05c; powdered, 5.00c; powdered xxxx, 5.15c; cubes, 5.15c; loaf, 5.30c; confectioners' A, 4.70c; No. 2 spot white, 4.55c; No. 4 do, 4.45c; No. 7 yellow, 4.20c; No. 8 do, 4.10c; No. 9 do, 4.05c. (Quotations are f. o. b. cars New York, which gives 5c per 100 lbs above these quotations.)

Cereals—Rolled oats, bbls, $5 00; kegs, $2 65; package, $2 25@3 25. Oatmeal, bbls, $5 50; kegs, $2 90.

Molasses—Fancy refined, 30@32c; choice do, 26@28c; prime do, 22@25c; new open kettle, 40@41c; fancy sugar syrups, 24@25c; sugar cane, 22@24c; syrup in 2½-lb tin cans, $1 00 per doz.

Salt—No. 1, $1 00 per bbl; No. 1 extra, $1 10; dairy, $1 30; granulated rock, 55c sack.

Coffee—Roasted, bulk Rio, 10½@12c; Santos, 22½@23½c; Maracaibo, 17@17½c; Peaberry, 17 @18½c; Caracas, 19½@20c; Java and Mocha, 30½@31½c; standard brands, 1-lb pkgs, 11.80c (with rebate of ¾c delivered to retailers); high grades, 1-lb pkgs, 13.90c.

Beans—Prime marrowfat, bu, $2 75@2 85; pea or navy, $2 00@2 15; do red kidney, bu, $2 80@2 85; lima beans, 6½c.

Peas—Split, 4½@5c; Scotch, per bu, $1 50@1 55; split peas, bbl, $5 85; less, 5c per lb.

Oil—Carbon, 110 degs, 9½c; headlight, 10c; water white, 10½c; Elaine, 14c; Ohio W. W. test, 10c; miners' Lewis, 9@9½c; special brands, 26@43c; prime refined, 26c; linseed, 58c.

Canned Goods.

Canned goods prices continue unchanged, with trade in vegetables only moderate, but prices firmly held. Demand for fruits is large, on account of holiday trade. The market is without special feature of any kind, and no immediate price changes are expected.

Standard 2lb peaches, $2@$2 25; gallon; pie peaches, $2 50@3 00; California L. C. peaches, $1 60@2 35; Maryland peaches, $1 20@1 75; California Y. S., $1 80@2 00; corn, fancy brands, 90c@$1 00; corn, 85½@85c; California cherries, white, $2 00@2 25; lima beans, $1 20@1 40; soaked lima beans, 75@80c; string do, 65@$1 25; marrowfat peas, 95c@$1 10; early June peas, $1 00@1 30; soaked peas, 55@60c; New York corn, 3-lb cans, $1 25; Bolted, $1 75@2 00; sardines, domestic, ¼s, $3 25@3 50; mustards, ½s, $2 70; French, $7 00@14 25; oysters, 1-lb full weight, $1 00@1 35; 2-lb full weight, $1 80; 1-lb lunch, flat cans, $1 10.

Dried Fruits.

Advices to New York from the Pacific coast intimate that a movement is on foot looking to the purchase by a syndicate of dealers in the large eastern markets of the unsold holdings of the association of 1900 growers. If the deal were done the market for new crop prunes would be materially strengthened. The currant situation is still very strong, owing to the concentration of supplies in primal hands. Raisins are very firm in selling, but mostly in small lots. Local trade in both raisins and currants is active.

Evaporated apricots, in bags, 10½@11c; 25-lb boxes, 12½@13c; apples, in bulk, 9½c; 1-lb cartons, 10@11c; peaches, 8@12c; raisins, 1-lb pkgs, 9@9½c; raisins, Muscatels, 2 and 4 crown, 50-lb boxes, 7½@7¾c per lb; seedless 1-lb packages, 8@8¼c; Sultana Valencia, 7½c; raspberries, 20@27c; currants, cleaned, 5c and 50-lb packages, 8½@8¾c; California prunes, 4½@7½c.

Fruits and Produce.

There were no further developments in the potato situation yesterday, prices remaining as they were on Thursday, although some attempts were made to secure shipments from Yards. No offerings were made at $1 05, with no takers. If anything, the feeling was a little easier on the street, but prices were firmly held to the dollar line. As stated heretofore, there are large crops of potatoes in foreign countries, particularly in Germany, Scotland and Ireland, all of those having potatoes to sell; at the dollar price they can be brought here profitably, freight on them amounting to but little, as they come as ballast in the transporting vessels, a duty of 20 cents being the important item in their importing. Any secent of price of a point which above $1 per bushel would be of but short duration, lasting no longer than the length of time it would take to get consignments here from abroad. Barring the above, the market is ruling about as high in sympathy with the potato market. New beets are now arriving from the south, and are offering at 40c to 50c per dozen. Apples are much higher, the demand for fancy being about exhausted, and storage now coming out. String beans are easier.

Apples—Common, $2 50@3 50 per bbl; fancy, $4 00@5 00; choice, $3 50@4 00 per box. $1 75@2 00.

Cucumbers—Hothouse, $1 00@1 25.

Carrots—Per bbl, $1 25@1 50; ton, $16 00@18 00.

Potatoes—On track, per bu, 90@$1 00; carloads, $1 00@1 10; Fancy from store, $1 10@1 15; Virginia sweet potatoes, per bbl, $2 00; Jersey sweets, fancy, $3 00@3 50; Jersey sweets, medium, $1 75@2 00.

Cabbage—Per doz, 50@60c; German sauer, $2 00@3 00; red, per bbl, $2 00@2 25.

Leeks—Per doz, 50@60c.

Parsnips—Per bbl, $1 75@2 00; ton, $23 00@25 00.

Beets—Per bbl, $2 25@2 50; ton, $28 00@30 00; new beets, per dozen, 40@50c.

Parsley—Per doz, 10@12½c.

Cauliflower—Half bu chips, 40@50c; bbl, $2 00@2 50.

Mushrooms—Per lb, 55@60c.

Radishes—Per doz, 15@25c.

Tomatoes—Florida, 6-basket carriers, $2 50@3 00.

Green onions—Per doz, 15@20c; New Orleans Shallottes, 45@50c doz.

Lettuce—Pomegrove, per doz, 40@50c; hothouse, 20@30c; per basket; head lettuce, bbl, $4 00@5 00; Endive, $4 50@5 00.

Green beans—Per bu, $2 50@3 00; wax beans, per bu, $2 50@3 00.

Florida pepper plant—Per box, $3 50@4 00.

Garlic—Per lb, 7@8c.

Squash—Hubbard, per bbl, $2 50@3 00; marrows, per bbl, $2 00@2 25; cocoa, $1 50@2 00.

Cranberries—Per crate, $2 25@2 75; per bbl, $7 50@9 00.

Spinach—Per bu, 50@60c.

Strawberries—California, per pint, 40@50c.

Grapes—Catawbas, pony baskets, 13@14c.

Honey—White comb, 15@17c; New York white clover, 17@18c; buckwheat, 11@12c.

Cider—New sweet apple juice, $8 00@8 50@$ 5 00; old sharp apple juice, bbl, $1 50@3 00; choice crabapple, bbl, $5 00@6 00; refined apple juice, gal, 12@15c; pure grape juice, 25@30c; mixed, per bbl, $5 75@6 00

GOOD CAUSE FOR THANKSGIVING

Country Makes Unprecedented Strides Toward International Supremacy.

IDLE WHEELS ARE THE EXCEPTION

Transportation Facilities Are Still Taxed Beyond the Ability of Railroads to Handle the Traffic. Trades in Other Lines Excellent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Never before in the history of the United States was there such great reason for a day of national thanksgiving. This country has made unprecedented strides toward a position of international supremacy, not only in commerce, but also in finance. To a marked degree business enterprises have proved successful. An idle wheel in mills or factories is the exception, while labor is so well employed at high wages that consumptive demands sustain market values of all staple commodities. Transporting facilities have been unable to keep pace with the nation's requirements, many complaining of tardy deliveries which alone act as a brake on commercial progress. By closing lake navigation lower temperatures will relieve the railway situation, thousands of cars being restored to inland traffic. This same factor of seasonable weather stimulates retail dealings, and prompt collections swell bank exchanges.

Careful search discloses few unfavorable factors in the iron and steel situation. Probably the least satisfactory conditions are found at plate mills, which report an uneven distribution of orders. A few large concerns appear to secure the bulk of new business, but heavy orders for cars will largely expand the buying, while the new combination will put this class of mills on a stronger basis. In rails there is no apparent limit to the orders placed, though some mills are unable to guarantee delivery within a year. One Pittsburgh report places the year's output of structural material at 600,000 tons. After six months of more or less interruption all machine shops and kindred plants at San Francisco have fully resumed, and it is certain that the greatest force on record is now engaged in the various departments of iron and steel making. Raw material at the south has advanced, but at central points pig iron is steadily though rapidly absorbed.

Eastern footwear manufacturers are now generally insisting on small advances when new contracts are placed, but large jobbers resist the upward tendency, and the continued strength of leather will necessitate depreciation of quality if higher prices are not paid. Sole leather is remarkably well sustained with stocks scarce, and upper leather is also firm, although in better supply. Concessions in Chicago slaughter hides have been general, but dry hides are half cent higher.

Cotton relapsed into dullness with barely steady quotations, in marked contrast to the exceptional activity and strength of the same week in 1900, when prices were $11.25 a bale higher. Foreign markets are held down by Mr. Neill's large estimate of the domestic crop, which is not likely to prove as near the fact as his excessively low prediction last year. Losses have undoubtedly been severe in many states, while prosperity in all other regions must bring a vigorous demand for goods, which is already perceptible in the activity of spinners. British exports of cotton goods are much larger than they were a year ago, and domestic shipments to China have also increased of late.

Return of Fall River prices for prints to a normal position promises activity, especially with the wage scale also settled. These influences are all most favorable for the raw material. Wool has continued active and firm in price, despite returns indicating that the domestic clip was the largest since 1894. Boston shipments reached a new high record.

Strength is the rule in the markets for farm products. Favorable weather during the closing days of corn harvesting failed to bring any reaction from the highest price level in many years, and the market was equally obliterous to Atlantic exports for the week of only 450,424 bushels as against 3,836,666 a year ago. After some weeks of gradual decline toward a normal position, pork products suddenly bounded upward, regardless of weakness in live hogs.

Wheat holds at about 3 cents above last year's prices, despite the marked difference in size of crops. Receipts for the week were 7,481,529 bushels as against 4,728,100 a year ago, while the export movement is equally gratifying, especially from ports on the Pacific. Total shipments from the United States for the week were 5,040,417 bushels against 2,696,776 last year. Speculation in coffee has resumed normal proportions.

Failures for the week numbered 218 in the United States against 238 last year and 311 in Canada against 29.

BANK CLEARINGS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The following table, compiled by Bradstreet, shows the bank clearings at the principal cities of the United States and Canada for the week ended November 14, 1901, with the percentage of increase and decrease, as compared with the corresponding week last year:

Needless Scare Over Passes.

Considerable interest was raised in this city yesterday by a dispatch from Columbus announcing that general passenger agents of the Central Traffic territory lines in session there had agreed to abolish all passes of whatever kind. The truth of the matter is that the Columbus meeting consisted merely of the executive committee of the Central Passenger association, which has no authority to act upon the pass question. That matter is still in the hands of the presidents of the interested lines. While it is practically certain that all the principal lines in the Trunk line and central territories will abolish exchange passes and also become more strict on other forms of free transportation, the matter has not been finally settled. A meeting called for New York on December 4, at which the presidents are expected to settle all the details of the matter, will enable the first authoritative announcement to be made.

Will Meet Early Next Week.

Chairman John Eaton of the Chamber of Commerce committee on railroads and transportation returned yesterday after several days of absence from the city. He said he will call a meeting of the committee on Monday or Tuesday of the coming week and the matter of freight facilities would be taken up at once. A large number of letters have been received by the committee answering the questions addressed to shippers as to the causes of the trouble and the remedies to be applied.

Shops at Defiance, O.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad is said to have a proposition ready to submit to Defiance, O., councils for erecting in that city large shops for the manufacture of cars and locomotives. It has been known for some time that that railroad has under contemplation a move of this kind, and several cities on that part of the system hoped it would be chosen there. The plans for the shops are in the hands of E. D. Casanave, general superintendent of motive power.

Excursion to Wheeling Tomorrow.

Train leaves B. & O. R. R. depot 8:40 a. m. Fare $1.50 round trip. 1116zh

WABASH PUTS AN AGENT HERE

W. D. HOLLIDAY WILL LOOK AFTER LOCAL FREIGHT INTERESTS

Brother-in-Law of President Ramsey Leave Service of the Big Four at St. Louis and Comes to Pittsburgh—Pass Action at Columbus Was Only a Flash in the Pan, After All.

W. D. Holliday, assistant general freight agent of the Big Four at St. Louis, will come to Pittsburgh December 1 as assistant general freight agent of the Wabash and Wheeling & Lake Erie railroads.

Mr. Holliday is well known here, first because he was born and brought up

W. B. HOLLIDAY,
Newly Appointed Assistant General Freight Agent of the Wabash and Wheeling & Lake Erie at Pittsburgh.

in this state and has had business relations with many Pittsburghers, and secondly because Mrs. Holliday was formerly a Pittsburgh woman and is a sister of President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash.

The new Wabash official was born at Bellwood and entered railroad service there in 1880 as agent for the Bell's Gap railroad, rising in five years to be acting freight and passenger agent of that road. For the two years, from 1885 to 1887, he was in the claim department of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton at Cincinnati and then for three years was commercial agent at the same city for the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw. For a year he was assistant to the general manager of the Colorado Coal & Iron Company, and the next year served as general agent of the Big Four at Sandusky, O. He received the appointment of assistant general freight agent of the Big Four at St. Louis in 1892.

This evening his railroad friends at St. Louis will tender him a banquet at which a large number of the prominent traffic and executive officials of St. Louis lines will be present. His departure for the east has occasioned much regret.

Wabash to Go After Franchise.

Although nothing official is obtainable it is learned that there will be a move on the part of the Wabash management before long toward the desired franchise in this city. The start will likely be made in a respectful letter to the city councils asking for the passage of the ordinance that for seven months has been pigeonholed by the sub-committee on corporations.

Chairman John Paul of the sub-committee when asked for the reason for holding up the ordinance was decidedly uncommunicative. He said it was "all right;" that the committee understood the Wabash and the Wabash understood the committee. As to the public understanding the situation, he did not say. Meanwhile all the work on the Pittsburgh part of the line that can be done is going forward. The caisson for the big pier at the river's edge below Water street will be placed in position in a few days and the pier built as rapidly as possible.

RAILROAD NOTES.

James Prendergast yesterday took charge of the Glenwood shops of the Baltimore and Ohio as master mechanic.

The American Bridge Company has been awarded the contract for reconstructing the bridge of the Baltimore and Ohio across the Ohio river from Benwood to Bellaire.

Senator Stephen G. Elkins of West Virginia, who succeeds Senator Cullom as chairman of the interstate commerce committee, is urging upon the president the need of revising the rules of that commission.

Among the prominent railroad men in the city yesterday were General Passenger Agent T. A. Miller and General Eastern Agent W. S. Howell of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and General Passenger Agent B. N. Austin of the Baltimore and Ohio at Chicago.

10,000 Men's Suits and Overcoats at .. $6.50

This vast assortment covers practically the entire range and realm of medium quality Clothing. And remember, these garments have nothing in common with the goods offered elsewhere at or about this price. Every Suit or Overcoat is guaranteed to equal anything offered anywhere for a $10 bill, or money refunded. They are not only made from PURE WOOLENS, but sewed, lined, trimmed and finished in a way that would do credit to much higher price goods. All sizes to fit men of all proportions.

12,000 Men's Suits and Overcoats at .. $10

This gives you choice from more than twenty tables, all loaded high with Men's Choice Suits and Overcoats. The variety is limited by Fashion only, from the most conservative and sedate to the swellest and nobbiest. The materials are Pure Wool, Dyed in the wool, skillfully cut and honestly put together—ideal garments for business wear. We guarantee them fully equal, if not superior to the $15 goods of other houses. If this claim won't be substantiated by your own comparison, come back and get your money refunded.

We Make a Specialty of Very Finest Clothing---$15 to $30

No use going to a tailor, with such high-class garments ready for you to select from and put on and wear on the spot. Of course, there are always some men, who for one reason or another, prefer to have their Clothes made to order; and our excellent Merchant Tailoring Department is at their disposal, but for all intents and purposes, for the man who wants a faultlessly tailored and perfectly fitting Suit or Overcoat, and wants it for about half what his tailor would charge him, our best Ready-to-Wear Clothing, ranging from $15 to $30, is THE thing.
